

Miramichi Foundry, STEAM ENGINE & BOILER WORKS, CHATHAM, N. B.

JOSEPH M. RUDDOCK, PROPRIETOR

Steam Engines and Boilers, Mill Machinery of all kinds; Steamers of any size constructed and furnished, complete.

GANG EDGERS, SHINGLE and LATH MACHINES, CASTINGS OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS.

Iron Pipe, Valves and Fittings of all kinds.

Designs, Plans and Estimates Furnished on Application.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN NERVE TONIC AND Stomach and Liver Cure

The Most Astonishing Medical Discovery of the Last One Hundred Years. It is Pleasant to the Taste as the Sweetest Nectar. It is Safe and Harmless as the Purest Milk.

This wonderful Nerve Tonic has only recently been introduced into this country by the proprietors and manufacturers of the Great South American Nerve Tonic, and yet its great value as a curative agent has long been known by a few of the most learned physicians who have not brought its merits and value to the knowledge of the general public.

IT IS A GREAT REMEDY FOR THE CURE OF Nervousness, Broken Constitution, Debility of Old Age, Indigestion and Dyspepsia, Heartburn and Sour Stomach, Weight and Tenderness in Stomach, Loss of Appetite, Dizziness and Ringing in the Ears, Weakness of Extremities and Fainting, Impure and Impoverished Blood, Head and Carbacules, Scrofula, Scrofulous Swellings and Ulcers, Consumption of the Lungs, Catarrh of the Lungs, Bronchitis and Chronic Cough, Liver Complaint, Chronic Diarrhea, Catarrh of the Scrofulous Children, Pains in the Heart, Pains in the Back, Failing Health, Summer Complaint of Infants.

All these and many other complaints cured by this wonderful Nerve Tonic.

NERVOUS DISEASES.

As a cure for every class of Nervous Diseases, no remedy has been able to compare with the Nerve Tonic, which is very pleasant and harmless in all its effects upon the youngest child or the oldest and most delicate individual.

South American Rheumatic Cure for Rheumatism and Neuralgia radically cured in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits. 75 cts. Warranted by E. Lee Street.

A SWORN CURE FOR ST. VITUS' DANCE OR CHOLEA.

My daughter, eleven years old, was severely afflicted with St. Vitus' Dance or Cholea. We gave her a bottle of South American Nerve Tonic and she is completely restored. I believe it will cure every case of St. Vitus' Dance. I have kept it in my family for two years, and am sure it is the greatest remedy in the world for Indigestion and Dyspepsia, and for all forms of Nervous Disorders and Failing Health, from whatever cause.

JOHN T. MISH, Montgomery County, Ind.

INDIGESTION AND DYSPEPSIA.

The Great South American Nerve Tonic. Which we now offer is the only absolutely unfailing remedy ever discovered for the cure of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and the vast train of symptoms and horrors which are the result of disease and debility of the human stomach.

Large 16 ounce Bottle, $1.00. EVERY BOTTLE WARRANTED. E. LEE STREET, Wholesale and Retail Agent for Newcastle, N. B.

METEOROLOGICAL.

Reported for the Dominion Government by J. F. Connors.

JUNE

Table with columns: DATE, Hour of observation, Temperature (Barometric, Thermometric, Maximum, Minimum), Wind, Clouds, Rainfall.

The maximum and minimum column show the highest and lowest temperature in the 24 hours.

Miscellaneous.

M. J. Henry, of Toronto, Ont., says: I have been a great sufferer for years with catarrh, and have tried every remedy I heard of without obtaining relief, until I tried Hawker's Catarrh Cure, which gave me immediate relief and made a permanent cure.

Hawker's Catarrh Cure.

English Spain Liniment removes all head, soft or callosed Lumps and Blisters from horses, Blood Spavin, Girth, Splints, Ring Bone, Swelling, Scurf, Spavin, Sore and Swollen Throat, Coughs, etc. Save $50 by use of one bottle. Warranted by E. Lee Street.

Hawker's Catarrh Cure.

When Baby was sick, I gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became a Girl, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

What a pity, she said one morning.

'What a pity, she said one morning, to have so many apples decaying on the ground, when the poor people would be so glad to have them.'

'Mabel,' said papa, 'I'll give you leave to distribute them. You may give a basket-full to every poor child you see this week.'

'There's one now,' cried Mabel, as she saw Joel Barton going by.

'There's one now,' cried Mabel, as she saw Joel Barton going by the gate, with a basket full of apples. 'I'll give him a basket full of apples, and he'll be glad to take them.'

'Look here, Joel; do you want some apples?' cried Mabel.

'Thank you, miss, I'm sure my mother would like some. Apples would be good for her. I'll give her a basket full of apples, and she'll be glad to take them.'

'Well, come here and fill your basket. There's that enough from this tree. Now we'll go over to the other orchard and get some lovely sweet ones for you to eat.'

'Sweet ones are the kind to bake, miss,' said Joel.

'You seem to understand about the cooking, little boy,' laughed Mabel.

'Oh, I know all my mother does,' said Joel; 'I watch her, and I hear her tell. I know how to bake sweet apples myself. My mother says they are good for her.'

'Who's Mary? And what's the matter with her?'

'She's my sister, and she's sick and weak.'

'I'm glad you told me; I'll send her something special. Here's a lovely red apple for her to eat. Give it to her, with my love, and when these are gone come and get some more; will you?'

'Yes, and thank you, miss.'

Mabel watched for a week, and gave the apples to many poor boys and girls, and when the week was over she did not want to stop.

'I guess Mabel has gotten more good this week than the poor folks have,' said Farmer Oxington to his wife; 'which was very much like a verse in the Bible.'

Can you think what it is? It is more blessed to give than to receive.'

QUICKNESS OF THE LOONS.

The loon is the quickest living creature. A loon that has had experience can dodge the fish of a gun. You see a loon on a lake, but long before you see him he is under the water.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

There is no complaint so offensive, disagreeable and unhealthy as catarrh. The offensive discharge from the diseased membrane irritates the blood, disturbs and sicken the stomach and in many cases induce fatal lung troubles. If afflicted do not trifle with it, Hawker's Catarrh Cure is a perfect and positive cure, try it. Sold everywhere, only 25 cents.

First Edition to the gentleman who the lady on his arm - 'Kiss, kiss!' 'It's beginning to rain.'

Second Edition to the couple who on the street - 'What do you want to waste your breath for? I know she was only his sister.'

Hawker's Catarrh Cure.

Don't you think it must be jolly when the moon won't rise, and you have an owl's round eye, and he'll appear all right on his arrival by express, his soon showed signs that told plainly that something wrong was the matter with him.

Hours Corner.

'I DO.'

Don't you think it must be jolly when the rain comes down, and you have a duck and a cat, and though the showers fall as if a sea had been upset, and they only trickle off him, and he can't get wet.

Don't you think it must be jolly when the dust blows high, and you have a fitting swallow in the deep blue sky?

For all he has to do is just to beat his little wings.

And you have the dusty earth his light Latin springs.

Don't you think it must be jolly when the moon won't rise, and you have an owl's round eye, and he'll appear all right on his arrival by express, his soon showed signs that told plainly that something wrong was the matter with him.

It appeared dull and listless, his feathers were rough, and he refused to eat, remaining on the ground with his head down.

He had no previous experience of such symptoms, I'll bet back his father, examined his skin, and found, as might be expected, that he was the cause of so much 'poor luck' in poultry keeping, being responsible much more largely than many ever dream for the pestilence in laying, failure to grow, lack of stamina, and in many cases a total loss of tows, etc., etc.

I can put an end to that cockerel's trouble by filling his feathers with cod ashes, against the penetrating quality of which such vermin have no chance whatever. There is perhaps no dust so fine as some of the finest you can get on a rusty look. An easy scheme for keeping them clean and bright is given in the Clamman Republican by one whose own fair-gem testifies to the value of his plan. It says: 'With a piece of fine, rip-banana I can not only keep russet sleek clean, but I can keep them polished as well. I simply take a piece of banana and brush the feathers with it, and then polish it with a cloth. In this way all the discolourations are removed and a polish is obtained.' - Troy Times.

A NEW USE FOR BANANAS.

One of the drawbacks to the repairing of russet shoes is the fact that they are so easily on a rusty look. An easy scheme for keeping them clean and bright is given in the Clamman Republican by one whose own fair-gem testifies to the value of his plan. It says: 'With a piece of fine, rip-banana I can not only keep russet sleek clean, but I can keep them polished as well. I simply take a piece of banana and brush the feathers with it, and then polish it with a cloth. In this way all the discolourations are removed and a polish is obtained.' - Troy Times.

OLLING SHEARS.

If you shear squeak or band with it you are using them, run your finger lightly down the side of your nose and rub it over the inside of the blades, and the scissors will generally work as easily and noiselessly as any you could desire. There is a little bit of oil collected in the corners on the outside of the blades, and these who know it can 'oil up' squeaky shears without trouble or without the use of anything so disagreeable as kerosene. Another simple way to accomplish the same end is to draw the blades of the shears over the hair, on which, when it is healthy, there is always a little oil. - Writer.

BARNY NEAR DWELLINGS.

The common plan of making for a barnyard the best part near the house is a bad one. It is a source of annoyance and expense, and it is a source of danger to the health of the family. It is a source of danger to the health of the family. It is a source of danger to the health of the family.

MAKE SOIL RICHER.

There seems to be no occupation in life where men are so generally averse to pay out money (or its equivalent) for benefits to be received a little later on, as a farmer. He is averse to pay out money for the land in order that it may produce more abundantly. Take green manuring, for instance. If a man sows a crop for the purpose, and the time he changes his mind when it is grown and harvest and sells it, and then, not withstanding the fact that unless stock feeding enters largely into his system of operations, green manure must be his main dependence for continued or increasing prosperity.

We do not begin to make use of this means to supply fertility as we should if we could bring ourselves to pursue a more open-handed policy with our lands. We might often put in a catch crop of oats, rye or clover, where last year's crop had been exhausted, and by turning them under and plowing them in we should be able to pay out less for fertilizer in future years. The general farmer is always on the safe side in green manuring, though he may be a stock-keeper also, for if he grows and harvests crops with the purpose of feeding them out, he is returning the manure to the land, the chances are that his appliances for saving the product are so inadequate that not half of it gets where it is needed. Good farming is generally seen for a number of years. The gain to be derived from their use will depend upon the amount of available phosphorus in the soil, and our farm is a good job in this matter but that a

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

There is no complaint so offensive, disagreeable and unhealthy as catarrh. The offensive discharge from the diseased membrane irritates the blood, disturbs and sicken the stomach and in many cases induce fatal lung troubles. If afflicted do not trifle with it, Hawker's Catarrh Cure is a perfect and positive cure, try it. Sold everywhere, only 25 cents.

First Edition to the gentleman who the lady on his arm - 'Kiss, kiss!' 'It's beginning to rain.'

Second Edition to the couple who on the street - 'What do you want to waste your breath for? I know she was only his sister.'

Hawker's Catarrh Cure.

Don't you think it must be jolly when the moon won't rise, and you have an owl's round eye, and he'll appear all right on his arrival by express, his soon showed signs that told plainly that something wrong was the matter with him.

Hours Corner.

'I DO.'

Don't you think it must be jolly when the rain comes down, and you have a duck and a cat, and though the showers fall as if a sea had been upset, and they only trickle off him, and he can't get wet.

Don't you think it must be jolly when the dust blows high, and you have a fitting swallow in the deep blue sky?

For all he has to do is just to beat his little wings.

And you have the dusty earth his light Latin springs.

Don't you think it must be jolly when the moon won't rise, and you have an owl's round eye, and he'll appear all right on his arrival by express, his soon showed signs that told plainly that something wrong was the matter with him.

It appeared dull and listless, his feathers were rough, and he refused to eat, remaining on the ground with his head down.

He had no previous experience of such symptoms, I'll bet back his father, examined his skin, and found, as might be expected, that he was the cause of so much 'poor luck' in poultry keeping, being responsible much more largely than many ever dream for the pestilence in laying, failure to grow, lack of stamina, and in many cases a total loss of tows, etc., etc.

I can put an end to that cockerel's trouble by filling his feathers with cod ashes, against the penetrating quality of which such vermin have no chance whatever. There is perhaps no dust so fine as some of the finest you can get on a rusty look. An easy scheme for keeping them clean and bright is given in the Clamman Republican by one whose own fair-gem testifies to the value of his plan. It says: 'With a piece of fine, rip-banana I can not only keep russet sleek clean, but I can keep them polished as well. I simply take a piece of banana and brush the feathers with it, and then polish it with a cloth. In this way all the discolourations are removed and a polish is obtained.' - Troy Times.

A NEW USE FOR BANANAS.

One of the drawbacks to the repairing of russet shoes is the fact that they are so easily on a rusty look. An easy scheme for keeping them clean and bright is given in the Clamman Republican by one whose own fair-gem testifies to the value of his plan. It says: 'With a piece of fine, rip-banana I can not only keep russet sleek clean, but I can keep them polished as well. I simply take a piece of banana and brush the feathers with it, and then polish it with a cloth. In this way all the discolourations are removed and a polish is obtained.' - Troy Times.

OLLING SHEARS.

If you shear squeak or band with it you are using them, run your finger lightly down the side of your nose and rub it over the inside of the blades, and the scissors will generally work as easily and noiselessly as any you could desire. There is a little bit of oil collected in the corners on the outside of the blades, and these who know it can 'oil up' squeaky shears without trouble or without the use of anything so disagreeable as kerosene. Another simple way to accomplish the same end is to draw the blades of the shears over the hair, on which, when it is healthy, there is always a little oil. - Writer.

BARNY NEAR DWELLINGS.

The common plan of making for a barnyard the best part near the house is a bad one. It is a source of annoyance and expense, and it is a source of danger to the health of the family. It is a source of danger to the health of the family. It is a source of danger to the health of the family.

MAKE SOIL RICHER.

There seems to be no occupation in life where men are so generally averse to pay out money (or its equivalent) for benefits to be received a little later on, as a farmer. He is averse to pay out money for the land in order that it may produce more abundantly. Take green manuring, for instance. If a man sows a crop for the purpose, and the time he changes his mind when it is grown and harvest and sells it, and then, not withstanding the fact that unless stock feeding enters largely into his system of operations, green manure must be his main dependence for continued or increasing prosperity.

We do not begin to make use of this means to supply fertility as we should if we could bring ourselves to pursue a more open-handed policy with our lands. We might often put in a catch crop of oats, rye or clover, where last year's crop had been exhausted, and by turning them under and plowing them in we should be able to pay out less for fertilizer in future years. The general farmer is always on the safe side in green manuring, though he may be a stock-keeper also, for if he grows and harvests crops with the purpose of feeding them out, he is returning the manure to the land, the chances are that his appliances for saving the product are so inadequate that not half of it gets where it is needed. Good farming is generally seen for a number of years. The gain to be derived from their use will depend upon the amount of available phosphorus in the soil, and our farm is a good job in this matter but that a

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

There is no complaint so offensive, disagreeable and unhealthy as catarrh. The offensive discharge from the diseased membrane irritates the blood, disturbs and sicken the stomach and in many cases induce fatal lung troubles. If afflicted do not trifle with it, Hawker's Catarrh Cure is a perfect and positive cure, try it. Sold everywhere, only 25 cents.

First Edition to the gentleman who the lady on his arm - 'Kiss, kiss!' 'It's beginning to rain.'

Second Edition to the couple who on the street - 'What do you want to waste your breath for? I know she was only his sister.'

Hawker's Catarrh Cure.

Don't you think it must be jolly when the moon won't rise, and you have an owl's round eye, and he'll appear all right on his arrival by express, his soon showed signs that told plainly that something wrong was the matter with him.

Hours Corner.

'I DO.'

Don't you think it must be jolly when the rain comes down, and you have a duck and a cat, and though the showers fall as if a sea had been upset, and they only trickle off him, and he can't get wet.

Don't you think it must be jolly when the dust blows high, and you have a fitting swallow in the deep blue sky?

For all he has to do is just to beat his little wings.

And you have the dusty earth his light Latin springs.

Don't you think it must be jolly when the moon won't rise, and you have an owl's round eye, and he'll appear all right on his arrival by express, his soon showed signs that told plainly that something wrong was the matter with him.

It appeared dull and listless, his feathers were rough, and he refused to eat, remaining on the ground with his head down.

He had no previous experience of such symptoms, I'll bet back his father, examined his skin, and found, as might be expected, that he was the cause of so much 'poor luck' in poultry keeping, being responsible much more largely than many ever dream for the pestilence in laying, failure to grow, lack of stamina, and in many cases a total loss of tows, etc., etc.

I can put an end to that cockerel's trouble by filling his feathers with cod ashes, against the penetrating quality of which such vermin have no chance whatever. There is perhaps no dust so fine as some of the finest you can get on a rusty look. An easy scheme for keeping them clean and bright is given in the Clamman Republican by one whose own fair-gem testifies to the value of his plan. It says: 'With a piece of fine, rip-banana I can not only keep russet sleek clean, but I can keep them polished as well. I simply take a piece of banana and brush the feathers with it, and then polish it with a cloth. In this way all the discolourations are removed and a polish is obtained.' - Troy Times.

A NEW USE FOR BANANAS.

One of the drawbacks to the repairing of russet shoes is the fact that they are so easily on a rusty look. An easy scheme for keeping them clean and bright is given in the Clamman Republican by one whose own fair-gem testifies to the value of his plan. It says: 'With a piece of fine, rip-banana I can not only keep russet sleek clean, but I can keep them polished as well. I simply take a piece of banana and brush the feathers with it, and then polish it with a cloth. In this way all the discolourations are removed and a polish is obtained.' - Troy Times.

OLLING SHEARS.

If you shear squeak or band with it you are using them, run your finger lightly down the side of your nose and rub it over the inside of the blades, and the scissors will generally work as easily and noiselessly as any you could desire. There is a little bit of oil collected in the corners on the outside of the blades, and these who know it can 'oil up' squeaky shears without trouble or without the use of anything so disagreeable as kerosene. Another simple way to accomplish the same end is to draw the blades of the shears over the hair, on which, when it is healthy, there is always a little oil. - Writer.

BARNY NEAR DWELLINGS.

The common plan of making for a barnyard the best part near the house is a bad one. It is a source of annoyance and expense, and it is a source of danger to the health of the family. It is a source of danger to the health of the family. It is a source of danger to the health of the family.

There is no complaint so offensive, disagreeable and unhealthy as catarrh. The offensive discharge from the diseased membrane irritates the blood, disturbs and sicken the stomach and in many cases induce fatal lung troubles. If afflicted do not trifle with it, Hawker's Catarrh Cure is a perfect and positive cure, try it. Sold everywhere, only 25 cents.

First Edition to the gentleman who the lady on his arm - 'Kiss, kiss!' 'It's beginning to rain.'

Second Edition to the couple who on the street - 'What do you want to waste your breath for? I know she was only his sister.'

Hawker's Catarrh Cure.

Don't you think it must be jolly when the moon won't rise, and you have an owl's round eye, and he'll appear all right on his arrival by express, his soon showed signs that told plainly that something wrong was the matter with him.

Hours Corner.

'I DO.'

Don't you think it must be jolly when the rain comes down, and you have a duck and a cat, and though the showers fall as if a sea had been upset, and they only trickle off him, and he can't get wet.

Don't you think it must be jolly when the dust blows high, and you have a fitting swallow in the deep blue sky?

For all he has to do is just to beat his little wings.

And you have the dusty earth his light Latin springs.

Don't you think it must be jolly when the moon won't rise, and you have an owl's round eye, and he'll appear all right on his arrival by express, his soon showed signs that told plainly that something wrong was the matter with him.

It appeared dull and listless, his feathers were rough, and he refused to eat, remaining on the ground with his head down.

He had no previous experience of such symptoms, I'll bet back his father, examined his skin, and found, as might be expected, that he was the cause of so much 'poor luck' in poultry keeping, being responsible much more largely than many ever dream for the pestilence in laying, failure to grow, lack of stamina, and in many cases a total loss of tows, etc., etc.

I can put an end to that cockerel's trouble by filling his feathers with cod ashes, against the penetrating quality of which such vermin have no chance whatever. There is perhaps no dust so fine as some of the finest you can get on a rusty look. An easy scheme for keeping them clean and bright is given in the Clamman Republican by one whose own fair-gem testifies to the value of his plan. It says: 'With a piece of fine, rip-banana I can not only keep russet sleek clean, but I can keep them polished as well. I simply take a piece of banana and brush the feathers with it, and then polish it with a cloth. In this way all the discolourations are removed and a polish is obtained.' - Troy Times.

A NEW USE FOR BANANAS.

One of the drawbacks to the repairing of russet shoes is the fact that they are so easily on a rusty look. An easy scheme for keeping them clean and bright is given in the Clamman Republican by one whose own fair-gem testifies to the value of his plan. It says: 'With a piece of fine, rip-banana I can not only keep russet sleek clean, but I can keep them polished as well. I simply take a piece of banana and brush the feathers with it, and then polish it with a cloth. In this way all the discolourations are removed and a polish is obtained.' - Troy Times.

OLLING SHEARS.

If you shear squeak or band with it you are using them, run your finger lightly down the side of your nose and rub it over the inside of the blades, and the scissors will generally work as easily and noiselessly as any you could desire. There is a little bit of oil collected in the corners on the outside of the blades, and these who know it can 'oil up' squeaky shears without trouble or without the use of anything so disagreeable as kerosene. Another simple way to accomplish the same end is to draw the blades of the shears over the hair, on which, when it is healthy, there is always a little oil. - Writer.

BARNY NEAR DWELLINGS.

The common plan of making for a barnyard the best part near the house is a bad one. It is a source of annoyance and expense, and it is a source of danger to the health of the family. It is a source of danger to the health of the family. It is a source of danger to the health of the family.

MAKE SOIL RICHER.

There seems to be no occupation in life where men are so generally averse to pay out money (or its equivalent) for benefits to be received a little later on, as a farmer. He is averse to pay out money for the land in order that it may produce more abundantly. Take green manuring, for instance. If a man sows a crop for the purpose, and the time he changes his mind when it is grown and harvest and sells it, and then, not withstanding the fact that unless stock feeding enters largely into his system of operations, green manure must be his main dependence for continued or increasing prosperity.

We do not begin to make use of this means to supply fertility as we should if we could bring ourselves to pursue a more open-handed policy with our lands. We might often put in a catch crop of oats, rye or clover, where last year's crop had been exhausted, and by turning them under and plowing them in we should be able to pay out less for fertilizer in future years. The general farmer is always on the safe side in green manuring, though he may be a stock-keeper also, for if he grows and harvests crops with the purpose of feeding them out, he is returning the manure to the land, the chances are that his appliances for saving the product are so inadequate that not half of it gets where it is needed. Good farming is generally seen for a number of years. The gain to be derived from their use will depend upon the amount of available phosphorus in the soil, and our farm is a good job in this matter but that a

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

There is no complaint so offensive, disagreeable and unhealthy as catarrh. The offensive discharge from the diseased membrane irritates the blood, disturbs and sicken the stomach and in many cases induce fatal lung troubles. If afflicted do not trifle with it, Hawker's Catarrh Cure is a perfect and positive cure, try it. Sold everywhere, only 25 cents.

First Edition to the gentleman who the lady on his arm - 'Kiss, kiss!' 'It's beginning to rain.'

Second Edition to the couple who on the street - 'What do you want to waste your breath for? I know she was only his sister.'

Hawker's Catarrh Cure.

Don't you think it must be jolly when the moon won't rise, and you have an owl's round eye, and he'll appear all right on his arrival by express, his soon showed signs that told plainly that something wrong was the matter with him.

Hours Corner.

'I DO.'

Don't you think it must be jolly when the rain comes down, and you have a duck and a cat, and though the showers fall as if a sea had been upset, and they only trickle off him, and he can't get wet.

Don't you think it must be jolly when the dust blows high, and you have a fitting swallow in the deep blue sky?

For all he has to do is just to beat his little wings.

And you have the dusty earth his light Latin springs.

Don't you think it must be jolly when the moon won't rise, and you have an owl's round eye, and he'll appear all right on his arrival by express, his soon showed signs that told plainly that something wrong was the matter with him.