

The Standouts

CAM TROTTER

Trotter played an outstanding game for Dal in a losing cause. He gained 22 yards along the ground while playing offensively, and was sorely needed on defense as he made 12 tackles.

GORD MARLER

Marler scored Dal's only TD. He gained 38 yards net rushing, while making six tackles — some of them key ones, where he was the last man between the ball-carrier and the goal line.

JOHN MacKEIGAN

MacKeigan played his usual all-out for Dal, and shone on offense, as he rambled for 100 yards on 14 carries, three of these being 21, 23, and 27 yard jaunts.

Gord Marler has outdistanced the last of the Mounties' defenders for Dal's only touchdown of the game while a very delighted Dal end starts to clap. The touchdown tied the game at 6-6 but Mount A scored 33 more points to roll over Dal by a 39-6 margin.

Mt. A. Mudders Defeat Dal

Winter Carnival has its Snow Bowl, the AFC its Atlantic Bowl and Dalhousie had its second consecutive Mud Bowl when the brown shirts from Mount A defeated the brown shirts from Dal 39-6.

From the opening kickoff Mt. A marched up the field on 9 plays and scored on an 8 yard plunge. Bob Mullens broke through to block the convert. After the kickoff the teams were unable to move the ball due to the slippery conditions and exchanged punts with Dal taking over on their own 52.

DAL'S ONLY POINTS

Trotter carried for 8 and MacKeigan got 3 for the first down. On the next play MacKeigan lost 2. On a second and 12 play from midfield QB Mark Offman called a reverse, handing off to Mac-

Keigan who then handed off to Gord Marler. Marler ran around his own left end, picked up his blockers and ran to the 35 where he cut inside and outran the last of the defenders for the TD. McFarlane's convert attempt was blocked and the score was 6-6.

SECOND OF 6

After kicking off to Mt. A. the field began to take an ever increasing affect on the final score. On the first play from scrimmage Gregory, the Mt. A fullback went 65 yards along the sideline to set up Mt. A's second touchdown when 3 Dal players missed him at the line of scrimmage. The TD came 5 plays later and the convert was once again missed.

DOWN AND OUT

Despite being down 6 points Dal was still in the game until the last 5 minutes of play in the first half when Mt. A scored two quick unconverted touchdowns.

Dal came out fired up for the second half and kept the Mounties off the scoreboard in the third quarter except for a safety conceded by Marler late in the quarter.

The fourth quarter belonged solely to Mt. A. They picked off an Offman pass and turned it into an unconverted TD four plays later. When Dal were unable to move the ball after the kickoff the Mounties scored their last TD, converted on a pass play, after 7 plays from scrimmage, making it 39-6.

On the kickoff MacKeigan ran the ball 27 yards and could have gone all the way if it had been possible to determine one team's brown shirts from the other.
