PARISH NOTES.

The month of January always reflects something of the warm and genial spirit of Christmastide, tangible results of which are seen in the various treats and entertainments in connection with the Parish. The regular Sunday Sel sol Festival was held on Tuesday, 13th, and was voted a grand success. First of all came tea, followed by some splendid selections from a phonograph, kindly lent by Mr. Arthur Hagarty, and then came a series of wonderful feats of conjuring, in which gold-fish and guinea-pigs grew out of hats and other unlikely things. Mr. Frank Kenrick was applauded to the echo for some of his manoeuvres, and many expect he will become a formidable rival of Kellar. Great mystery attended the performance, but some whispered that Mr. Harry Smith knew more about it than he appeared to. The evening closed with the distribution of a goodly number of prizes amongst the good and deserving. The next day saw the children of the Infant Class entertained at tea, after which, with a splendid impartiality, presents were distributed to every child. Then came the choir boys treat which had to wait for seasonable weather for their sleigh-drive. This took place on the 25th, a very cold night indeed, but any danger of chill was averted by hot chocolate, etc., at Patterson's, which was provided by the Rector. Other social gatherings of the month were on the 15th, when the Rev. Carey Ward lectured on Rome, and on the 30th, when Canon Sweeny gave his talk on the King's progress through London. Both lectures were beautifully illustrated, and an added attraction was the music and singing of Mrs Coward, Miss Rachael Gwyn and Mr. Bruce Harman.

The Rector wishes to thank the following friends who so kindly sent in money and cakes for the Sunday School treats: Mrs. Cottor. Capt. Walker, Mr. Hagarty, Miss Van Koughnet, Mr. G. F. Harman, Mrs. Boulton, Mr. Clubb, Misses Wood, Mrs. Helliwell, Miss Cayley, Mr. Bedford-Jones.

Owing to the resignation of Mrs. Campbell Reaves, and the absence in England of Miss Edith Boulton, the Sanctuary Guild have elected Miss Baines and Miss Ethel Street treasurer and secretary respectively.

Mrs. George Burton is the new head of the Sewing School, vice Miss E. Boulton.

The Concert which Mrs. Henry Osborne is so kindly arranging will be given in the Schoolroom Monday, 23rd inst. Part II. will consist of that bright little comedietta "My Lord in Livery."
