An Easy Win For the Navy

Sallors Defeat the Civilians in a Cricket Match at Esquimalt.

Bowling of the Navy Men Was Too Much For the Victorians.

In yesterday afternoon's return cricket Toronto Oarsman to Row Towns Next match at the Canteen grounds, the

The features of the game were the splendid batting of Lieut. Le Fann and Lieut. Prentis, for the Navy, and B. Schwengers' deadly bowling for the civilian team. He took four wickets with four successive balls. The civilian leaven were unable to come with the woods and the James Bays, which pre-

Incertainty of the Wind Causes Much Trouble for Amateurs.

On Sunday afternoon two yachtsmen took advantage of the favorable breeze and went for a cruise in a well-known local yacht. All went well until the yacht was headed for home. Then suddenly the topsail carried away and knocked one of the yachtsmen overboard. He managed to scramble aboard before the yacht could leave him astern and the topsail was hoisted and set After travelling about a mile the wind began to drop and when the yachtsmen thought of rowing home they found that their oars had been lost overboard, probably during the excitement when one of Today. Steamer Amur returned from the North early this morning. She brought 65 passengers, but few of those who arrived brought gold. Passengers state that the Amur grounded two hours and a half after leaving Skagway. She sett the Lynn canal port at 9 p.m. and touched at 11:30 p.m., getting off without erious damage at 12:15.
