

To the Free and Independent Electors of the TOWN OF YORK.

GENTLEMEN.

The Summons for calling a new Assembly having just been announced, I think it a proper time for me to declare to you generally, my intention of offering myself to you again as a Candidate.

To some of you who have done me the favor to make the inquiry, I have long ago publicly expressed my desire, to receive again from you this most gratifying proof of your confidence and friendship.

Long known to you in private life, and conscious of having applied myself faithfully to promote your public interests, I do not only hope for your support, but for your active exertions, if they should become necessary; and you may be assured Gentlemen that, so long as the kind regard of my Countrymen continues to attend that line of conduct of which my heart approves, there is no one among you to whom the proofs of such regard could bring more sincere satisfaction, than they ever will to your,

Very Grateful,

and Faithful Servant,

JOHN B. ROBINSON.
