"You people are not fair with the Electric Light people and the Property Committee," said Geo. Findlay to The Planet this morning. "You keep publishing complaints about electric lights not being lit but you don't give the Property Committee credit when the lights are lit. Now I think they are to be complimented. For two nights in succession our light on Queen Street has been lit and that is considered by us a remarkably good record. Now the people ought to know that they were lit. I don't know whether they will be going to-night or not but we all hope for the best."

THE S. S. CENSUS

There was a fine muster of the church and Sunday school forces of the city last night in the school room of the First Presbyterian church at the call of the City Sunday School Association.

There is no more inspiring sight, and there is no more hopeful sign of the times than such a gathering of earnest and enthusiastic workers in the common cause, irrespective of sect or denomination.

Rev. Geo. H. Cobbleclik, B. A., B. D., the energetic and efficient president of the Association, conducted the opening devotional exercises, which included the singing of the rousing missionary hymns, "Whosoever Will" and "Bringing in of the Sheaves," led by Miss Carnovsky, Locomanist.

The president, in a short address, congratulated the ladies upon the unity of spirit and action manifested by such a large and representative gathering, and expressed great confidence that the results which will follow such a Christlike movement.

The superintendent of the census, D. S. Paterson, assisted by G. J. Peace, C. Austin, Dr. Musson, D. Crombie, M. Houston, D. McLachlan, Sunday school superintendents and the president, distributed in neatly arranged bundles charts of the territory, record books, and invitation cards, to the hundred and sixty workers, nearly every one of whom was present.

Every house in the city is to be visited on Friday afternoon, and five minute calls will be made. The citizens are asked to be "at home" to the visitors and expedite the arduous work which has been undertaken for the common good.

The routine of the work was explained by D. S. Paterson, who is in charge of the house to house canvass, and printed matter was portioned out to the different ladies, who will work in pairs. Each pair of ladies will have about 25 houses to call at. It is intended to call on everyone, no matter what church they attend, and ascertain how many are in each family of children, how many attend church and what church. The movement is purely of a non-sectarian and the object is to find out how many families in the city are not under the pastoral care of some minister and what children do not attend any Sunday School. It is hoped that the public will receive the ladies in a courteous manner, as it is a weighty object that is being attempted.

For this house to house canvass the city has been divided into sections with 80 sub-divisions in each. There are about 25 houses in each sub-division. The ladies will start out next Friday afternoon and will report to Mr. Paterson or to the superintendents of the different Sunday Schools. Rev. Mr. Cobbleclik is president, and G. J. Peace secretary of this association.

A POOR APOLOGY.

Toronto Mail.

The Globe's apology for the elevation of Sir Richard Cartwright to the senate is not half as hearty as the knight's defence of Perjury-procurer Jackson's appointment to office under him.
