

EVIDENCE MAKES COLLINS SHAKY

Accused Murderer's Composure Shaken by Damaging Testimony-Miss McAuley's Property in His Valises -Watch He Garried Resembled Hers-Examination, Resumed Yesterday, Will Be Continued Today.

(Special to the Sun.) HOPEWELL CAPE, Sept., 27 .- The preliminary examination of Thomas September 11th, was resumed in the court house at 2 p. m. today before Stipendiary Magistrate Stuart. Hon. Mr. Tweedie and Clerk of Peace Dixon for the crown and J. C. Sherren, the prisoner's counsel, were in their places, and as usual a large assemblage of visitors were present, including many ladies, who pretty well filled the galleries. Miss McDonald, court stenographer, was in attendance, enabling the work of the examination to proceed with considerable dispatch. At the opening of the court the pris oner entered the room and composedly took his seat in the chair adjoining that of his counsel. Clean shaven and with his hair neatly brushed, and a pleasant expression which bordered on a smile on his countenance, the prisoner made a rather good appearance. He looked about the court room with nild interest and chatted with his counsel, smiling at the latter's remarks.

The prisoner's composure somewhat deserted him, however, during the rethey were. ital of some of the evidence, when he showed unmistakably the nervous strain under which he was laboring. The perspiration streamed down his face and he kept continually swinging one leg. His coolness under the trying circumstances is marvellous. William Williamson, the first witof Queens ness, being sworn, said he lived in New morning at Ireland and was one of the nearest 10 o'clock. A. E. Floyd, principal of neighbors of Father McAuley, with
