$85,000,000 FOR NEW WESTERN RAILWAYS

Winnipeg, Man., April 30 — Approximately $85,000,000 will be spent by railroads in actual construction in western Canada during 1909, according to statements made by head officials of the various companies. The construction campaign laid out by the Canadian Pacific is the most costly and calls for the expenditure of over $20,000,000. James J. Hill will spend $15,000,000 on the Great Northern and subsidiary companies in western Canada, together making a fourth trunk system across the prairies westward from this city. The Canadian Northern intends to spend some $11,000,000, part of which will be for the extension of its main line towards the Pacific coast. A like amount will be spent by the Grand Trunk Pacific on its main line between Winnipeg and the Pacific Ocean, but the bulk of the money used by this company during 1909 will be on its branch lines.

This year Melville, Saskatchewan, the headquarters of the Grand Trunk Pacific in western Canada, appears to be the most favored town, for the company has announced that at least three branches will be built from here this year. One will run northwesterly to Prince Albert, another northeasterly to the Hudson's Bay, while a third will run to the American boundary, passing through Regina en route. These three lines will be the most important ever built in western Canada, as far as American farmers and homeseekers are concerned, for they will give direct access to the rich mineral deposits and famous Peace River Valley, north of Prince Albert, while the other northerly line will give direct communication to Hudson's Bay and the short wheat route to Europe.

The remainder of the $85,000,000 will easily be expended by the almost innumerable companies chartered to build lines in all directions, covering western Canada with a network of railroads, like a spider's web.

The only cloud on the horizon is a prospect of a shortage of labor, but it is said this will not be very serious, owing to the large immigration promised from all quarters of the globe. — (Reginald F. Robinson, Winnipeg, Man.)

KIRK BROWN PLAYS TO CAPACITY HOUSE

Pudd'nhead Wilson Given a Most Artistic Production at the Opera House,

Another crowded house greeted the Kirk Brown Company last evening when they presented Mark Twain's comedy, "Pudd'n'head Wilson," for the first time in St. John. It was an excellent production, marked with all the perfection of detail characteristic of Mr. Brown's offerings. It also gave the company's popular star an excellent opportunity to display his versatility, for in the title role he had a part totally different from anything he has attempted before. It is a quaint character type of a kindly, lovable man, not over successful in this world's pursuits, rather inclined to frivol and fuss but at the same time endowed with a keen legal mind and an acute sense of discernment. To say that Mr. Brown was delighted is but a fair criticism, and the role will take its place among the very best he has presented here. Miss Kathryn Purnell in the role of Wilson's niece had not a great deal to do, but her acting was always in keeping with the part. Particular mention should be made of Margie Dow, who made a hit as Roxy, Driscoll's favorite slave. Miss DeWeale was happily cast as Wilson's sister. Mr. Bird played the juvenile role of Chambers, and did well with it. Mr. Crosby was seen as Jim Driscoll, and embraced all the opportunities of the part. Mr. Taylor as York Driscoll and Mr. Charles Savage as Count Lingi added in no small degree to the success of the production.

The scenery as in all plays presented by the Kirk Brown Company, was a feature. This evening David Belasco's and H. C. DeMille's stirring play, The Wife, will be presented.

OLD ST. JOHN PICTURES AT THE NICKEL TODAY

Living up to its policy of pure educational entertainment for the young and old of the city, the Nickel is delighting its patrons with a specialty that is of value especially to the younger generation. This specialty is the showing of numerous views of St. John before the fire of '77, some of them dating back to the early fifties. All are copied from photographs submitted in competition by children who are awarded cash prizes and the explanation of the views is interesting to hear. Last evening, despite the weather, the theatre was crowded all the time and every item in the bill was enjoyed. The Cromwell and Charles I. picture was of historic worth, the society drama, A Pair of White Gloves, of intense interest, the talking picture, A Jealous Husband, brought laughter and Miss Edwards' song was very pleasing. Today Miss Edwards will sing the new ballad-hit, Pansies Bring Thoughts of You. During the high-class motion pictures the orchestra played some magnificent classical numbers.

AT THE STAR

The Star's Orchestra will play another of their excellent programmes tonight—a feature which is being appreciated more each week by the people of North End and Carleton, in fact many city folks take a car-ride to the cosy little new theatre in Union Hall to enjoy the music and watch the entirely different class of pictures, pictures of the famous Kleine service, with a generous sprinkling of engrossing travel views. The features for tonight are: The Dutchman's Anti-Noise Crusade, The Rude Hostess, two strong dramas and a couple of irresistable comedies. Mae Colyer is singing Vesta Victoria's hit, "Poor John." On Monday Frank Austin, the popular balladist will open an engagement at the Star.

OLD BOILERS IN DEMAND

An ex-Flat Dweller Finds That in the Suburbs They are Prized.

(New York Sun.)

"A great advantage of living in the suburbs," said the ex-flat dweller, "is the chance it affords of picking up old boilers to use for decorative purposes about your ground. In the city you rarely see any of thes discarded appurtenances of the kitchen, but no large open space in the suburb is without a few.

"As soon as a boiled wears out in the suburban home and becomes a menace it is promptly hauled away to some vacant lot, until someone decides he can make use of it in fixing up his grounds. Of course in the city there is nothing for an old kitchen boiler when it has to leave its place by the kitchen range but the junk shop, but in the country they scorn to treat them that way.

"It may surprise some flat dwellers to know that they are prized highly by some suburbanites as gate posts. Stood up on end and painted red they make a very neat entrance to a yard in the opinion of a good many folks who seem to have hit on this idea in my town. If the crop of old boilers is good it is possible, I have found to make a hedge of them.

"Some people, I find, prefer them unpainted, but it strikes me that paint improves them, particularly if the shade harmonizes with the color of the house. One man, whose house I have to pass on my way to the train, has a row of old boilers painted alongside his home to take the place of a fence.

"Of course they are most popular in the poorer quarters, but even others find use for them, as for instance a man who has found that they make excellent receptacles for flowers. This man picked up two boilers from the nearest vacant lot, cut them open and placed them lengthwise on the ground in his yard. He had filled them with earth and has just put his seeds in.

"When summer comes I expect to envy him. On the whole this use of old boilers is among the greatest surprises of the suburbs."

There will be a concert, followed by an address by Rev. Dr. G. M. Campbell on Our Canadian Heritage and Responsibility, in the school room of the Carleton Methodist church this evening. The selections will be of a patriotic nature, the occasion being "Canadian night." The music will be solos by Miss Maida Baskin and Murray Long, and quartette singing by Mr. and Mrs. Murray Long, Miss Grace Cheyne and James Griffiths.

SUGAR TRUST IN FOR SHARP PROSECUTION

United States Grand Jury Will Be Asked to Indict Officers and Employes.

(New York World.)

When the next Federal Grand Jury is sworn in, May 12, it will be asked by Special Deputy Attorney-General Henry L. Stimson on behalf of the United States, to find indictments against any officers or employes of the American Sugar Refining Company who have been guilty of criminal acts in connection with defrauding the government of huge sums by tampering with the weighing scales so as to reduce the amount of custom house duties paid by the Sugar Trust.

The fact that the Sugar Trust has been fined $134,000 and has agreed to make restitution of $2,000,000 more, a total of $2,134,000, does not relieve those responsible for the frauds from criminal prosecution.

The grand jury which will be sworn in on May 12 will sit all through the summer and until October. This will give the government abundant time to present to it the mass of evidence collected under direction of Mr. Stimson. This evidence is said to be perfect in all of its details. Parts of it were revealed in the trial of the suit which resulted in the imposition of the $134,000 fine, and the Sugar Trust realized the strength of the government's position so thoroughly that it agreed to make restitution of $2,000,000 without even putting the United States to the trouble of formally proving its case.

The mass of evidence collected by Mr. Stimson is understood to include many facts which have not so far been disclosed. It is also understood to be his purpose to make the men holding the high-salaried, responsible executive positions in the Sugar Trust the targets of the criminal prosecutions rather than the lesser employes of the corporation. The government, it is said, is going ahead on the theory that frauds involving such stupendous sums and which yielded such huge profits to the Sugar Trust could not have been carried on year after year for nearly twelve years at least without the knowledge of executive officers of the corporation, if not by their actual directors.

Mr. Stimson had a long conference with United States District Attorney Wise yesterday concerning the criminal prosecution of the Sugar Trust men, and when it was concluded he said:

"Of course there will be a criminal prosecution of the guilty persons. There will be no let-up, but on the contrary they will be prosecuted to a finish.

"The corporation, as a corporation, has already been punished criminally, by the imposition of the $134,000 fine. That was a punishment for criminal acts. The other $2,000,000 was restitution of back duties accruing from false weighing.

The president of the Sugar Trust is W. B. Thomas; the vice-president and treasurer, Arthur Donner, and the secretary, C. R. Helke. The directors, besides President Thomas and Vice-President Donner, are Horace Havemeyer, John E. Parsons, who is also chief counsel for the company; G. H. Frazier, John Mayer, H. C. Mott, H. E. Niese and C. H. Seuff, H. O. Havemeyer was president of the Sugar Trust from its inception until his death about two years ago.

A BIG G. T. P. CELEBRATION

Montreal, May 5th—A grand celebration will be held upon the completion of the Winnipeg to Fort William section of the G. T. P., and the inauguration of the through service from Edmonton to Fort William, at which there will probably be present Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, President of the Grand Trunk, and other directors and large shareholders from England, besides Mr. Wilfrid Laurier, Mr. R. L. Borden and many other prominent Canadians and Americans. The road between Winnipeg and Fort William will be all connected early in the summer, but will not be finished until a little later.
