Regardless of whether equal suffrage is good or had, so woman occupies a more prominent place in current history than Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, by far the most prominent figure in the turbulent campaigns waged by Englishwomen for the right to vote.
Her sentence to three years at hard labor on a charge of inciting a bomb explosion at the home of David LloydGeorge followed her sixth arrest.
Each of the other five arrests grew out of an attempt to serve "the cause."

Each of the other five arrests grew out of an attempt to serve "the cause."

In February, 1908, Mrs. Pankhurst was sentanced to six weeks' imprisonment for leading a raid on the House of Commons. She served the whole sentance.

In October, 1908, she was sentenced for three months for inciting to riok. She was released a few weeks before the sentence expired.

Two years later the was arrested while heading a deputation of 400 women who were demandir; an interview with the Prime Minister. No charge was preferred, thosever, and she was released.

When militancy began to mark the suffragist operations early in 1717 Mrs. Fankhurst was sentenced to two months' imprisonment for mindow amazing.

While slie was servine that acritence the and her daughter, Miss Christabel Pankhurst, with Pethick Lawrence and Mrs. Pathick Lawrence, were charged with conspiracy in connection with the general window shashing raid on Oxford, Regent and Bond street shops, London.

Miss Pankhurst escaped arrest and went into exile in France. The others were sentenced to nine months' imprisonment.

Mrs. Pankhurst went on a hunger strike, and sites five weeks all three were released.

Last February Mrs. Pankhurst was arrested on a charge of "inciting to commit melicious destruction of property" in connection with the bomb supploston at Libyd-George's new home at Walton Heath. She was commit.

perty in connection with the bomb explosion at Lloyd-George's new home at Walton Heath. She was committed for the May assizes of the Surrey county court, but refused to promise good behavior and was sent to Hollogood benerically afterward the case was transferred to the central criminal court, London, and set for the April court, London, and set for the April assizes.

Mrs. Pankhurst's sentence, April 3, did not dismay has or her followers. While other suffragists cloted in the constroom the was led away declaring that she would soon be out of prison, dead or alive.

The west on a hunger stafts immediately of entering prison, according to het isilers, calmly retusing to an the feed that was placed in her cell. Humors that she was forestly fed have been denied by the prison until a starting subsequent incident was the recent of an anonymous letter, threatening death. By Justice Sir Charles Hontague Lunh, who imposed the three year nethence on Mrs. Panishours. The letter was turned over to Scotland Yard, and a strong body-guard was at once assigned to accompany Justice Lunh when he left his home or his courtroom.

An account of the attempts to grow corn from wheat grains discovered in the tombs of Egyptian mummles is given in "Knowledge." All these stempts have failed, and recent researches suggest that, while the power of germination in wheat or barley is little affected for five years, after the period a rapid foss of vitality sets in. Considerable chemical change was detected in the mummy wheat, which is probably 3,400 years old. It had lost two per cent. of its moisture, and with that its vitality. When crushed the flour was very irritating to the nostrils, and smelt strongly of bitumen—the preservative used to embalm the mummy. It was also markedly acid. Examined under the microscope its particles differed Ancient Grain, the microscope its particles differed entirely from those of modern wheat.

When treated with water it gave a thin paste without any strength of dough. Cat 27 Years Old. Cat 27 Years Old.

Tiger, the remarkable cat of the Great Eastern Railway Co.'s goods sheds at Peterborough, P.J., who is reputed to be about twenty-seven years old, is peacefully ending a life crowded with rat extermination and other happy incidents. Few cats live much beyond fourteen or fifteen years. During her long life Tiger is said to have killed thousands of rats. She is a light tabby, and came to the sheds for refuge during a fire at a timber yeard close by over twenty-six years ago, having been driven from her home in a timber-stack by the flames. When she dies she will leave a numerous progeny of over 200 to succeed her.

Cannibals Dying Out. Cannibals Dying Out.

The People of the Solomons (the Cannibal Islanda) are rapidly decreasing in numbers. Dr. W. Thorold Quaile, medical officer in the islands, declares that the decrease in population is due to the fact that tribal warfare has ceased and the natives no longer kill one another. This warfare used to keep the native "fit" and energetic. Now they have become lazy and inert, and the race is fast deteriorating, and seems likely to die out in course of time.

Bonus For Farm Workers.

Lord Rayleigh, who employs 250 men on his Essex farms, some time ago introduced a bonus system to encourage his employes to invest their savings in the farms. The sum of £3,700 now stands to their credit, and the amount for the year just closed to be paid in bonuses, profits, and interest came to £1,000.

For a moment Lee was tempted. Anything to get away from this horrible little den and the people who infested it was her feeling, but she distrusted Greeg, and she knew that every eye in the town would be upon her if she went, and, besides, Ross might return while she was away, "No; not today," she replied finally, but her voice was gentler than it had ever been to him.
