Draft Report of H. L. Seymour May Be Up For Discussion Then.

A session of the town planning commission will be held on Wednesday, August 19, according to present plans of the chairman, Alderman Ed. Smith. This meeting will deal with all town planning matters requiring attention up to that time, and there is also a possibility that the draft report of City Planner H. L. Seyour will also be brought discussion at this meeting. This has not yet been definitely decided. The original intention was to post pone discussion of the report until the fall, but the chairman, after ob-serving conditions in other cities and towns in which he has sojourne recently, is now more than ever con-vinced of the need for adopting some olan for London's future growth without any unnecessary delay, and thinks the Seymour plan should be put into final shape as quickly as

"Every time I return to London after even a brief absence," Ald. Smith stated this morning, "I experience a feeling of the keen st satisfaction of the advantages we enjoy in this city. When I see our wide boulevards, green lawns and shady avenues I realize that we have a heritage which any city might well envy. We would be very foolish not not only control future growth but for all varieties of races. will also insure a continuance of the advantages we already enjoy.

Rev. R. E. McAllister Reads Report of Progress Made in This City.

Business sessions of the Pentecos tal assembly, eastern conference, be gan in earnest this morning at the Pentecostal assembly hall, Dundas street, G. A. Chambers, Kitchener president of the general conference is presiding at the assembly here which is attended by more than 80 delegates from Ontario, and other eastern provinces.

Reception of the report of Rev. R E. McAllister, London, secretarytreasurer of the eastern conference and secretary of the general conference, and discussion as to the formation of a Pentecostal Bible school for the training of ministers in the dominion took up the time of the con vention this morning.

Rev. H. E. Ward, Toronto, discusses the subject, "Workers, Old and Young," this afternoon, to be followed by a round table talk, while this evening, Rev. C. E. Baker, Montreal, will conduct a special divine healing service.

Tomorrow's program calls for general business at the morning session, a talk on foreign missions by Mr.

McAllister in the afternoon and an McAllister in the afternoon and an address by Rev. A. E. Stuernagel, St. Rose, Cal., at the evening meeting. Bible School Talked.
