The Symbol of Clean-cut Modern Manhood

By making shaving so easy, the Gillette Safety Razor has done much to develop the typical man of to-day—that strong, aggressive, successful individual who scorns to disguise his features with a beard or to appear with an unkempt stubble on cheek or chin.

Shaving with the Gillette takes but three refreshing minutes. You waste no time honing or stropping—or fuming in the barber's waiting row. The Gillette makes home shaving so easy and luxurious that it is no more a task, but an agreeable incident in the morning toilet.

There are over 40 Gillette styles from which to choose. Standard Sets, like the illustration, cost $5.00—Pocket Editions $3.00 to $6.00—Combination Sets, with brush, soap and other toilet articles, run from $6.50 up. From the assortment which your Hardware Dealer, Druggist or Jeweler can show you, buy a Gillette—you'll enjoy it.

Memorial

Of the Fishermen of the West Coast of Newfoundland, to the Fish Buying Merchants of Halifax, N.S.

The fishermen of the West Coast of Newfoundland have decided that if the herring fishery is to be and continue a remunerative employment for them, a drastic change must be made in the regulations governing the fishery, and the methods employed in the pack. They have therefore decided to ask the Newfoundland Government, to, by Minute of Council Order:

1st.—That every fisherman engaged in catching and curing herring must first obtain a license from the Government.

2nd.—That these licenses be numbered and that the license No., the place of origin and the grade if possible, be stamped indelibly on each barrel.

This will place the responsibility for badly cured fish, where it naturally belongs, viz., on the fisherman responsible for the bad pack.

The fishermen are aware, that, granted a good pack, if the package in which the fish are put up is not sound, the care of the packer is in vain and his labor is wasted; they have therefore decided to begin the improvement of the pack by improving the package.

Notwithstanding all this, the West Coast fishermen realize that, unless the Merchants who market our herring are willing to co-operate by giving proper care to the fish after they reach their hands, most of our labor will be vain and we shall not obtain the results for which we strive.

It is a well known fact, that some of our herring leave Newfoundland in No. 1 shape, but, after having lain for some months in store in Halifax, reach the West India market in anything but good condition. Some of this may be caused by rough handling in placing the barrels in, or removing them from bulk; hoops become started, the package starts leaking and if not attended to, its contents must certainly be spoiled.

Large quantities of our herring reach Halifax in the intense heat of July. They are dumped on the wharves and often remain there, exposed to the blazing sun, for fortnights and sometimes for months.

This is enough to cook the fish in the barrels and is certainly a practice which can not be too severely condemned.

The West Coast Newfoundland herring packers therefore submit, that it is not enough, that the package and the cure be good, an important point still remains, this is the care which should be taken of the catch after it has reached the fish dealers' hands.

On behalf of the Fishermen's Committee.

(Signed) —
A. J. O'REILLY, Chairman Public Meeting.
D. J. BETHUNE, M.D., Secretary.

To be sent to Halifax Fish Merchants.

WHEREAS, the West Coast fishermen are taking steps for the improving of the cure of herring;

AND WHEREAS, they realize that they are not wholly to blame for the condition in which their fish reach the West India market;

AND WHEREAS, in the past much damage to the quality of the pack has been caused by the handling they receive while in the hands of the Halifax Merchants.

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED, that a printed or typewritten copy of the memorial, signed by representatives of the fishermen, be sent to the fish buyers in Halifax.

A Versatil Citizen.

Apropos of our article published in Thursday evening's Telegram and headed "Tramps and Novelists," it may be interesting to state that right here in our midst is a young man who has engaged in as many and as varied occupations as any of those referred to in the article. Mr. Arthur English (who particularly distinguished himself in his criticism of "Newfoundland in 1911," and who is a graceful and facile writer), has been a furniture finisher, sailor, cook, fisherman, school teacher, travelling salesman, pioneer farmer, hunter and trapper, explorer, prospector, railroad engineer, miner, fireman, private secretary and poultry farmer. In each of these occupations he earned a livelihood in a bona fide manner and is now engaged on a newspaper, being appointed recently Assistant Editor of the "Advocate," in which we congratulate him. He has had his share of adventures in filling these varied positions and more than one thrilling escape was his in travelling by land and water. In the forest and over the barren mountains and glaciers of the Arctic. Mr. English is still on the sunny side of forty, and his career proves that a man may have a varied experience though still young.

Hr. Grace Notes.

We were glad to see Rev. F. S. Coffin out yesterday after his recent illness. The friends of the Rev. gentleman will be pleased to know he is fast improving.

The s.s. Bloodhound, Captain Jesse Winsor, arrived in port at 10.45 this a.m. The whistles of the Harbor Grace B. & S. and that of the Archibald Factory gave her a welcoming blast as she rounded the Point of Beach. The Bloodhound hailed for 10,000, about the weight of 13,000 seals. Two young hood seals were brought in alive and were very much admired by a lot of people, school-children included, on board this morning. All the crew are well.

Hon. Donald Morison, Minister of Justice, who spent the past few days here, returned to St. John's by this morning's train. His son Mr. Robert Morison, will remain here for the present in the office of the Archibald Bros. shoe factory.

The "At Home" held in the Academy Hall on Wednesday night, by the Society of the Children of Mary, was a grand success. The proceeds were for repairs to the Convent. Quite a nice sum was realized.

The K. E. Brigade held a dance at their armoury last night which was a very enjoyable affair. About fifty couples attended, and dancing was kept up until two o'clock this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Parsons have our sympathy in the death of their only daughter Flora Frances, aged one year. The little one passed away yesterday morning, after a few days illness.

The past few fine days have sent our farmers to work in real earnest. The ground is being ploughed, fences fixed up, manure hauled and all other work in connection with Agriculture pushed ahead.

Miss Butt, of Victoria Street School, took her scholars countrywards on Wednesday afternoon, and part of the day's lessons were heard in the open country. This is a good idea, and one that must be enjoyed by both teacher and scholars. Miss Butt is very thoughtful of the children's interest and we hear intends to spend many afternoons in the country during the summer.

Miss Susie Sheppard, daughter of Mr. Jordan Sheppard, after eight months spent pleasantly here with her parents and friends returned to Boston by Tuesday's train to enter the same employ where she spent several years. Reports say that Culp had pressed an electrician in to his service, and Miss Sheppard will return in a year and settle down in her native town. She is a popular young lady, and a number of her friends were at the station to see her off, and to express best wishes for her success.

It is a gentle, invigorating stimulant and tonic that influences for good every important organ of the body. It is a remedy that should be in every family medicine chest. ## When The Dumb Speak.

Cases of Rapid Recovery After the Doctors Had Given Up.

The recent case of Miss Lily Curl, of Ashford, Kent, who, after being deaf and dumb for twenty-one years, is slowly recovering both hearing and speech—the shock of the tragic end of her brother, who drowned himself in the Stour, being regarded as responsible for the miraculous recovery—is by no means an isolated example of shock succeeding where doctors have failed.

Some time ago the narrow escape of a boy from drowning off North Shields Fish Quay had a remarkable sequel. While efforts were being made to restore the apparently drowned boy to consciousness by means of artificial respiration, a man named Thomas Cummings, who had been deprived of speech two years earlier, as the result of an accident, pushed through the crowd merely out of curiosity. As soon as he saw the prostrate boy, although not in any way related to him, the sight gave him such a shock that his speech suddenly returned, and he fell to the ground in a state of collapse. Upon recovering he continued to speak freely, and has suffered no further impediment since.

One of the most amazing cases was that of Walter Speck, a resident of Gloucester (Eng.), who eight years ago lost his power of speech through the shock occasioned by the death of his father. For several weeks his wife was only able to understand him by watching the movements of his lips, and he gave up all hope of ever recovering his speech. Being a football enthusiast, he one day witnessed a Gloucester versus Cheltenham match, and when the city team scored, Speck, in his excitement, forgot that he had been deprived of his voice, and attempted to cheer with the rest of the crowd. To his amazement and that of his friends, his shout was heard above that of any of those standing near. Since then Speck has been able to converse as well as ever, and there is no likelihood of his speech falling him.

One of the medical journals tells how the fear of an accident was once the means of restoring speech to a dumb man. Mr. J. Moore, of Gosport, had been dumb for years, when, on returning home one evening, his bicycle skidded. In his alarm he shouted, and was so startled and surprised at hearing his voice that he called out again and again, until he was convinced that his long-lost voice had come back to him.

It is not many years since a remarkable case of dumbness excited great interest in medical circles in Germany. Twelve months earlier a Bavarian cattle-dealer had been kicked by a horse, with the result that he completely lost the use of his voice. A year later he was riding a doomed horse to the knacker's yard, when the animal, who clearly had plenty of life left in him, began to kick and plunge in a dangerous manner. The man, we are told, lost his head completely in wild excitement, and after a few minutes began to talk, completely regaining his speech, to the boundless astonishment of his friends.
