

COMPANY, LIMITED

Thursday, Sept. 3.

ROW

rnishings.

ie Shirts,

y service-

6 1-2 Reg-

23c.

19c.

10c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

98c.

WAREHOUSE FOR SALE

Centrally located, exceptionally heavy structure of stone and brick, electric elevator, good shipping, early possession. H. H. WILLIAMS & CO., Real Estate Brokers, 26 Victoria St.

PROBS—Fresh south and S.W. winds; fair and a little warmer.

DRILL AND PHYSIQUE TO BECOME ESSENTIAL TO TEACHER'S CAREER

That is if Schools Desire Drill and Shooting Instructors From the Permanent Corps—Sir Frederick Borden's Latest Announcement.

OTTAWA, Sept. 3.—(Special.)—At the luncheon given by Col. Sam Hughes, president of the D.R.A., Sir Frederick Borden was the principal speaker.

The minister expressed admiration for Col. Hughes, because he always "fought fairly." After defending the increased expenditure on the militia force Sir Frederick Borden turned his attention to cadet shooting and made an important announcement.

He said an order-in-council had been passed embodying an agreement which had been entered into with the educational department of Nova Scotia. It sets forth that the militia department will furnish free of cost to the schools, instructors in drill and shooting, providing the schools will adopt a regulation to the effect that all teachers be compelled in the future to pass an examination in physical training and drill before receiving a certificate.

A second order-in-council has been adopted giving the militia department authority to make a similar arrangement with the other provinces.

Sir Frederick said that if this plan is carried out in other provinces it will incidentally be a great help to the permanent force, which will provide the staff of instructors.

Conditions generally were exceedingly bad to-day, and consequently the points made were a little below those of last year. However, it is conceded that the marksmanship is much better. To-day a rear wind veered intermittently, and there was also a mirage which made the targets seem to dance. With every shot the marksmen had to alter his windage.

The grand aggregate, like almost all of the matches, provided a close finish. Capt. McVittie, of the 48th Highlanders, just winning by two points over Sergt. Richardson of Vancouver.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

APPROVED

At a meeting of the Ontario Cabinet yesterday an order-in-council was passed approving of the Hydro-Electric Commission's contract with F. H. McGuigan.

MONTREAL MERCHANTS SAY CHARGES ARE FALSE

Continuation of the Marine Enquiry at Montreal—Cross-Examination is Lacking, However.

MONTREAL, Sept. 3.—(Special.)—No rake-offs and no commissions were paid by the government to firms it employed to make a similar arrangement with the other provinces.

Sir Frederick said that if this plan is carried out in other provinces it will incidentally be a great help to the permanent force, which will provide the staff of instructors.

Conditions generally were exceedingly bad to-day, and consequently the points made were a little below those of last year. However, it is conceded that the marksmanship is much better. To-day a rear wind veered intermittently, and there was also a mirage which made the targets seem to dance. With every shot the marksmen had to alter his windage.

The grand aggregate, like almost all of the matches, provided a close finish. Capt. McVittie, of the 48th Highlanders, just winning by two points over Sergt. Richardson of Vancouver.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

The Transvaal Cup was won by a Vancouver veteran, Capt. Hart McFarlane, and the London Merchants' Cup finds a resting place at Port Hope. British Columbia marksmen somewhat easily won the London Merchants' Cup, but the winners have not yet been announced. The London Merchants' Cup was won by the London Merchants' team, which defeated the British Columbia team by a score of 200 to 150.

DISSECTS BODY TELEGRAPHERS TO CONCEAL MURDER SCORE EASY VICTORY

After Killing Wife By Accident in Quarrel, Actor Takes Gruesome Means to Dispose of the Remains.

BOSTON, Sept. 3.—The most horrible and brutal crime committed in Greater Boston since the death of Susan Geary, a chorus girl, four years ago, and one much resembling it, was disclosed to-night by the discovery of the torso of Mrs. Joseph Jordan, an actress aged 23 years of Somerville, in a trunk in a boarding-house at 7 Ancocks-st., on Beacon Hill, this city. Later the head and bones of the limbs were found in the furnace of the Jordan home at Somerville, and the scalp, hair and other gruesome remains were taken from the kitchen range of the house.

Chester Jordan, aged 22 years, an actor of 509 Medford-street, Somerville, is held by the police charged with the murder, and to-night, according to the officers, he made a full and complete confession of the crime.

According to Jordan's alleged confession he accidentally killed his wife Tuesday night in a quarrel at their home and, becoming desperate over what he had done, went out and bought a butcher knife and hacksaw, cut up the body and placed the torso in a trunk.

He then planned to take the steamer Harvard, which was scheduled to leave last night for New York, and throw the parts of the body overboard.

The fact that the arduous was laid off owing to accident disarranged his plans and he was obliged to hire a hackman to take the trunk to a Boston boarding-house to await a more favorable opportunity.

Blackman suspected burglar. The discovery of the crime was due to the suspicions of the hackman, George Collins, who had in mind the numerous robberies which have taken place in and about Boston recently, and surmising from its weight that the trunk was carrying about contained silverware, notified the police.

Collins reported that he had first taken the trunk from the North Station this morning, it having come in from Somerville on a local train. It was taken to the boarding-house where he left it. Later he was called upon by Jordan to carry the same trunk to No. 7 Ancocks-street, a lodging-house kept by Mrs. John Haley.

The hackman then reported his suspicions to the police.

Sergt. Crowley was detailed to go over to the Hancock-street house and investigate. He found that the house Jordan was not in, but the officer was shown the back room on the second floor, which Jordan had engaged and found the trunk in a locked trunk which was not opened. About 5:30 Jordan returned and on being asked in the hallway by the officer, at first denied that he had been there, but when he was asked about the trunk, he denied that he had one. He was ordered to his room by the officer, however, and commanded to open the trunk.

Awful Revelation. Jordan did not appear nervous or alarmed, he hesitated to open the trunk, and it was not until after considerable argument on the part of the officer that he produced the key to the trunk and unlocked it. At this turning his head Jordan threw up the cover of the trunk and then sank back on his knees, burying his face in his hands and sobbing.

Sergt. Crowley staggered back aghast at the disclosure, for in the open trunk before him lay a sickening sight, the torso of a woman, the filling the greater part of the trunk, while pieces of flesh from other parts of the body were stuffed into the corners. The interior of the trunk was bespattered with blood. There was no covering of any sort over the remains.

Jordan submitted without protest to the handcuffs. Giving his name and address, he declared the body in the trunk was that of his wife, and appeared willing to tell the officers everything concerning the case.

Tells the Awful Story. Jordan's story of the murder which was given to the officers was substantially as follows: He stated that he was married in September in 1904 to Mrs. Honora Eddy, whose maiden name was "O'Reilly" and whose home was in Somerville. He did not know who his wife's first husband was or what had become of him. The couple went on the vaudeville stage, Mr. Jordan taking the part of a tramp and his wife that of a nurse, in a sketch. They returned to Somerville, Mrs. Jordan, according to her husband, had taken to drinking of late, and he claims, was associating with other men. He became jealous. It was in a jealous quarrel, which ended in the death of the wife.

Jordan declared that he struck her first and that he then knifed her down and was terrified to find that he had killed her. This happened Tuesday night.

Jordan, according to his confession, went out and bought a heavy butcher's cutting-up knife. With this and a saw he cut up the body, and the head from the body, and after putting the scalp and hair in the kitchen range, placed the torso in the furnace in the cellar. The legs and arms were cut from the body and the flesh sliced off in stripes, leaving the bones of the limbs practically bare. The bones were placed in the furnace and the pieces of flesh piled into a trunk with the torso.

WRIGHT'S AEROPLANE DOES WINNING STUNT

LEMANS, France, Sept. 3.—Wilbur Wright, the aeroplaneist, made a ten-minute flight here this morning at an altitude of 75 feet and covered six miles. Another attempt made later was a failure owing to trouble with the motor. The aeroplane bumped against the ground three times in a distance of 400 yards.

The French experts were greatly astonished at the demonstration given by Mr. Wright to-day of his ability to leave the ground again after having touched it. It had been supposed that it was impossible for him to launch his machine without the aid of an apparatus.

This feat apparently assures Mr. Wright the prize for high flight, one of the conditions of which is that the machine shall leave the ground without the use of outside help.

DOCTOR SHOT; KILLED IN HIS OWN HOME

Prominent Western Practitioner Killed in His Own Home—Wife May Know.

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 3.—Dr. Frederick T. Rustin, one of the best known surgeons in the west, a former Yale football star, was shot and killed as he was entering his home early this morning.

According to the first reports he had remained out late for the election returns. His wife was awakened by a pistol shot and rushed downstairs and out on the porch.

Dr. Rustin was sitting in a chair. "I have been shot," he said. He died half an hour later. A single pistol ball had entered the abdomen.

To-night, however, the police state that Dr. Rustin reached his home about midnight, and that the shooting occurred at that time. The exact time of the shooting was not stated.

No person has been permitted to interview Dr. Rustin except Chief of Police Donohue and Dr. T. J. Mackay, rector of All Saints' Church, of which he is a member.

Miss Leone Bonnell was seen with Rustin late that night and is said to have been within two blocks of his home when he was shot.

The city detectives have been unable to locate the revolver which was used in the shooting, and the police are searching for it.

Mrs. Rustin was closely questioned at the police chief's office to-day. It was learned that she had called on Chief Donohue and secured a written statement from her in which she admitted accompanying Rustin to a point near his home. The statement also says that she had seen a man who was with Rustin at the time of the shooting.

The police do not believe the Bonnell woman did the shooting.

OWEN SOUND POLICE CAPTURE A BURGLAR

Had Stolen Rings and an Outfit of Dangerous Articles for Pursuit of the Profession.

OWEN SOUND, Sept. 3.—(Special.)—With a bottle of chloroform, a long dirk knife, a diamond ring, pawn tickets, and a