Frank Leslie's Sunday Magazine

For April who does not only interest in number, and must be very hard to find. Please him in the opening chapters of Farje begins with "Love's Harvest," which proves new be equal to the other stories of this favorite writer. Three additional chapters of Mr.
Farmer's "What She Made of Her Life" are given, and also three of the juvenile story, "Pen's Perplexities." Adelaide C. Waldron contributes a beautiful sonnet, "An Easter Lily," and there are other fine poems. The Rev. Dr. A. A. E. Taylor has a characteristic article on "The Bad Boy as a Moral Reformer," and the Rev. Dr. T. D. Witherspoon a beautiful one on "The Alpine Horn." Mrs.
Alexander's "Sisterhood of Spinsters" is a pungent, though good-natured, piece of satire.
The veteran Thomas Powell contributes "A Personal Reminiscence of Spohr and Mendelssohn," and Cherubini and Mercadante are the subjects of the "Sacred Musicians" series.
The "Glances at Bible History" and "Christ Teaching by Parable" are continued, and both very interesting; and the venerable contenance of the Rev. Dr. Prime, a representative religious journalist, accompanies a facsimile reduction of the first page of the New York Observer, which he has so long edited. These are only a small portion of the contents and, indeed, the whole number is exceptionally good. Published by MRS. FRANK LESLIE, 53, 55 and 57 Park Place, New York, at 25 cents a number, or $2 50 a year, postpaid.
