

answering the same. Questions may be asked and such changes are not allowed.

Explanatory Note

Indicated in order to clarify matters that might arise with the use of the word "party," and to accord with the definition of "party" in Rule 4.

60. When it is intended to make a charge or raise a discussion, the question being asked should be stated as follows: "Will you give notice that you will call attention to the matter mentioned in the question?"

Explanatory Note

The words "to make a charge" are added for the sake of clarity.

61. When it is intended to make a charge or raise a discussion, the question being asked should be stated as follows: "Will you give notice that you will call attention to the matter mentioned in the question?"

Explanatory Note

62. When a matter of order arises during a session, the question should be stated as follows: "Will you give notice that you will call attention to the matter mentioned in the question?"

63. Any matter concerning the order of a session should be stated as follows: "Will you give notice that you will call attention to the matter mentioned in the question?"

Explanatory Note

Amended to extend to all forms of public news media and to specify the manner of circulating to the public.

Explanatory Note

64. Any matter concerning the order of a session should be stated as follows: "Will you give notice that you will call attention to the matter mentioned in the question?"