

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The Conference was presented through the cooperative efforts of the following seven business associations

Business Council of B.C.	(604) 684-3384
Canadian Federation of Independent Business	(604) 684-5325
Canadian Manufacturers' Association, B.C. Div.	(604) 685-8131
Council of Forest Industries of B.C.	(604) 684-0211
Investment Dealers Association of Canada	(604) 683-1338
Mining Association of B.C.	(604) 681-4321
Vancouver Board of Trade	(604) 641-1261

Major financial support was provided by:

Federal Department of External Affairs and International Trade
c/o Industry Science and Technology Canada (604) 666-0434

Provincial Ministry of International Business and Immigration
(604) 844-1800

The following corporate sponsors also made significant financial contributions to the success of the Conference:

Canadian Airlines International Limited (604) 270-2111

The Official Carrier for the Conference, Canadian Airlines International, from its inception, has committed itself to being a world leader among air carriers. With superior service and dependability, CAI is the airline of choice for discerning business travellers.

Mark Ivener, a Law Corporation (604) 688-0558

Mark A. Ivener, a U.S. attorney and authority on U.S. immigration law pursuant to the Free Trade Agreement, has opened an associate office in Vancouver in order to represent Canadian citizens who wish to obtain U.S. investor and professional work visas. Mr. Ivener has practiced law in Los Angeles for over 20 years and is the author of "Handbook of U.S. Immigration Law, Vol. I & II", and publisher of the newsletter "Immigration Newsletter".

Ogden, Murphy & Wallace (206) 447-7000

Ogden Murphy Wallace, one of the oldest and most respected Seattle law firms offers a wide range of legal services to its clients. Ogden Murphy Wallace has extensive experience in providing practical and economical legal advice to both domestic and international business clients. Some of the services available include: business acquisitions, incorporations, financing, contracts, real estate and land use, trade names, immigration, lobbying and litigation. In addition, the firm has a Canadian solicitor on staff to coordinate representation of its Canadian clients.

Peat Marwick (604) 662-5500

As the world's largest firm of accountants and consultants, KPMG has unequalled resources to deliver quality services - 5,050 partners and 43,100 professional staff in 115 countries. KPMG offers clients consistent worldwide standards in professional service and quality control, state-of-the-art technology in service delivery and communications, and unrivalled expertise in both national and cross-border business advice. This includes timely advisory services with regard to the Canada/U.S. Free Trade Agreement, Europe 1992 and the developing markets of the Asia/Pacific and USSR/Eastern Europe regions.