DEBTS PAID AFTER YEARS OF SACRIFICE

Countess, Deserted by Husband, is Discharged from Bankruptcy

New York, Oct. 24.—Countess Hattie B. de Maize, who filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy on October 10, 1909, was discharged through an order signed by Judge Holt in the bankruptcy court. In the cold, matter-of-fact order which was filed there was no mention of the tragedy that stalked behind its legal phraseology, nor of the months and years of sacrifice, or the manner in which the Countess, left alone by her husband several years ago, worked and paid her debts and educated her only son.

Nor would the Countess, or her lawyer, discuss these matters. The countess and her attorney appeared before Judge Holt and the motion for dismissal, upon the ground that she had met all her obligations, was made. The order was signed by the court.

Two years ago the countess suffered a severe blow in the disappearance of her husband, who, at one time was a physician in Manhattan. He went abroad, and so far as could be ascertained, did not return. One day there came a request to the State Department at Washington to intercede to stop a certain proposed marriage. An investigation developed the fact that a young American society woman, Miss Isabella Garwood, was engaged to, and about to be married to one Count de Maize. It seems that he was none other than the husband of the countess.

AT ONE O'CLOCK WHAT? (The Sporting Times). A girl was trying to stop betting on horse racing. For even women are involved.

The girl consulted a bookmaker. "If I put on a sovereign at eight to one," she asked, "what should I get if I win?" "Nine pounds back," said the bookmaker.

"And ten to one?" The bookmaker explained that this might mean £11.

"Yes, now I understand," she said; "but what would happen if I put a sovereign on exactly at 1 o'clock?"

TENDENCY TO CONFUSION.

(The Argonaut). Senator William Alden Smith says the evident desire of Colonel Roosevelt to listen to the plaints of both insurgents and regulars places him in a different category from an Irish justice of the peace.

In a trial the evidence was all in and the plaintiff's attorney had made a long and very eloquent argument, when the lawyer acting for the defense arose.

"What you doing?" asked the justice as the lawyer began. "Going to hear both sides argued. It has a tendency to confuse the court."
