Electric Fixtures and Lamps

All the way from the candle invented about 700 A.D. to the newest Westinghouse daylight lamp runs the exhibit in the Electric Fixture Department. And in the intermediate stages you may notice the kerosene oil lamp introduced into America in 1860, the artificial gas burner introduced into Great Britain in 1817, the inverted gas burner of 1901, a brass whale oil lamp, an atrial oil lamp, the time or horological lamp which burnt from 8 p.m. till midnight. Old brass candlesticks and various forms of candle snuffers, with trimmers, are also interesting, while the table oil lamp with frilly shade of fifty years ago holds the place of honor. Oil sketches of certain old lamps and the descriptions attached will also prove interesting.

The duties of these committees will be to get in touch with the soldiers and their dependents, and find the things needed to get them back to civil life, he explained. PROPOSED AUDIT OVER ALL OUTSIDE BODIES

Mayor Church suggested that legis- lation was not needed on this, but proposed that the finance commissioner act as an auditor general of all bodies. He believed that there should be some check on outside bodies. Cont. Robbins was opposed to allow- ing one elective body the right to con- trol the finances of another such body and Cont. Maguire said, "The council may as well disband and let Mr. Brad- shaw run the city." Cont. Cameron thought that if it was good for the school board it was a good thing for the city council.
