KIAO-CHOW MAY HOLD OUT FOR THREE MONTHS

Is Almost Impregnable from Sea, and Food Supply Sufficient for Long Siege.

Tokio, Aug. 30.—Military experts are said not to expect the fall of Kiao-Chow before the end of November, except by the voluntary capitulation of the Germans. The Germans are reported to be most formidable and virtually impregnable from the sea. The food fortifications do not follow the usual German methods but resemble those at Port Arthur. There are three lines of these defences. The food supply in Kiao-Chow is said to be ample for three months.

GERMANS SEND TROOPS BACK IN EFFORT TO CHECK RUSSIAN ADVANCE

Lord Kitchener, the British secretary for war, gives in detail the part played by British troops in the operations in Belgium and France. These operations extended from August 23 to August 26, and the British losses numbered in the neighborhood of 6,000. The condition and spirits of the British troops at the front are said to be excellent, and reinforcements have been sent up to more than fill the gaps created by the casualties.

A German aviator has appeared over Paris, and was engaged on Sunday in dropping bombs in a populous section of the city. Several of the bombs failed to explode, according to the accounts, and the only two persons injured were women.

Paris is preparing for a siege, should the lines opposing the Germans be broken. Enormous stocks of food have been placed in the state warehouses, and sheep and cattle in large numbers have been herded in the Bois De Boulogne.

A British official statement says that of the 1,200 men of the 13th Cavalry who were sent to Heligoland 330 were saved.

A Berlin despatch says that the German army is energetically pressing the Russians in the neighborhood of Allenstein, East Prussia.

That the French lines are still falling back before the German advance is indicated by an official statement issued by the French war office which says that the progress of the German right wing has obliged the French left to yield ground.

London, Aug. 30, 7:47 p.m.—The Exchange Telegraph Company's correspondent at Bari, Italy, says that the Italian government has arranged for the transportation of 10,000 fugitives who wish to leave Albania as soon as Prince William of Wied departs, as they fear anarchy.

Prince William has asked Italy to leave the army of the north of France at his disposal, as he may be forced to abandon the throne at any moment.

Russia Has More Men Mobilized than Required.

London, Aug. 30, 7:35 p.m.—A despatch to the Observer from St. Petersburg says the German railways in East Prussia had been re-laid on the Russian gauge and that the Russian communication between St. Petersburg and Linstenberg, in East Prussia, a short distance north of Gumbinnen.

"The Russians," the correspondent adds, "need waste no lives in an attempt to capture Königsberg, as it is easily isolated, and Russia is confident that she has mobilized more men than are immediately required can continue her advance."

A thousand Austrian prisoners have reached Kiev, and about eight hundred Germans have been brought to Moscow.

Several captured batteries of field guns have been brought to Vilna, Kiev and Moscow, while others, especially Maximas, have been turned over to regiments at the front for use against their former owners.

London, Aug. 30.—A despatch to the Times from Amiens, France, says that since Monday morning the British expeditionary force has been one of incredible rapidity, the Germans never giving the retreating British any moment of rest.

"The first great German effort has succeeded," says the correspondent. "We have to face the fact that the British expeditionary force requires immediate and immense reinforcements. The investment of Paris cannot be banished from the field of possibility."

London, Aug. 29.—5:09 p.m.—A despatch to the Reuter Telegram Company from Paris says an official communication given out in the French capital confirms previous reports that the Russians have completely invested Königsberg, in Eastern Prussia.

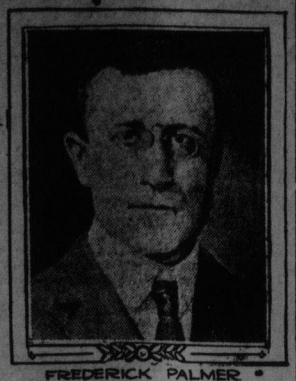

Bulletin—Paris, Aug. 30.—11 p.m.—"The progress of the German right wing has obliged us to yield ground on our left," says an official statement issued here tonight.

French Papers Pay Tribute to British.
Paris, Aug. 30, 10:48 p.m.—The Figaro today prints an article eulogizing the resistance offered at Tournai by 700 British troops against 5,000 Germans. Only 300 of the British troops returned to Calais, it says, the rest having fallen on the battle field.

The Figaro denounces the Germans for having, as it alleges, mounted cannon on Red Cross wagons. The paper says the simple narrative of the British resistance at Tournai is such that it will cause a thrill in every British heart from New Zealand to Alaska.

Seaport of Apia Surrenders to British.
London, Aug. 30.—The official information bureau announces that Apia, a seaport of Upolu, Samoa Island, capital of the German part of the group, surrendered on the morning of August 29 to a British force from New Zealand.

NOTED AMERICAN WAR CORRESPONDENT TO GO WITH BRITISH ARMY

FREDERICK PALMER

Mr. Frederick Palmer, well known as a war correspondent, has been designated to represent the Associated Press with the British forces on the continent of Europe. He is the only American correspondent permitted by the British War Office to take the field.

Mr. Palmer has seen more of the stern reality of war than probably any other man alive today. He has been under fire many times without number and has studied the complex tactics of the military authorities of nearly every nation.

Will Give Standard Readers the News from the Front.

Frederick Palmer, the well known war correspondent, has been designated to represent the Associated Press with the British forces on the continent of Europe, since he is the only American correspondent permitted by the British war office to take the field.

His services will necessarily be shared by the Associated Press with all the news associations in this country. The Standard will have all of Palmer's reports. It will be remembered that Palmer made a fine record during the war between Japan and Russia.

AVIATOR WARNS PARIS THE CITY MUST SURRENDER

London, Aug. 30, 11:53 p.m.—A Paris despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says: "A German aviator flew over Paris this afternoon and dropped five bombs which fell in the most populous quarter of the city. In one case two women were killed."

"One bomb fell in front of the shop of a baker and wine merchant, at the corner of Rue Albouy and Rue Des Vins Iriers; two on Quai De Valmy, one of which did not explode, the other struck the walls of the Night Refuge, behind St. Martin's Hospital. Two others dropped in the Rue Des Recollets and Rue Marcin, neither of which exploded."

The aviator, who signed himself Lt. Yna Iriers, dropped manifestos on which was written: "The German army is at the gates of Paris; you can do nothing but surrender."

NO CORRESPONDENTS AT FRONT, OFFICIAL BUREAU STATES

London, Aug. 30.—The official information bureau accompanied the publication of Lord Kitchener's long statement on the situation of the British army at the front today with a rap at the correspondents whose story purport to be made up of personal experiences on the battle line.

The bureau has issued an official statement this evening, describing the fortunes of the expeditionary force during the past few days. This statement, the terms of which have been carefully considered, accurately and fully describes the present position. The bureau has not found it necessary to forbid the publication of messages dealing with the recent operations, provided such messages neither gave away military information nor disclosed the organization or position of the troops.

"These messages, however, should be received with extreme caution. No correspondents are at the front and the information, however, honestly sent, is therefore derived at second or third hand from persons who often are in no condition to tell coherent stories, and who are certain to be without the perspective which is necessary to construct or understand the general situation."

"It is hoped that the statement issued tonight will dissipate any apprehensions caused by such reports, and restore the necessary perspective to the recent operations."

VATICAN DIMAYED AT NEWS FROM LOUVAIN
Rome, Aug. 30, via Paris, Aug. 30.—News of the destruction of Louvain by the Germans has caused dismay at the Vatican. Louvain being a great centre for Catholic studies, and also containing the American college for the education of young Americans preparing for priesthood.

for having, as it alleges, mounted cannon on Red Cross wagons. The paper says the simple narrative of the British resistance at Tournai is such that it will cause a thrill in every British heart from New Zealand to Alaska.

EMPIRE IS FIGHTING FOR RIGHT

Rev. H. A. Cody says Great Britain acted with honor in entering conflict.

England is not fighting the German people, but the mad ambition of the Kaiser and his war lords, said Rev. H. A. Cody, in the course of an interesting sermon on the National Obligation delivered in St. James' Anglican church, last evening. Mr. Cody took as his text the Psalm: "He that sweareth to a neighbor and does not disappoint him, even though it be to his hindrance, shall not fall."

He pointed out that England had pledged her word to protect the neutrality of Belgium, and the cause of England entering into the world conflict was Germany's violation of Belgium, in spite of the fact that that Power had also agreed to preserve Belgium neutrality. Honor between nations was as necessary as honor between individuals, and England in coming to the defence of Belgium had acted an honorable part. England had not disappointed her neighbor, and could not fall.

Mr. Cody said there was a parallel between ancient Greece when its various states fought their factions and rallied to defeat the Persians, and the position of the British Empire today. When Britain drew the sword in defence of her honor and the liberties of the people of her allies, all political faction ceased, and the various units of the Empire faced the issue in a marvellous and inspiring spirit of unity. He went on to declare that history would regard the present horrible war as the greatest in point of view of the issues involved ever fought. Britain was fighting for the triumph of issues vital to the well being of humanity.

Continuing, Mr. Cody said it was very probable that this war, involving so many nations and bringing home to the people of practically the whole world the horrors of war, disarranging industry and commerce and causing enormous loss of life and suffering, would so arouse the people that they would solve the problem of assuring a lasting peace. To Canadians who had lived in peace and security for so many years this war had brought home as nothing else could the awful sacrifice of blood which had been made in the past to procure us the liberties we enjoyed.

POPE'S DEATH BROUGHT ON BY THE WAR

Bishop LeBlanc at Boston Has Had Thrilling Experience—Come Over on Franconia.

Among the 1,700 war refugees arriving at Boston from England on the Cunarder Franconia yesterday was the Rev. E. A. LeBlanc, Catholic Bishop of St. John. Bishop LeBlanc had an audience with Pope Pius three weeks before the pontiff's death. "At that time," said Bishop LeBlanc, "the Holy Father was enjoying the best of health, but he was much worried about the war situation and was hoping against hope that hostilities might be prevented by the mediation of the Church. I feel certain that the death of Pope Pius was caused by the refusal of the chancellors of the warring nations to accept his good offices."

The bishop returned through Switzerland and France to England, and experienced much inconvenience in consequence of the closing of hotels and the tying up of railroads. For several days in France he had nothing but ham and crackers to eat. In one way he was more fortunate than fellow travellers on the Franconia. Many complained of being searched as spies. He escaped all that annoyance. The Franconia was so crowded that even the smoking room was used for sleeping purposes, but the passengers drew up a resolution of thanks to Capt. Miller, Bishop LeBlanc and the Rev. Milo H. Gates, of Trinity church, New York, heading it.
