Of the cheerfulness and optimism LOST—Between Mt. Hope Cemetery and centre of city, black purse before now; but it is doubtful if these characteristics are better exemplified anywhere than in the amateur newspapers which are produced at the front by various battalions and other units. A copy of "The Dead Horse Corner Gazette," the official journal of the First Canadian Infantry Brigade, has been received by the Courier proving been received by the Courier, proving to be a brilliant little publication, scin-tillating with humor and forcefulness. .. This "trench journal of breezy comment," is issued by permission of the general officer commanding the First Infantry Brigade, C. E. F., on active service, and its business manager is Lance Corporal Bob Cross, of the 4th Battalion, a Brantford boy. The of-fice of the Gazette is vaguely but appropriately given as "somewhere in Flanders, but liable to be moved to Berlin at short notice."

WHAT IT CONTAINS The Gazette contains brief articles and sketches of all kinds, purveying to its readers news from Canada and elsewhere, sporting news and other varieties, as well as humorous sketches of life at the front. Military information of any definite nature is conspicuous by its absence, as the publication is "passed by the chief censor of the first Canadian Division.

Although supposed to be issued monthly, it may well be understood that publication is often of necessity suspended for longer or shorter per-iods; in fact, the June issue contains the following "editor's apology:"
AN "APOLOGY."

"The present issue of the Gazette marks the re-appearance of the jour-nal after an interval of five months. The delay in publication is due to illness and other causes over which we have no control."

Numerous items there are in the paper which might prove of interest to Brantfordites, concerning as they RNEST R. READ—Barrister, Solicitor, Notary Public, etc. Money
