The Victoria-Inverness Bu

An Amalgamation of and Successor to the following Local Weekly Newspapers

THE VICTORIA NEWS, of Baddeck JOURNAL-BULLETIN, of Port Hawkesbury THE

The Home Newspaper of Inverness and Victoria Counties Nova Scotia, Canada, Published every Saturday morning

Volume	XXXVI	No. 3	-1-		Printed at Truro	N. S., August 11	1934	-:-	Price Five Cents
CABOT	TRAIL	TRULY	the children to attend school in the				[Rich, flowery	fragrance
DELLGH	TTTT	TPTP	open months of the year. Under this arrangement the children abandon the	Uistan	of The Uie	bland Clane		and the second s forts.

FORD V-8 GIVES CREDITABLE PERFORMANCE OVER 600 MILE house with the winter blasts howling

TRIP

The historic Cabot Trail, wonder tourist attraction of the Island of Cape Breton, famed for its panoramic views, winding rivers, deep ravines and inhabitants replete with historical information, was the route followed by a party of local people intent upon seeing Nova Scotia first, and remaining to marvel at it : unspoiled beauty. Winding over virgin territory, unharmed by the onslaughts of man lies the Cabot Trail, a thing of beauty in itself. Cape Breton and the Province generally have derived a benefit difficult to estimate, in the farsightedness of those responsible for the building of this connecting link between two localities whose fame is far reaching as an attraction for beauty and pleasure seekers this continent over.

Blasted from solid rock, the connecting link of the trail from Pleasant Bay on the West coast to Cape North on the East coast was completed two years province. ago, opening up this scenic route for the tourist, making it possible to make a complete circuit from Baddeck to accommodations is excellent. No Baddeck in less than time nine hours. The famous drive up the coast from the ly be complete without the scenic drive over the new road to Cape North, The new constructed highway is faultless from an engineering point of view The width of this road is sufficiently wide enough for heavy motor traffic and the surface is made up of a strong bottom although not possessing the surface qualities that make a fine highway. The protecting ledges on the ravine side of the road provide a sense of security to the driver and passengers as they wend their way downward from the height.

The trip, originating at Truro, took a total of 34 hours from start to finish In that time 598 miles were covered in a driving time of less than 18 hours The automobile used was a 1934 Ford V-8 De Luxe Sedan, of the stock of Christie Motors Ltd., local dealers.

Highway conditions in the Island of *trunk roads traversed on the trip were entirely satisfactory and the condiof heavy dust clouds, the scenic value But, taking all into consideration, road mistory of the migniand clans usual trip to the seashore etc., so common to local children, in the summer months, to a pleasant three months, many days of which are spent in the No. XXXVIII. By John A. Morrison, Canso. without. Truly a decided variance from the customary vacation spent in THE BATTLE OF PRESTON our part of this country According to all information available from the inhabitants, the name ted, and formed in order of battle al-ong the brow of the hill. The courage Cabot Trail does not originate from the source, that of John Cabot, who of the royal army was greatly damped is supposed to have touched Nova by the timid, irresolute conduct of Scotia on his explorations but from a their general, in remaining on the def man of the same name Cabot, who som ensive, while his opponents manifested 100 years ago blazed a trail from Chetisuch eagerness for battle. General camp to Pleasant Bay and from there Cope's army amounted to 2100 men, to Cape North and Baddeck. Cabot and was rather inferior in numbers to made this trip alone and on foot, and the only known inhabitants of that the Highlanders were drawn up in two district at the time were the Indians Cabot was described as an adventurous person, not unlike the usual typ of tourists who make the trip over the trail in search of adventure. On some Duke of Perth's regiment and the Macdays visitors to that trail have number ed in the vicinity of one hundred persons with an average of eight to ten cars passing daily. Gasoline, brought by boat to Pleasant Bay and transferred in 25 gallon kegs is sold there for the same price as anywhere else in the

The hospitality of the Cape Breton persons operating meal and sleeping doubt one of the finest points observed on the route was the general "make Margaree to Pleasant Bay would hard- yourself at home" atmosphere that existed between the visitor and the resident.

Much credit is due to the authorities of the fine road reference service maintained. One passing through strange and unfamiliar country is blessed when able to rely accurately on road directions as to distance, etc. The wonderful system of the maintenance of road signs at regular intervals stating the designation point and the distance use of such signs as these is more noticable and more appreciated in such a tour as the Cabot Trail than anywhere else in the province. The long gradients and descents for which the trail is famous are trying on the driver of any car, and much courage can be invested in his ability to navigate the curves and steep ascents when operating a car in the best mech anical condition. It would be folly Cape Breton are all that the motorist for an unexperienced driver to attempt could ask for in clean safe roads. The the trail equipped with a car not in the best mechanical condition. Good brakes and an efficient low gear are tion of the secondary roads was sur-prisingly good. With the exception route. The grades over the trails are in the insurgent ranks, but were irof such height that an ordinary car retrievably routed, and throwing down their arms fled from the field. of the trip was unharmed by any has to proceed in low gear the greater physical or mechancial defects. So part of the time. It is impossible for far as good roads are concerned the a car to make a complete circuit of the at four hundred; while the loss on the Cabot Trail road is far from being com-pared with our main trunk highways. into intermediate gear. This is not ficers and between 30 and 40 men Stirling. That town surrendered to person but opinion of onl the many who all stated in much the same 80 privates wounded. mendable. It is regrettable that the words that "A circuit of the Cabot bridge repairs near Cheticamp have Trail in high gear is impossible." Too much cannot be said of the fine the field of battle presented an appall performance of the Ford V8 throughing spectacle of mutilated bodies. out the entire trip. The velvety action of this truly fine automobile was shown to advantage when called upon to armed with a scythe, within a few cross the rough detour on the trip and yards of his own mansion. A gallant and pious veteran-a model of a many more equally trying conditions. Our friend Mr. Aucoin, proprietor of Christian soldier-his death was great-the general store at Cheticamp, was ly lamented. The number of prisoners quite right in his statement about the taken amounted to many hundreds, trip. On leaving the above mentioned, including about seventy officers. place he was enquired of as to the condition of the road ahead. He spoke stores of the royal army, together with in rather dubious tones, due to the fact the military chest, fell into the hands that the weather was not at all promis- of the vistors. The Camerons had ing in its appearance. However when entered Edinburgh only a few hours he came out to bid us off he was heard after the battle, playing their pipes to remark" You boys should not have and displaying in triumph the colour much trouble over the trail in that car' Mr. Aucoin was quite right in the But the main body of the victoriou opinion of those present as, aside from army delayed their entrance into the a large nail picked up near Inverness, the unexperienced driver the long climb the trip was entirely free from mechanto the top of McKenzie Mountain and ical troubles of any kind. In the 600 streets of the city, displaying the prispresent many difficulties in miles covered no oil was used by the the form of sharp turns and steep grades. engine; 30 gallons of gas were used they had taken, amid the joyous ac the pibrochs played the old Jacobite tune, "The King shall enjoy his own again". The battle of Preston, which annihilated the only regular army in the kingdom, made Charles master of the whole of Scotland, with the except-The Highhanders immediately hal ion of the castles of Edinburgh and Stirling, and a few small Highland

PRINCE CHARLES INVADES ENG. LAND After spending six weeks in Edinourgh, Charles was, determined to march into England against the arguthat of Prince Charles. On the 21st, ments of his officers. "I see gentlemen he said, "you are determined to stay in Scotland and defend your country, lines: the MacDonalds, under the Duke of Perth, formed the right wing, in but I am not less resolved to try my accordance with established custom fate in England, though I should go for upwards of seven centuries; the alone". Carlisle surrendered at his approach, and he proceeded as far as gregors occupied the centre; while Derby. In the meantime three Eng-the left wing, commanded by Lord ish armies, each larger then his own, were preparing to meet him. Being George, was composed of the Camerons under Lochiel, and the Stewarts of unable to raise any recruits in England, Elcho and Balmerino, and also some Appin, led by Stewart of Ardshiel. he found it necessary to retreat into The second line consisted of the Athole Scotland, where he hoped to meet a men, the Robertsons of Struan, and reinforcement under Lord John Drumthe Maclauchlans, under Lord Nairn. mond. The Highland army com-Each chief fought in the centre of his menced their retrograde movementfrom clan, and surrounded by his principal Derby December 6th, and on their relations and officers. Their inferior way north were pursued by the Duke of Cumberland, whom they defeated rear; some of them had no other weanear Penrith. What could be more pon than the blade of a scythe fastened hazardous than to rush with such preto a long pole. When all arrangecipitation beyond the middle of England ments had been completed, Charles and to the very confines of the English capital? Chambers says:-"the expedition was done in the face of the blessing of God, I will this day make two armies, each capable of utterly you a free and happy people." The morn had now fully dawned, and the weather was such as to add a and the beams of the rising sun were thousand personal miseries to the genbeginning to illuminate the waters of eral evils of the campaign. They the estuary on their right; but the had carried the standard of Glenfinnan mist was still rolling in huge masses s hundred and fifty miles into a counis invaluable to the motorist. The over the morass on the left, and the try full of foes, and now they brought cornfields in front, for a time hiding it back unscathed through the acthe armies from each other. When cumulated dangers of storm and war. the Highlanders charged, the left wing, Whatever may be said of the adcomposed of the Camerons and Stew-arts, had the start of the other div-march into England against the arions; and with a tremendous yell guments of Donald Cameron, still armies. It was here the royal army the Camerons threw themselves, with irresistible impetuosity, upon the glit-as "the gentle Lochiel," distinguished tering ranks of their enemies. The for his personal prowess and social ing between three and four hundred artillerymen of the enemy fled, the virtues; against the arguments of the men killed and wounded, about one hundragoons were seized with panic, rode gallant Lord George Murray, and ofover the artillery guard, and galloped ficers of the Highland army, who had from the field; the royal infantry, no fallacy of vision as to the "throw of stood their ground for a brief space, among the achievements of military

THE BATTLE OF FALKIRK.

Finding that Edinburgh was now in The number of royalist slain was estimated possession of the royalist troops, Charles, joined by Lord John Drummond ficers and between 30 and 40 men Stirling. him, and he laid siege to the castle. killed. 5 officers and between 70 and Almost all the He, however, left several battalions, slain on the royalist side were est down by the broadsword and scythe siege of the castle; and supposed from information he received that General Hawley would have advanced and offered him battle; but seeing no ap-Colonel Gardiner, of the rolyalist pearance of him, put his army in motforces, was cut down by a Highlander on towards Falkirk, a town finely situated on rising ground, and over looking an expansive "Carse" (a term applied to low lands and adjoining rivers), through which the river Forth flows, with its beautiful landscape and devious winding body of water., On The the evening of January 16th, 1746, Charles ordered the different detachments of his army to concentrate upor Pleanmoor, about seven miles from Falkirk, and two miles to the east of Ban nockburn, where his headquarters were About mid-day, the following day, Charles again put his army in motion and when the Highlanders came in sight of the water of Carron, the town of Falkirk, and the enemy's camp, also pened upon their view.

which formed the right wing, of Lord Ogilvy's regiment of two battali Lewis Gordon, also of two battalions which formed the left of the line. At the distance of about twenty yards in the rear of the second line, the princ was stationed with some horse and foot and was joined before the commence ment of the action by Lord John Drum mond, with a large body of horse, the Irish piquets and the other troops Some of the horse guards under Lords of the hussars, who were on the right of the prince. On the opposite extrem-ity of the left of the prince, Lord Pitsligo's and Kilmarnock's horse were stationed.

THE GREETINGS, of Port Hood

THE NEWS, of Inverness

The infantry of the royal army was also formed in two lines, with a body of reserve in the rear. The right of the royal army was commanded by Majorgeneral Huske, the centre by Hawley himself, and the left by Brigadier Choldragoons on the left were under the immediate command of Lieutenantvas stationed on the extreme left. Hamilton's dragoons were posted on the right, and Cobham's in the centre. The Jacobite army, following a race ained the summit of the high ground, a moor, facing the east. The Royalists, under General Hawley, stood a little lower, with their backs towards the town of Falkirk, a narrow ravine lying between the centre of the opposing were completely routed in the course of twenty minutes battle, Hawley leav men killed and wounded, about one hunseveral standards, a large quantity of military stores, with all the baggage of the Highlanders. The loss on the side of the insurgents was estimated at about forty men, with near double that number wounded; but this is considered underrated. The victory of the Highlanders at Falkirk, after the confident boastings of General Hawley, that the "Highland rabble," as he called them, would nevattempt to attack th

THE LOST IS FOUND

BLEND

for special occasions

the centre, and of the regiment of Lord Miss Ettie Eison. Sheet Harbor. Walked the Forest after Wandering Nine Days While Many Search For Her

Sheet Harbor, Aug. 5 .- Walking up o where her near relatives, Charles and Neil-Perry and George Richards were sitting in the woods near Lindsay lake about four o'clock Sunday afternoon, Miss Ettie Eison, 24, missing for nine days, asked in a matter of fact voice, 'Am I on the right road for home?'

Practically abandoned on Friday, the search was resumed on a more extensive scale August 5th, more than 100 men being in the forest searching for the lost girl, who, although she showed no signs of fatigue from her trying ordeal at first, later became quite After finding herself, the girl with a few short rests walked two and a half miles with the young men to the road, mondeley, but the three regiments of from which point she was driven to her home here.

Interviewed following her arrival at colonel Ligonier. The colonel's own dragoon regiment, formerly Gardiner's, graphic description of her nine days wandering in the wilderness. She was, she said, on the point of giving up hope when she heard the sound of voices, and following it came upon the three between the English dragoons, first att- young men, her two cousins and Richards sitting in the woods.

Miss Eison said that she wandered about aimlessly for days and spent all of one moonlight night travelling through the woods and thickets.

It was on Friday night about dusk that she came to Grand lake where after washing her face with her handkerchiefshe discarded the cloth and also her rubbers which she found to heavy for travelling in the brush and woods She says she also threw away a pair of leggings she was wearing when sh entered the woods but after wards though their flanks were left uncovered, the dice," the venture ranks high the royal army, tell into the hands of regretted the move very much for her legs were badly scratched and torn by the brush which in many places is very thick. Her hands were also torn by brambles.

> Wild berries, mostly blueberries, kept her alive during her nine days wanderings, while she found plenty of water to assuage her thirst. When she came upon her rescuers e did not realize the serie conditions on the trail are highly comnot as yet been effected, as the unsight ly detour there is detrimental to the pleasures in store on the trip ahead.

As a scenic country the Island of Cape Breton is unsurpassed. From the little hamlet nestled among the hills to the towering firs and hardwoods on the slopes above, an air of contentment, second only to that of Mothe Scotland, prevails. From the peacefull farmlands and intervals to the quaint little fishing villages, the inhabitants appear to go about their daily tasks. little affected by the doings of the outblrow abie

From a scenic standpoint, the fam ous Margaree Valley, the view of the Gulf of St. Lawrence from the vicinity of McKenzie Mountain and the panaromic view from Cape Smokey were the outstanding features of the trip. To There seems to be an undescrib- from the time of leaving Truro till the clamations of the multitude, while able thrill to the motorist, who once he return, when the tank was filled to has reached the highest point in his capacity. The following mileages were ascent, to look downwards in the vicin- computated on arrival at ity of $200 feet and see the commencement point of his climb.

Some exceptionally interesting in-Some exceptionally interesting in-cidents were noted on the trip, among trip excluding the Trail-24.4 miles which was the observing of children, per gallon. During the heavy hauls equipped with their books, on their and descents over the Trail not one he was entirely satisfied with the This unusual occur- drop of water was added to that in wonderful results achieved and atway to school rence took place near Cap Rouge, the radiator. Ward Murdock, man- tributed it to the fine workmenship line. The second line, which chiefly where, due to the unusual conditions ager of Christie Motors, was heard to and engineering which is built into the consisted of the low country regiments, winter season, it is necessary for remark on the return to Truro, that Ford V8.

Truro Average mileage for the 600 miles 20 miles per gallon; average mileag over the Trail of 180 miles-15 mile whole baggage, artillery, and military they had taken from the dragoons capital until next day, when they marched in triumph through the principal oners, the spoil, and the standards

HEMORRHOIDS OR "PILES" are promptly and thoroughly relieved by the use of Dr.CHASE'S

Meanwhile Lord George Murray, who commanded the right wing, proc- make the people happy. eeded to make the necessary arrange ments for battle. When comrleted the order of battle of the Highland army was as follows. On the extreme right of the first line, stood the Macdonalds of Keppoch, the Macdonalds of Clanranald, and in succession the regiment of Glengarry, a battalion of Farquharsons, the Mackenzies, the MacIntoshe the Macphersons, under Cluny, the Frasers, under the master of Lovat, the Stewarts of Appin, and the Camer who formed the extreme left of this was composed of the Athole brigade, her condition, and, following her arrival caused consternation both at court home, was taken ill but the doctor and throughout the country, but it brought little or no advantage to the does not think that it will prove serious. cause of Prince Charles. The army was considerably weakened by the return of many of the clansmen, as was usual, to their mountain fastnesse to secure their plunder.

(To Be Continued)

(Canadian Press Telegram) Persian Balm imparts a rare charm Little America, Antarctica, Aug. 4. and distinction to the woman who uses (Delay)—Radio communication it. Fragrant as a flower, deliciously been restored with Admiral Richard cool to the skin, it always results in complexion delightfully young and lovely. Indispensable to every dainty As a powder base for oilywoman. textured skins or as a beautifying lotion, it is unrivalled. Tones and stimulates the skin. Recommended also to soften and make the hands tractor expedition set forth in a second flawlessly white.

where he is keeping a lone vigil. The A man may find it easier to discover communication with Mars than to first was forced to turn back in a develop an economic system that wilf storm reporting the flag marked trail had been largely obliterated.

E. Byrd at Bolling, Advance weather base, 123 miles by trail south of heree for the first time since July 27. H. reported his receiver was not functioning but gave no indication that otherwise all was not well. Today another attempt to reach Admiral Byrd's advance base on the Ross ice barrier

ORANGE PEKOE

11b) TEA

70

cents per pound