BUSINESS NOTE.

Announcement of an important business association was made this morning when it became known that the firm of J. A. Grant & Co., engineers and contractors, had formed an affiliation with the world-famous English firm of Pearson Son & Partners. The best known work of the latter firm in America is the building of the Pennsylvania railway tunnels at a cost of approximately $20,000,000. They also did extensive work in Chile. The new firm is J. A. Grant & Co., Ltd., and S. Pearson Son & Partners (Canada) Limited.

CONVENTION OF FARMERS AND DAIRYMEN

The 45th Annual Gathering Was Opened Today in Fredericton.

Fredericton, N. B., March 8—With attendance of upwards of twenty-five delegates the 45th annual convention of the New Brunswick Farmers and Dairymen's Association opened here this morning, with H. H. Magee, of Quispamsis, in the chair.

John Woods, drainage superintendent of the department of agriculture spoke on "under drainage." He advocated the use of clay tiles but said he would not discourage those farmers who were remote from railway stations from adopting the open drainage system as it was better than none.

F. H. Walsh, treasurer, of Middle Cove, thought that it was about time that the government should find some way of getting a cheaper tile. He said farmers had to send out of the province for tiles they wanted and had to pay a high freight rate. It was all right, he said, that the farmers needed under drainage but he would like to know where the money was coming from.

Mr. Woods said that in Prince Edward Island and Ontario the governments loaned money for such purposes on easy terms.

W. W. Hubbard of the Dominion Experimental Farm at Lower Fredericton, said that in the long run he had found the tile system cheaper than wood or stone, and said that the under drainage had given great benefits.

M. A. MacLeod, superintendent of agricultural societies, said that in order to have good crops the ground must be under-drained, and if it could not be done by clay tiles, the question of using stone should be discussed.

Tonight there will probably be 800 or more delegates in attendance. The convention will continue until Thursday night.

DR. A. B. ATHERTON DEAD IN SAN DIEGO

Was Prominent Fredericton Physician and Once Ran Election in York.

Fredericton, N. B., March 8—Dr. A. B. Atherton, for many years a practicing physician and surgeon in Fredericton, died yesterday in San Diego, Calif., where he had been residing for five years.

Dr. Atherton, who was 78 years old, was born at Queensbury, York County. For some years, he practised in Fredericton and then in the late eighties removed to Toronto where he practised for eleven years before returning to Fredericton to resume practice here. In 1911 he unsuccessfully contested York County in the federal general election in the liberal interests.

RAILWAY RATES

The Railway Board held a meeting yesterday afternoon in Moncton, with Hon. F. B. Carvell, presiding. Several applications for the reduction of freight rates were heard. Mr. Carvell said that he did not see how rates could be reduced at present, owing to the amounts that the railways had had to pay on account of the McCaDo award, the Chicago award, and the back time to employees. He expressed the opinion that the back pay to the employees should not have been paid. He also intimated that he would not allow any further increase in freight rates while he was on the board.

THE LOBSTER INDUSTRY.

Ottawa, March 8—(By Canadian Press)—Andrew Halkett, naturalist, attached to the department of marine and fisheries, has left for P. E. I. to assist in the conservation of the lobster industry.
