An appication from Yale for membership was favorably acted upon. A constitution based on that of the National Amateur Lacross association was dictiesed and adopted. The most import nt work before the convention was the adoption of a set of playing rules for the game. The existing rules were considerably simplified, so as to adapt them to the conditions necessary for a college association. The chief changes made were as regards fouls and the powers of unpires and referee: Punishments for fouls were specified, as well as the p naity for fort red games. Officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: President, Noble, '84, Harvard: vice president, Cottle, Yale; secretary treasurer, Hodge, '83, Princeton, An executive committee was a so appointed which is to arrange the dates of matches.
