JOHN O'GROAT'S INN.

It has hitherto been known as the “Ten Mile Inn,” that being its distance from the town of Pictou;—and its present occupier, in giving it a new designation, is confident in assuring travellers that even between the far famed “John O'Groat's and Maiden Kirk” there will not be found a house of entertainment wherein greater exertions are made for the accommodation of wayfarers. Private rooms are prepared for family parties, and for gentlemen sportsmen, who may feel disposed to fish the fine stream of the West River, which passes close by the Inn, or range the adjoining woods for game. The best description of Stabling is provided, and every convenience suited for such an Establishment can always be had at such moderate charges as will, upon trial, induce the traveller who has once visited the “John O'Groat's Inn” to repeat his call should he have future occasions of requiring the subscriber's services.
