

The regular monthly business meetings of the Association and weekly prayer meetings, after the school, have been very well attended.

In conclusion, we must again acknowledge God's great goodness to us in sparing us all to see the commencement of another year, none having been removed from our School by death since our last report.

We enter now hopefully into the work of the coming year, feeling sure that He who has so abundantly blessed us in the past will crown our future efforts with success.
