

A WOMAN'S PROBLEM

In the looking-glass a woman often sees wrinkles, hollow circles under eyes, "crow's feet,"—all because she did not turn to the right remedy when worn down with these troubles which are distinctly feminine, a headache, nervousness, lassitude, nervousness and drains upon vitality—being untold suffering to womanhood and the face shows it. The nervous system and the entire womanly make-up feels the tonic effect of

The Progress of

Dairying in Canada.

Conditions affecting the marketing end of the dairy industry in Canada have undergone rapid changes during recent years. In the past it has been the custom to estimate the growth of the industry on the export trade. This however has become an entirely unreliable guide because Canada no longer has butter to spare but on the other hand finds it necessary to import from other countries. Cheese exports too have greatly decreased. These facts were brought to the attention of the Select Standing Committee on Agriculture and Colonization during the past session of Parliament by Mr. J. A. Riddick, Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner, who showed very clearly that the industry is not losing ground but is making steady progress. It was brought out that the Canadian people are consuming relatively more milk and milk products than heretofore and that an increasing quantity of milk is being manufactured into condensed milk, casein and other products. During the course of Mr. Riddick's evidence he gave out a great deal of interesting information concerning the tendency of the industry. This has now been printed in a pamphlet of fourteen pages for free distribution to all who apply for it to the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.

No Need to "Hold the Phone."

(Chambers' Journal.)
There is a sound magnifying trumpet of flat shape, behind which is a small attachment intended to support the telephone receiver. When it becomes necessary to hold the line, either when calling up or replying, instead of the person standing with the receiver glued to his ear, he places the receiver upon the time saver, bringing the earpiece into position with the sound magnifier. He is then at liberty to resume his duties until such time as the person required at the opposite end states his instrument. Being notified by the speech transmitter being magnified by the time saving device so as to be perfectly audible at a distance. The receiver may then either be withdrawn and held to the ear in the usual way, or left in connection with the magnifier, hearing being quite as simple and easy as under normal conditions. Another advantage of the invention is that the user's two hands are left free to carry out any other requisite task, such as the turning up of documents, making references, writing down messages or instructions from dictation, and so on.

A Missouri Pacific agent in Arkansas tells the following: "A man presented himself at the ticket window and asked the fare to Atkins, Ark. I told him it was $3.00. He said he had only a $2.00 bill, but could easily raise the other dollar. When he returned with the three dollars and asked how he got the other dollar, he said, 'I went to the pawn-brokers and pawned the $2.00 bill for $1.50. Then I sold the pawn ticket for $1.50. While you are making out the ticket kindly tell me who is out the dollar?' The agent afterward said that he had wrestled with the 47th problem of Euclid dragged through quadratics in algebra, worked on 'How old is Ann?' but the question was too much for him.—Ex.

He Has Never Smoked Another

"What I admire most in a man," said Johnson, "is the power of self-denial. Now, take smoking," he continued, "lazily filling his pipe and gazing round at the rest of the party grouped in front of the fire. 'It's a useless habit, and yet not one of you men could give it up. You haven't got the strength of mind.' At this there arose a storm of dissent. One man had left it off once for a whole twelve-month, and only resumed it under medical advice. Another had gone without tobacco for two years, and would back himself to do the same again if the bet was big enough; and so on, until a Yankee who was present broke in. 'I knew a feller down in Nebraska,' he remarked, 'who smoked twenty ounces of tobacco every day for twenty-seven years, and then gave it up at a minute's notice, and never touched it again.' 'Fact, I do assure ye,' he resumed, as a murmur of unbelief arose. 'He was jest lightin' his pipe, when something cum to him, and from that day to this he's never smoked another.' 'Marvellous instance of will-power,' said one. 'Extraordinary strength of mind,' exclaimed another. 'What determination,' cried a third. And then the Yankee spoke again, gazing meditatively into the fire while. 'Yes, it were strange,' he said. 'Friend of mine, too, so I know it's true. He were sittin' on top of a barrel of blasting powder at the time, an' the head of his match dropped through the bung-hole!'

WATER FOR HEALTH.

Drink at Least Three Pints a Day to Keep in Good Condition.

"It's queer," said a medical man to the writer, "how few people drink the amount of water they should to insure good health. You should take at least three pints daily."

"In the first place, you lose by perspiration and evaporation in the breath about two pints a day of the water you take into the system, and about another pint goes to help keep the blood in order and the skin glands and joints, etc., sufficiently moist. Milk is not of much use to replace this, as it is mainly a food. Tea and coffee are not advisable drinks, because they contain a nerve destroying drug (caffeine). Cocoa, again, is more of a food than a drink, and alcohol—well, the less said about that the better."

"The only drinks we have left, then, are mineral waters and plain water. Too much mineral water is not good; but plain water contains no harmful drugs or minerals and, moreover, is nature's own product. If you drink sufficient of it the skin will be kept clear of pimples, rashes and sores, the blood will be purer and nature will see to it that sufficient water is mingled with it so that it circulates normally and not sluggishly because it is thick with impurities."

"Take a half pint glass of water at a time. One in the morning on rising, one after breakfast, one after dinner, one during the afternoon, one after tea and one before retiring—total, three pints."—London Answers.

RAILWAY TRAVEL IN SYRIA.

They Have a Free and Easy System on Some of the Roads.

They have a curious way of managing some railways in Syria. Wary of much riding, a party of travelers on their way to Beirut resolved one day to go by train. They arrived at a primitive station, but could find no station master.

Presently, however, one of the camp followers arrived, looked about and, spying a small red flag lying on the platform, made off with it along the line. When a train came in the man waved his flag, the engine driver pulled up, and the travelers got in.

Later, while the train was puffing on its way, the guard came along the footboard and issued the tickets, carefully noting down the names, nationality and occupations of the passengers. Two stations farther on they got out, and here there was not only a station-master, but a porter, and the latter stayed with them all day in an orchard till the camp arrived, meanwhile feeding them with honey, from the comb.

Where else, one wonders, could such a charming railway system be found?—Wide World Magazine.

Sunday Theatricals.

Sunday theatricals had a rough time of it at one period of England's history. On Sunday, Sept. 27, 1631, Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream" was privately performed in the bishop of Lincoln's house in London. The Puritans had the affair inquired into, and there is a suspicion of humor in the punishment awarded to the performer of Bottom, the weaver—"We do order that Mr. Wilson, as he was a special plotter and contriver of this business and did in such a brutish manner act the same with an ass' head, shall upon Tuesday next from 6 o'clock in the morning till 6 o'clock at night sit in the porter's lodge at my lord bishop's house with his feet in the stocks and attired with an ass' head and a bottle of hay before him and this subscription on his breast:

"Good people, I have played the beast And brought ill things to pass. I was a man, but thus have made Myself a silly ass."

Borneo's Tobacco Fields.

Tobacco is the chief product in North Borneo, and as land produces but one crop of tobacco in seven to nine years new fields must be cleared every year. After the jungle is cut and burned an army of Chinese coolies is turned on the land with hoes to dig it and prepare it for planting. No plows are used. The young tobacco plants are set out by hand and kept clean with hoes. It is necessary for a tobacco planter to possess thousands of acres of uncultivated land in reserve and to employ 500 to 1,000 coolies.

While returning from London one day last week on the evening train, George Mitchell sold a bottle of whiskey which he had purchased in the city, to a well-known resident of our town for one dollar. The purchaser, who never indulges in the strong stuff, bought the liquor supply to keep Mitchell, who had already had several drinks to the good, from indulging any more. The case was reported to Chief Wilson and shortly afterwards Mitchell appeared before P. M. Noble charged with the illegal sale of liquor. He acknowledged his guilt and was fined $100 and costs. The innocent purchaser of the whiskey, feeling that he was as much to blame as Mitchell, contributed $50.00 towards payment of the fine.—Strathroy Dispatch.
