

H.P. SAUCE

The skilful blending of rich Oriental fruits—choice aromatic spices—and Pure Malt Vinegar is the real secret of H.P.'s excellence.

H.P. Sauce is prepared at the largest Malt Vinegar Brewery in the world—the Midland Vinegar Brewery, Birmingham, England.

The Vinegar for H.P. is so brewed as to bring out to perfection the rare, appetising qualities of the other ingredients. How well this has been done you cannot know—until you try H.P.

Order a trial bottle of H.P. Sauce to-day.

LONDON, April 24.
An anti-Home Rule amendment to the Veto Bill, proposing to exclude from the operation of the measure "any bill to establish a separate Parliament and Executive for Ireland," was moved to-day by J. B. Lonsdale, Unionist member for Mid Armagh.

The House was crowded. In introducing the amendment to the Bill, which was intended to restrict the powers of the Lords over Legislation originating in the first Chamber, Mr. Lonsdale said that he desired to see the question of Home Rule removed from the controversy over the reform of the Lords. The Government was at the mercy of the Nationalists, whose object was to smash the constitution in order to dismember the Empire by driving Ireland into national independence. Ramsay MacDonald, the Socialist-Labour leader, supported the Nationalists, and contended that the Labourites were wholly in favour of the demands made for Ireland. He believed that the projected "Treaty of Peace with America" had been made possible by the promise of Home Rule for Ireland. Premier Asquith gave the House to understand clearly that the Cabinet was unwaveringly of the opinion that the electors had returned them to power with full knowledge that they would give Ireland a measure of Home Rule. The opposition campaign of "Dollar Dictators" further emphasized the fact that Home Rule was an issue of the Election. He repudiated the suggestion that there was an trickery or deceit on the part of the Government, and left no doubt as to his intention to abide by his pledge, and introduce some sort of Home Rule. Mr. Balfour spoke in favour of Mr. Lonsdale's amendment. The Government, he said, had hidden Home Rule in the background during the elections. Now having attained power, they were going to force Home Rule down the throats of the people, who, he believed, if the issue were placed before them, would reject it, as they did in 1885 and 1893.

Should Be Stopped.

The people of Brien Street complain that in an unprovoked manner there boys congregated nightly and especially on Sundays and indulge in horse play. They yell like Commanche Indians, throw stones, and otherwise misconduct themselves and are a great annoyance to the residents. The police should get after them.

Narrow Escape.

Two boats that were seal hunting on Monday last had a narrow escape from perishing. In one was Mr. Rodgers and companion, and in the other Mr. Parsons (all of the Arm). They had rowed some thirteen miles off to the edge of the ice when the wind began to blow heavily from about North. Parsons' boat held to the edge of the ice till they reached Baccallen, when they were able to reach shelter. Rodgers' boat on the other hand attempted to reach the Arm direct. So heavy was the loup that they were compelled to row their boats stern foremost, keeping her bow to the wind the whole 12 miles, and many times were in danger of being swamped as they had two seals in the boat.—Sun.

Nasty Accident.

Mr. Andrew Loveridge juts escaped sustaining a very serious accident on Wednesday last. He was in the act of taking some boiling pitch to a boat he was repairing, and while doing so he accidentally slipped on the longers of the flake, and in falling part of the contents of the pot met him full in the face, causing ugly burns which will confine him to his home for several days. It was feared he would lose the sight of one eye, at first but can now see all right.

One side of his face is covered with bladders, and how he escaped more serious burns is a miracle.—Sun.

Boy Miraculously Escaped Death.

Victor Myatt, aged ten years, narrowly escaped being crushed to death shortly before six o'clock yesterday afternoon. The little fellow was playing around the Grafton Street Methodist Church and was amusing himself by swinging on one of the large iron gates in front of the Church when one of the immense pillars broke away from its foundation and fell into the street. The boy fell with the gate and pillar and it was at first thought that he had been killed. The boy fortunately was not struck by the post, but the gate fell on top of him.

He was picked up and removed to the Victoria General Hospital, where it was found that he was suffering with a severe compound fracture of the leg, but otherwise was all right. Dr. Chisholm, assisted by Dr. Macdonnell of the Hospital staff, operated on the boy and plated the injured leg.

How he escaped being instantly killed was a miracle, as the pillar and the section of the gate that fell weigh in the vicinity of half a ton.—Halifax Chronicle.

An Enjoyable Time.

The programme rendered at the George St. A. B. C. in the Presbyterian Hall last night was a very enjoyable one. It was the semi-annual "At Home." Mr. C. Pratt, President of the Class, acted as Chairman. About 160 young people were present. Mr. Roy Kendall acted as accompanist. Songs were rendered in good style by Messrs. H. V. Tuff, S. Green, C. R. Steer, W. King, H. Courtenay, Miss Christian; recitations by Mr. G. Rabbitts, P. Butler and R. Hearder, and Mr. and Miss Green gave a duet. After the concert tea was served, followed by games, etc. The enjoyable gathering closed at midnight with "God Save the King."

Mr. H. Tuff's Farewell

Mr. H. V. Tuff, the popular hairdresser, who is leaving for Alberta in a few days, will give a farewell concert in the Methodist College Hall Wednesday night. During the past ten years Mr. Tuff has given his services freely and generously in singing at concerts for church and charitable purposes, and particularly for the city brigades. It would be only right then that his benefit concert should be largely attended by those who have had his willing help in the past. His going will create a void in musical circles.

A. & S. Rodger

American Officer Murdered in Manila.

MANILA, April 17.—Lieut. Walter H. Rodney of the Second United States Cavalry, stationed in the Aguilar Barracks, was murdered to-day by a Moro Juramentado, who crazed with religious passion, ran amuck thirsting for the blood of a Christian. The assassin belongs to the Mohammedan sect of Juramentados, who have taken an inviolable oath to shed the blood of the hated Christians. They know no fear believing that the performance of what they consider a religious duty if resulting in their own death, will be rewarded with eternal bliss. The fanatic was armed with a bolo and as he tore through the streets those who saw him fled in terror. He encountered Rodney seemingly by chance and struck him down before the officer could defend himself.
