Dear Sir: Re Mackenzie v Carlyle

Since writing you on the 9th inst., I have received a report from Messrs. Dun & Bradstreet of Canada Ltd. on John Logan Carlyle which reads as follows:

"As far as can be determined, Mr. Carlyle has never been a permanent resident in Vancouver but has spent short periods in the City. The last time he was here, was during the summer of 1934. He is a blacksmith by trade, aged about 50 and married. He is reported to have followed his trade at Oakland, California and also operated an express business there.
It is also understood that he gave financial backing to a large automobile concern in Los Angeles. He is reported to have considerable real estate holdings in California and to be a man of some means. He has stated to informants in Vancouver that on account of failing health he gave up active participation in business and has since spent his time in touring about the world. To the knowledge of informants here, he is the type of man that has always handled his obligations in a satisfactory manner. Informants here are not able to supply an address for him at the present time but it is their understanding that he is not now in Australia."

If there is anything else I can do in the matter please let me know.

Yours truly,

N.
