THE CENTENNIAL

The Bridgetown Centennial has come and gone, and passed into history. That the celebration with its well arranged programme was a pronounced success is the opinion of all. In point of attendance the results were good and it is figured that at least five thousand people visited town during the week. But better than attendance merely was the hearty good will and co-operation of the citizens in exerting themselves to honor the name of Bridgetown's founder, Capt. John Crosskill, and to make the week a thoroughly enjoyable one to all the visitors arriving.

Bridgetown has had a most interesting past since the day when the esteemed captain had the vision to select so favorably situated a spot for the founding of a town, and the course of events have amply proved his wisdom. To recall and revivify this storied past has been a most appropriate move and one which has created great interest particularly among the older part of the population and among natives of the town, who now reside in other places and in other countries. It also furnished much that should be brought to the notice of the younger generation who are more or less apt to overlook or to disregard these considerations.

The prime mover in these matters was Dr. M. E. Armstrong, who by his intense interest in past history and his happy faculty of revivifying and bringing out in a most interesting form things which to many are counted dry, started and paved the way to celebration in every way worthy of the town. His indefatigable energy in arranging the broad outlines and a larger part of the details earn him deservedly the highest commendation. The hearty co-operation of the business men particularly and others in various degrees who spent time and money, care and good taste, in perfecting various details, was deserving of high praise, and many expressions of pleasure and satisfaction were received from visitors to town with whom this notable celebration will long remain as a pleasant memory.

CONCLUSION OF CENTENNIAL

and dispensed pure apple juice along the route.

Mr. E. B. Tracey, who had such a splendid modern float illustrating on Monday the products of his fine farm had for Thursday's occasion, a farm cart of 100 years ago, a two wheeled affair drawn by oxen. The wheels cut out of single tree trunks and the vegetables had not the same variety or well ordered arrangement as on the float. In these matters as in others, time brings changes.

The float of Strong & Whitman was a very dainty one in conception and coloring, and on it were two attractive little girls very pretty in white and pink, also two boys in sailor suits, and various other features, making it a distinct credit to this long established and enterprising firm whose name has long been a household word throughout this part of the Province.

Beeler & Peters had a most interesting float illustrating the business of making barrels. All adjuncts to this were present with coopers at work in the various details of construction, the whole being a credit to this well known and enterprising firm.

Edgar Bent, son of Col. C. E. Bent, was dressed in the uniform of the 1st Halifax Regiment, the uniform was the property of his great great uncle, the late Mr. James Black, of Halifax, and rode a Russian horse which has had a most interesting history. It was captured on the Eastern front during the late war and used by the Germans being finally taken to the Western theatre of action where it was captured at the battle of Arras by members of Col. C. E. Bent's famous 15th Canadian Highland Battalion. So attached had its German groom become to the horse that he wept when the animal was led away. The battalion presented it to Col. Bent, one of the most popular of all Canadian Commanders whose battalion saw much hard service from Ypres to Arras, from Cambrai to the final closing of the war. The horse was eventually brought to Canada and was in quarantine for about a year and now rejoices in the peace and quiet of the Colonel's beautiful farm in Paradise.

Indian warriors enlivened the procession.

Mr. G. O. Thies varied his handsome float on one side and two ladies in the old time street sweeper dresses and quaint bonnets, on the other side two other young ladies in up-to-the-minute attire.

The Steadance C. G. I. T. float was very prettily gotten up and most attractive.

J. H. Hicks & Sons put in their float instead of modern furniture as at first, styles of the olden days.

"Ye Olde Tyme" school was a float of great interest. Our venerable postmaster, Mr. Brown, presided over this school, made up on ancient line.

Mr. Alfred Phalen also varied his Gypsy menagerie in some features.

The whole procession created a splendid impression.

Next came an adjournment to the High School grounds where Dr. Armstrong presided. Brief addresses were delivered by Hon. H. H. Wickwire, Minister of Highways, speaking on behalf of the Provincial Government.

Mr. Placide Gaudet, Major W. G. Parsons, of Middleton, Mr. C. L. Crosskill, a great grand grandson of the town's founder. All spoke expressing their pleasure at being present and congratulated Dr. Armstrong and all associated with him on the splendid success of the Centennial Celebration.

A bronze tablet set in a granite boulder was unveiled by Mrs. George E. Boak, of Halifax, a great grand daughter of Capt. Crosskill. This bore the inscription:

To the memory of Capt. John Crosskill, R.N. Who founded the town of Bridgetown in 1822. Born 1749. Died 1826. Erected by the Town of Bridgetown at the Centennial of the Founding 1922.

The exercises preceded a baseball match on the B.A.A.A. grounds in which Kentville defeated Bridgetown 7 to 6.

From 5 o'clock till 7 there was a reception given by the ladies of Bridgetown on the grounds of Mr. E. B. Orlando who now owns the home occupied by Capt. Crosskill a hundred years ago. This beautiful historic situation with its well kept grounds and appropriate decorations with the dainty refreshments given, proved a source of pleasure to the visitors who were welcomed by Mr. Orlando as follows:

Ladies and Gentlemen: The Chairman, in his very genial manner, has made reference to my

CLEMENTSPORT

"THE QUEEN OF THE BASIN"

Mr. W. D. Chase, who, with his family, have been spending the Summer in the Jones bungalow, returned to his home in Plantville, Conn., on Monday, 11th Inst. He has become an enthusiastic citizen of the Queen of the Basin, has purchased several properties and, in fact, become one of us. We trust Mr. Chase will come very early next year and stay late until finally he settles here for good. Mrs. Chase and the boys will remain for some weeks yet in the bungalow.

On Thursday, Sept. 7th, an auction was held in the Mrs. Reginald Shaw house. There were quite a number present. Mr. S. J. Porter was auctioneer. There is always something sad about an auction. It usually means as in this case "another home broken up", and it is always missed in the community as this one will be. Miss Letitia Shaw is making her home with her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Shaw. Mr. John Shaw has advertised the house for sale.

Mrs. Glammond and daughter, of Chicago, who have been spending three weeks at Mrs. Barnes', left for home on Friday, Sept. 8th. Mrs. Glammond is an artist, and any fine morning could be seen with easel, brush and canvas out on a grassy knoll painting some of the exquisite pictures. She painted a number while here although the weather was not all favorable. We trust she will come here next year.

Those who were able to attend any part of the Centennial of "busy Bridgetown" were delighted. Your correspondent was able to take in the Thursday afternoon exercises and reception, and wishes to congratulate Dr. Armstrong and the Committee on their splendid success.

The Secretary of the Old Church Committee is in receipt of several letters expressing great interest in the recent decoration service and regret at not being able to attend. Among these, one is from Mr. E. P. Morse, of the Morse Dry Dock and Repair Co., New York.

All Saturday morning, Sept. 9th, and in the early afternoon, a perfect stream of autos went through the village "en route" Middleton to see humble self as being the owner of this occasion, and as a loyal citizen, doing my share in the celebration of the Centenary of the town. We were favored with many notable people gathered here to do us honor, and it would not be fitting for me to take up your time. I know it is your wish, and I join you in it that their stay among us will be as pleasant to them as it will be to us.

In the evening there was a meeting of the N. S. Historical Society, presided over by Judge Chisholm at which Dr. M. E. Armstrong read a splendid paper on the Early History of Bridgetown and its founder and Dr. G. E. DeWitt gave a pleasing address calling up reminiscences of fifty to seventy years ago. We hope in our next issue to make more extended references to the conclusion of proceedings in the most happy and successful celebration of the hundredth anniversary of the founding of Bridgetown.

Mothers—the surest way of keeping your little ones well and happy; whether it is the new-born babe or the growing child is to keep their bowels regular and their stomach sweet. Nine-tenths of all childhood ailments are the result of clogged bowels and sour stomach. The most necessary and the best medicine for little ones is a gentle laxative—something that will relieve constipation; sweeten the stomach and promote rest and natural sleep. Such a medicine is Baby's Own Tablets. They are a gentle but efficient laxative; are absolutely guaranteed free from opiates or other injurious drugs and may be given to the youngest infant with perfect safety. They banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers and give the baby that health and happiness which all children should have. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Mrs. J. P. Orlando was a visitor in Halifax last week and with her went her daughter, Miss Rosie, who commences a course this year at Mt. St. Vincent.

the baseball game. It seemed as if half Yarmouth was on wheels that day.

The schooner Eskimo, Capt. Burrill, after a month's trip to Boston, returned in port Thursday, Sept. 7th. Henry Ring, who was employed on her, had a bad attack of tonsillitis when he arrived but is much better.

After weeks of hard labor and with broken weather, the D.A.R. bridge has been painted. Messrs. Riley and Barkhouse will paint some tanks in Annapolis Royal before proceeding East to do more bridge work.

Wednesday was a beautiful day for the Baptist tea which was held in the Baptist Hall. It was well patronized and the returns from fancy tables, ice cream and tea tables amounted to the sum of $114.

Mr. Horace Walker, Mr. Clarence Walker, wife and family, from Boston, sons of Capt. Andrew Walker, are visiting friends and relatives. They motored through.

Capt. Joe Rawding, of Bear River, came to Clementsport on Saturday, Sept. 9th, where he will spend a few days with his son, Capt. Elias Rawding.

Canon W. H. S. Morris left Saturday 9th, for Halifax, when he preached in the Cathedral on Sunday, the 10th Inst., of Concord, New Hampshire.

Capt. and Mrs. Barkhouse who have made many friends during their stay here left for their home in Hantsport on Saturday, 9th Inst.

Schooner "King Daniel" is in again for another load of lumber for the Arena Rink, St. John, being built by Denton & Condon.

Miss Thelma left for Boston on Saturday, Sept. 9th, where she will spend the Winter attending the Somerville High School.

Mr. Wm. Morris, son of Canon Morris, came on Saturday 9th for a visit to his parents at the "Chalet".

Mrs. Alice Pines, of Upper Clements, is visiting Mrs. Elias Rawding for a few days.

Mrs. George Purdy, Upper Clements, spent the week-end with Mrs. Capt. Mussells.

"Fruit-a-tives" Cleared Her Skin

POSITIVE DR. PETER, P.Q.

"I suffered for three years with terrible Eczema. I consulted several doctors and they did not do me any good. Then, I used one box of "Sootha-Salva" and two boxes of "Fruit-a-tives" and my hands are now clear. The pain is gone and there has been no return. I think it is marvellous because no other medicine did me any good until I used "Sootha-Salva" and "Fruit-a-tives", the wonderful medicine made from fruit."
