So great is the depression in the Atlantic steam trade that three, if not four, of the great companies have retired upon fortnightly instead of weekly sailings between Liverpool and America. Of course, this arrangement, unfortunately, involves the discharge of a large number of persons.

A Port Jervis despatch announces the drowning of a whole family, consisting of Orin Boyd, wife and two children, at Fisher's Eddy, on the east branch of the Delaware River, near Hancock. He was fording the river when one of the horses fell, dragging them down, upsetting the wagon and throwing all into the river. Mrs. Boyd's body was recovered, but none of the rest.

The heroine of the Centennial year is Mrs. Hannah Stover, of Bowdoinham, Sagadahoc County, Maine. She was the same hour when the great bell was ringing out the news of the Declaration of Independence from the old hall in Philadelphia. At last accounts she was in good health, and hoped to be able to participate with others in celebrating the hundredth anniversary of the nation's birth.

The London papers publish the following:—King Dalhousie's reported invitation to Commodore Hewitt to come to Dalhousie and receive payment of the fine imposed upon him for maltreating a British subject in powder and bullets, appears to have been accepted, and orders have been given for assembling a fleet at Whydah to take active proceedings if the fine be not forthcoming. An opportunity, however, will be given the King to change his present attitude and hostilities will be postponed until June or later.

The diamonds presented as a bridal present to Mrs. Fitch, daughter of Gen. Sherman by the Khedive of Egypt, have been in the New York Custom-house since their reception on account of the enormous duty of $40,000, which the young people were unable to pay. They declined to ask Congress to release them from this burden. The Senate, however, has week passed a resolution removing the duty, and if the House concurs Mrs. Fitch will receive her Oriental treasure, the taxes on which will be greater than her husband's income. How often are overzealous friends our worst enemies.

Mrs. Mary Ford, wife of Augustine Ford of the N. Y. Irish World, and well known through the country, as a poetess under the nom de plume of "Una," has died at her residence in Brooklyn.

New Buildings.—There are a number of new buildings being built in this town, during the present summer. Mr. Washington Chesley is now engaged erecting another to the block already built by him. Mr. Warden Beckwith is planning a collar on the premises recently built by him, where the Chas. Hoyt house formerly stood, and intends putting up a residence for himself. Mr. Hoyt Foster is building one near the Great Mill owners, by him, and Messrs. Charles and Benjamin Chute are building a commodious farm-house, to supplant the one so long occupied by them. We hear of several others, but they are still in embryo.

INSURANCE AGENCY.—In our column will be found the advertisement of the "Isolated Risk and Farmers Fire Insurance Co.," for which Mr. Thos. Crosskill, of this town, is agent. It will be seen, that the Company referred to, has on deposit with the Dominion Government the sum of $100,000.00, for the purpose of securing those who may insure with them from any loss that may arise, that is so far any money they have paid into the Company for premiums is concerned, if the Co. should cease to do business. We thereupon cheerfully recommend our farmers and others, who are desirous of insuring their houses, barns, or implements, to do so in this Company, as we feel confident that they will be promptly paid any loss they may sustain from fire. Mr. Crosskill was agent for a time for the "Clinton Fire Insurance Company," and of which we had to warn our readers to beware. No blame ought to be attached to Mr. Crosskill for the failure of the Company, but he is at once withdrawn from their employ, when it became apparent that the Company was not what they represented themselves to be. Mr. Crosskill intends canvassing the County for insurances, and we would advise our patrons to reserve their orders for him.

Thomas W. Piper, the sexton who is under sentence of death for the murder of Little Male Young, five years old in the church belfry in Boston, has made a statement in which he declares that the child was accidentally killed. He says he raised the trap-door a time for that purpose, propping it up with a lat-stick, and on coming down the child asked what was up there, when he replied "nothing but pigeons." She asked leave to go up and he consented and followed her. He says that she knocked the lat out of place and the trap fell, catching her head and face. He took her up but finding her so terribly injured, laid her down and descended the great flight. He is also opposite to the evidence of physicians who declared that the injuries could not have been received by the falling of the trap.

In all his journeyings through the United States the Emperor of Brazil can enjoy telegraphic communication with his Government at Rio Janeiro, by means of the lines which connect with the Atlantic cable to Europe, and the cable line from Fortugal to Brazil. It is a long stretch in that way, from San Francisco to his capital, but he can send a message from his San Francisco hotel at breakfast time to his daughter, the Princess Isabel, now filling the office of regent at the palace in Rio, and get an answer from her before he has finished the perusal of his morning papers. He can thus keep his eye constantly on the affairs of his country, though he relieved himself from all cares of State before his departure on his journey. He left his Empire in excellent order, at peace with all his neighbors, and undisturbed even by the occasional troubles of two years ago.

Joseph H. Sedler and Edward Trickitt of Sydney, Australia, have signed articles of agreement to row a sculler's race from Putney to Mortlake on the 29th of June next. It is for £250 a side, and already the excitement is high. Together these men have created much interest in English aquatic circles. He is twenty-five years old, six feet three and a half inches high, weighs 175 lbs., and is a first class sculler. He is referring to the match says:—"It bids fair to be one in which the greatest interest will be taken, and we most warmly congratulate the arrangement, and wish the competitors every success, with a fair field and no favor, the best man may win."

The Christian Weekly says:—"It makes one's blood tingle at the circular issued by a firm of bloodless rascals, inviting young ladies to come on to Philadelphia, at a salary of from $12 to $15 a week nominally to attend news stands at the Centennial Exhibition, &c. They are cautioned not to say anything to their parents. This hint will be enough to every wise father and mother. God grant that, respected, and we trust will be every legislator and secular paper in the land, it will be enough to protect every fair and unsuspecting maiden."

The widow of Mosher, who was killed at Boy Ridge, Long Island, visited Westvrest in the Eastern penitentiary, Pennsylvania, Saturday, and told him that if he would tell all he knew about the kidnapping of Charles Ross, he would procure him a pardon within ten days. The prisoner denied any knowledge of the sad affair than that he went into the conspiracy in the hope of gaining the reward. Mrs. Mosher pleaded with him to make a full confession, but he stoutly asserted his innocence in the matter. The interview thus resulted fruitlessly.

Mrs. Rachel Gardner, widow of Jonathan Gardner, has died at Salem, aged 109 years 7 months and 21 days. She retained her faculties well, and withal vigor to the last of her life, and died cheerfully after her last hour. She was born September 4, 1774, at No. 10 Curtis street, and was the daughter of John and Rachel Brown. She had nine children, fifty-five great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild, the 8th generation comprising 118 persons, 81 of whom are now living.

GEORGE HUNN, Proprietor of Long's Hotel, Frederick says:—"I have used all the various Liniments in the market, all that are advertised, all that have been generally recommended, but I have found none so good for sprains, bruises, horse-pain, cuts and lacerations as SPENCER'S VERMILION LINIMENT. Mr. Hunn has been engaged in Staging for many years, and he knows whereof he speaks."

FLOUR.

IT is now certain that a considerable part of the new crop of Wheat in Canada and the United States has been harvested in a damp and unseasonable condition, and that much of the new flour will be soft, weak and unsatisfactory. It is therefore of great importance to the buyer, for damp grain makes flour of better color than dry, in consequence of leaching up part of the bran of dry wheat and admixtures with the flour—the latter making strong—while damp wheat makes runny flour. The product of old wheat, or choice sound new wheat, has become of higher value than that which looks quite as well made from moist grain, and all markets report sound grain to be scarce. The subscribers will use their experience of twenty years in the trade to procure reliable grades of Flour, preferring sound good quality, even if at a little higher cost. The following grades always in stock: Canada Superior Extra, Canada Extra, Canada Strong Dakers, Canada Fancy, Western U. S. Strong Dakers, Patent Process Flour, Minnesota Extra, OATMEAL CORN MEAL.

A particular brand for Family use always on hand, quality of which is guaranteed.
