seed. Alfalfa does fairly well, and will be grown more in future.—W. J. S.

District No. 10, S. W.—Crops are looking good, the early wheat being nearly six inches in height. Practically all seeding is finished, except corn planting. All crops are as good as could be expected. Very little flax being put in this year. Rainfall slightly below normal, although there has been enough to keep the crops growing; but the soil is very dry, and crops would not stand a long dry spell. Crops depend entirely on rain, as the seed went in under ideal conditions, with the soil in splendid condition. Wheat has been damaged in some districts by the soil drifting. However, the later growth is gradually gaining, and nearly all places will give a crop, but with reduced yields in some cases. This spring has been exceptionally windy. A large increase in corn this year. A number of farmers are planting from 20 to 40 acres, with the intention of building silos in the fall. Past experiences have led them to believe that corn can be grown successfully. Alfalfa also being put in, but in smaller areas, the high price of seed being a drawback.—L. V. L.

District No. 10, East.—Growth was checked by frost a week ago, but is now in very good condition. Area of flax has not increased. Rainfall has been below normal, but due to previous rains the soil has optimum moisture content. Crop has not been damaged, growth only checked by few frosty nights. Very little corn is grown, but with good success. Alfalfa has been tried in several places. In most cases the farmers have not been able to get a good stand.—H. F. D.

District No. 11.—The condition of the crop in this district is No. 1. Things look good, but while the crops in general are not suffering for want of rain, in most parts a good rain would be very beneficial. The flax area has not increased since last report. There has been little or no rain in this district in the past month or six weeks. The crops are not damaged to any great extent in this part except the barley and oats in many places have been frosted a little, but nothing of a serious nature so far. The corn area in this district has been tripled over last year's area. In some townships over 200 acres have been sown to corn. I have observed several places of alfalfa, and samples taken from same show a growth of from 12 to 14 inches, and no winter-killing of any account has occurred. The farmers are taking strongly to the growing of corn this year. One or two farmers have as high as 40 acres in this crop, and areas of 15 and 20 acres are becoming quite common. On one farm I noticed a field of alfalfa, and the growth was about 14 inches on the average. So I feel that both corn and alfalfa are becoming popular with the best farmers.—W. S. G. W.

Gossip.

J. R. THOMPSON'S HACKNEY SALE.

The event of the year of interest to breeders of fancy harness horses will be the dispersion of the noted breeding stud of J. R. Thompson, Guelph, Ont., on Wednesday, June 23. Owing to ill health Mr. Thompson has decided to retire from the horse-breeding and exhibiting business, and on the date mentioned will sell the best collection of Hackney horses ever offered by auction in Canada, totaling, exclusive of foals, which will be sold with their dams, 28 head of breeding mares, one, two- and three-year-old fillies, three yearling stallions, and the six-year-old stallion, Warwick—615—, a son of the great sire of show animals, Warwick Model (imp.). Warwick Model (imp.) has sired more prizewinners at the big Canadian shows than any other Hackney stallion ever used in Canada. A number of the fillies to be sold are daughters of his. Others are daughters of the noted show stallion, Territorial Flashlight—181—. Practically all the breeding mares will be in foal or have foals at foot by these two great stallions. Among the offering are many prizewinners at Toronto, Guelph and Ottawa, including the Ottawa champion female of last fall, Dixie—992—. High-class pairs, singles, and saddlers, will go at the prices bid for them.
