"The Little Minister" as put on by this team, is one of the best sketches ever presented at the river park. Another pleasing team were lines and Ryan, who introduced several new songs n their sketch. They are above the average, Mr. Innes' voice being particularly good. Babe Lund, a talented little artist, made a decided hit with her songs and monologue. She is a chic, graceful, happy, little lady. Gennette Brooks did no arrive in the city until 8 p. m., and in spite of the fact that she was tired by her long ride, she vent on without a rehearsal, and captivated her audience by her charming rendition of several new songs. Vice and Viola also received a liberal share of applause with their clever singing and dancing act. The Musical Society Orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. Fred Evans, introduced two new overtures, and did their share to make last night's performance one of the best of

THE CAUSE OF A RENDERING To the Editor of The Advertiser: As your readers have heard a great deal for some time about the Arscott rendering works, I thought it may do no harm at least to hear something on the other side. May I ask who is responsible for there being a rendering works? Is it a business that a man may create and carry on without the action or habits of the general com-The facts are the people remunity? sponsible for the rendering works are the people who consume the enormous quantities of the tid bits and choice cuts and delicate portions of the slaughtered animals brought to market, while the rough and bony parts and extra fat are left on the butchers' hands as a waste product. If this waste had to be buried then the butchers would have to charge the loss on the edible parts of the meat. How is this waste handled? When the butcher brings his meat to market the heaith officer is supposed to see that it is all fresh and fit for food. If that is the case then the fat and rough meat and bones should be and are as fresh as the meat a fastidious public consumes. A visit to the meat market will discover the tallow, meat and bones loaded on a wagon on its way to the renfore the choice cuts of the meat are ready to be cooked in the citizens' kitchens. Mr. Gray-don seems to think that unless a lot of street the other day lost the lease of no use. We do not deny that the wall proposed by Mr. Graydon would be all right, but we are of the opinion that a wall not nearly so thick would answer just as well, and it can be put up for less than $7 per cubic yard. Mr. Hamilton and since the revenue on $7,000 lost. Take again, the steam whistle nuisance—universal—but nothing done to stop it, according to law.
