Mr. Gaudet, of Tabusintac, referred to the difficulty of adopting this method with French speaking pupils. After hearing remarks by one or two others the subject was dismissed.

C. M. Hutchison, of Newcastle, then read an excellent paper on the subject of Geometry as developed by Wormell. He shewed that one is naturally wedded to an old system of working, but that when its faults were discovered it should be abandoned; Wormell's system was an improve-ment on Euclid's plan, and should, therefore, be adopted, because by means of illustration and experiment he developes gave on the blackboard a number of illustrations in connection with the subject treated, concluding with the demonstra-

Special to the "Miramichi Advance FREDERICTON, March 20, 1878. There was a long discussion this morning on Mr. Davidson's Bill to authorize Messrs. R. R. Call and John C. Miller, to erect a Telephone between Newcastle and Indiantown. The House showed every disposition to pass the Bill.

HON. ATTORNEY GENERAL raised several regime in support of Reporting progress

HON. ATTORNEY GENERAL raised several points in support of Reporting progress in order that amendments guarding public rights might be made. The Bill gave to Mesers. Call and Miller the right to enter upon public streets and roads lying between Newcastle and Indiantown for the purpose of putting up posts and erecting wire. He (Attorney General) shought there should be a provision requiring Corporators to transmit messages for the public, at fair rates, for, he said, no private firm ought to be allowed to use the public roads for putting up, posts or other obstructions which might, to a certain extent, inconvenience owners of private property, without giving the public some compensating advantage; at the same time, be recognised the enterprise and general public spirit of Mesers. Call and Miller, and would like to afford them every facility consistent with public interests. lity consistent with public interests.

Mr. Marshall said if any other parties desired to put up Telephone wire they said of letters to designate angles and sides.

This method saved time, and could be more easily followed and understood by members of the class.

Mr. C. M. Hutchison, of Newcastle, then illustrated another plan requiring the use of small letters only at the vertices of the angles. He had frequently adopted it to advantage.

Mr. E. P. Flewwelling, of Newcastle, then proceeded to illustrate his method of teaching Geography. He first illustrated delimatic changes induced by air currents from sea and land, the effects of mountain ranges, etc. He exhibited a very neat map of England, without written names. This map had been drawn by one of his own pupils. With maps drawn on this own pupils. With maps drawn on this

Mr. Davinson's Bill to authorize Northumberland County Councillors to receive pay for services at the Council was agreed to, it being understood that if the Bill recommended by Mr. Cottrell, applying this prevision to all the Counties of the Province passed, Mr. Davidson would arrest his Bill before it got to its final stage in the Upper House.

culture. Now, Sir, I don't grumble at the good of our neighbors but we do feel that but interests have been neglected; we have had to pay our share towards the builting of railroads which are of mo benefit to us farmers, and we naturally thought when the railroads were finished that there would be more attention given to the districts where there were no particular benefits received from provincial grants. We at least expected that our post roads and bridges would be kept in repair. Now, Mr. Editor, I am not complaining without good reason, and I hope you will put this in your valuable journal at that our representatives may see it, for they have not been to see us nor our roads these three or four years. A Northumberland Farmer. March 15th, '78.
