

Investment Canada Act, and the extent to which the data would have to be extrapolated, further analysis was not possible. The data also suggest that inflows of investment from Switzerland to Canada represented almost 1.5 per cent of total Swiss DIA in 1990. By 1993, the importance of Swiss DIA to Canada as a proportion of total Swiss DIA had declined to almost nothing, from more than 2 per cent in 1992. The 1993 results for Canada appear to be a reflection of the decline in Swiss DIA globally in 1993.
