A National Ministry.

Curiosity must remain keen and satisfy itself with conjecture until official announcement is made of the composition of the new British Cabinet. The unparalleled situation is marked by an unparalleled ignorance on every hand of the outcome, though general opinion has been quick to gather the flying straws. The nation and the empire will trust that the surmise of a national ministry will be justified, though the exact balancing of political parties in its membership prognosticated in some quarters is a rather ironic way of doing it. Lloyd George, we fancy, is not the man to ensure his colleagues pulling together by neutralising their tendencies to pull apart, but will probably choose them for their individual fitness and no other qualifications. The strong infusion of the Labor element and the alleged probability that men of business ability and acumen will be included are to be noted. The generally hoped-for even optimistic tone of public opinion reflected in today's messages is the optimistic assurance we could have that all will be well.

Petty Harbor's Response to the Call.

Lieut. H. Ross, Sergt. J. Robinson, Messrs. F. J. Morris, K.C., W. R. Howley, K.C., and J. W. Morris left last night by motor for the little fishing village of Petty Harbor, where a recruiting meeting was held in the new hall. Mr. P. J. Morris presided and on the platform were Messrs. Hewitt and Tierney, both of whom gave short patriotic addresses. Lieut. Ross and Sergt. Robinson in the plain and blunt language of a soldier related their experiences in Gallipoli and France and made a strong appeal for the young men of the settlement to come forward and do their bit. Messrs. Howley and Morris (J. W.) gave stirring addresses reviewed the history of the British nation from the early days of the war and pointed out the great need of red-blooded men to fill the places of those who had fallen. At the close of the meeting the chairman asked for recruits, and before he had finished speaking there was a rush for the platform, when the following young men offered their services to the Empire: Samuel Chafe, Samuel Baird, Peter Chafe, Fred Chafe, Wm. Thos. Whitton, Rd. Westcott, Hy. G. Chafe, F. Walsh, Arthur Angel and E. L. Rendell. There will be another meeting to-night at the Goulds; among the speakers will be Lieut. Ross and Sergt. Robinson.

A Paris Chemist Has Discovered How to Grow Hair.

In Paris the ladies have entirely abandoned wearing hats, which is due entirely to this new discovery. It has been proven that Henna leaves contain the ingredients that will positively grow hair. That they contain this long-looked-for article is proven every day. The French are now placing on the market a preparation containing the extract from Henna leaves, which is having a phenomenal sale. This preparation is called SALVIA and is being sold with a guarantee to measure up to the standard of foreign and imperial necessities. It may be a rather sweeping generalisation, for among the rank and file of Liberal politicians are many of the best and most vigorous war-workers; but their old leaders have fallen and the remarkable conversion of Lloyd George to many Conservative principles is one of the most striking results of the past two years. Nothing in his brilliant career does him greater credit than his abandonment of cherished traditions which he has seen at such a time and in such a time as this. It is not so much, however, a fundamental change of ideas as a wide outlook and vigorous energy that has brought him the sympathy and support of his quondam enemies and transferred him to their camp, or rather made them his most enthusiastic followers in the one great camp of the nation. A sense of this accounts, too, for the more passive following of those whom he has replaced, with the result that he is the one man to whom the whole nation can look with confidence as its leader. May he soon lead it and us all to victory and peace!

Leeming L. O. L.

The annual meeting of Leeming Lodge, I.O.A., took place at Victoria Hall last night and was largely attended. The election of officers took place and was conducted by Past P. G. Master C. H. Hutchings, resulting as follows: W.M., H. Y. Hutchings; D.M., J. S. Currie; Chaplain, Rev. H. Royle; Rec. Secy., J. T. Curran; W. Secy., H. C. Moore; Treas., J. C. Puddister; 1st Lecturer, Samuel Taylor; 2nd Lecturer, Cecil Puddister; D. of C., Wilson Stacey; Committee: H. F. A. Stone, S. Pierce, Az. Pierce, P. Noseworthy; Trustee, G. W. Rabbitts. Installation will take place the last Thursday in December.

To Trifle With Catarrh Is to Risk Consumption.

Usually it comes with a cold. Being slight it is neglected—but the seed is sown for a dangerous harvest, perhaps consumption. To cure at once, inhale Catarrhoxone. It destroys the germs of catarrh, clears away mucous, cleanses the passage of the nose and throat. The hacking cough and sneezing cold soon disappear, and health is yours again. Nothing known for colds, catarrh and throat trouble, that is so curative as Catarrhoxone. It cures by a new method that never yet failed. The one dollar outfit includes the inhaler and is guaranteed to cure. Smaller sizes 25c. and 50c., sold everywhere.

To-night's Contest at Rossleys.

The usual Friday night's contest will take place at Rossley's Theatre to-night. Patrons will have an enjoyable time. Several amateurs will positively appear. Besides the competition there is some good vaudeville songs, dances, jokes and stories, and splendid pictures. The doors will be open earlier than usual, and every one attending will be assured a good night's enjoyment. The competition will be conducted by Mr. Rossley. The vaudeville and contest will be so arranged as to give the store people a chance to see the fun.

DIED.

Died of wounds, November 21st. Somewhere in France, James J. Wheeler, son of John and Agnes Wheeler, Torbay Road, aged 24 years, leaving a father, mother, 3 sisters and 2 brothers (one brother, Philip, serving in the Navy) to mourn their sad loss of a kind son and loving brother. At 15 years of age he left Newfoundland and spent two and a half years in the United States, one year and a half out West and two and a half years in Nova Scotia, and spent a month at home where he joined the Regiment to fight for King and Country. He was loved and liked by all who knew him. Though young as he was in a foreign land he never forgot his mother.

On Thursday morning, Mrs. Carrie W. Evans, daughter of the late Dr. Henry Clinton, and wife of the late Edward Evans, merchant of Grand Bank, died on Saturday at 8:30 p.m. from the residence of James R. Knight, Queen's Road. No flowers.

Optimism, Not Pessimism.

We are all "Optimists" in Newfoundland and I do not think a "Pessimist" exists. And for this reason I say "Peace is coming" as sure as there are fish in the sea. Peace is flying towards us on ever-quickening wings, and we will want every man who is capable of bearing arms to stand behind the peace conference, because it must be on the terms of the "Allies"; no outsiders to be there. We all have given men and money to enable us to dictate our own terms and we want you men to help to protect the rights our countrymen have gained and laid down their lives for. With the winter coming upon us a number of young men will be off to the "lumber" woods, but the trail of men will lead back to the recruiting office. And it is in that "direction" I want you to go. "Far away where the blue shadows fall, I will come with you and all you hold dear; now it is your duty to take their vacant places and fight for the loved one who have left behind. Not only for their loved ones, but also for your own. Men, do you realise that we are fighting for the peace of the world? And now we have succeeded in grasping it, the root of the vilest nation in the world, we want you to help "squeeze" the last gasp out of them. They are almost ready for peace. Demonstrations are taking place daily throughout the German Empire in favor of peace. The soldiers are rioting because of hunger. The Germans in the trenches are weary and sick of war, desertions are taking place daily, because they cannot hold out against the fresh troops we are pouring in. Before next summer, then, you could see the black clouds will race away, and then behind you will see the silvery fleecy clouds of victory. Don't hesitate, men! Won't you come? HAZEMAN.

Eat Without Fear of Indigestion or Sour, Acid Stomach

Instant relief! "Pape's Diapiesin" ends your stomach trouble forever.

Wonder what aet your stomach— which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapiesin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women to-day know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapiesin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal lunch without rebellion, if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapiesin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

The Cat Out of the Bag.

What sounds like the true explanation of the Belgian deportations has been blurted out by Governor General Von Bissing, a blunt soldier, whose incapacity for tergiversation has already distinguished him, notably in the case of his execution of Edith Cavell. All the explanations about economic needs are abolished at one stroke, if this is the real explanation.

The Governor General says he is "not in Belgium to martyrize the population nor mete out punishment, but only to further the interests of Germany in the most comprehensive way." He is "an old soldier," he says, and would not "like to use arms against this unarmed population." Then he continues:

I consider that I am serving the Emperor and the Fatherland to the best advantage when I cause the least possible German blood to flow here and the fewest possible Germans to be withdrawn from our front lines to watch over Belgium.

Not a word about economic necessities. Germany needs men at the front. She has a large garrison in Belgium on which to draw. She cannot draw on it too much, for fear of a revolt in Belgium when the garrison becomes weak. Therefore, in order to withdraw the German soldiers needed in Roumania, and on the Somme, and at the same time guard Belgium as efficiently as ever, she removes as much as is necessary of the Belgian population to a place where they could not revolt if they wished. Every dozen or so of Belgians deported means a German soldier released from watching them and sent to the front. Simple, almost crude, in fact, and completely German. Thus a few Belgians torn from their homes represent another rifle on the firing line. In addition the Belgians, when they reach their German destination, have to work for Germany and release other Germans who would otherwise be doing that work; but that is merely lagniappe; the direct profit is the German soldier dropping his garrison work and hastening to the Somme.

In everything he has said for the last year General Von Bissing has rendered a service to the truth. He does not hide or diminish or alter the truth, simply because he cannot imagine that the truth will jar any neutral ear. If Von Bissing were only in the Admiralty, how much pretense and ostrich-hiding would vanish! Can one imagine him covering up submarine outrages with stories about how the submarines were defending themselves from bloodthirsty liners, or hiding attacks on fishing villages behind bulletins, saying that they were "fortified places"? No; one can only imagine Von Bissing saying bluntly: "Yesterday we sank an unarmed passenger vessel and butchered her crew, and we also raided a summer resort and killed a number of women and children," and seeing no reason why he should not say it.—New York Times.

KYLE'S PASSENGERS.—The s.s. Kyle reached Port aux Basques at 7.50 a.m. to-day with the following first class passengers: Mrs. A. Dingwall, Mrs. Palmer, A. J. Barry, S. Gushue, W. B. Fitzgerald, C. B. MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DIS-TEMPER.

Fads and Fashions.

There are evening shoes of white moire. Many waist collars are large and ruffling. The newest blouses have their tails out. Ermine is more of a favorite than white fox.

Many of the new waists slip on over the head. Chiffon velvet is always smart in evening coats. Primrose yellow is a popular color for debutantes.

A smart new umbrella has a cloth-onne handle. Dark green is one of the favored colors for winter. The smartest capes have a distinctly military air.

Some of the newest fur coats have full gathered sleeves. We now have rubberized flowers for our motor bonnets.

Women are growing somewhat tired of fur trimmings. A chic scarf is of gray-and-black fur fashioned in stripes. Embroidered pockets continue to be seen on chemise robes.

Uncurled ostrich and sandal wood are used for a lovely fan.

Hats go straight on being chic with little or no trimming.

Skirts for Southern wear are again out on straight lines. The deep sailor collars still hold their own in fashion's world.

A novel idea is a blouse of jersey cloth with soutache braiding. A novel idea in furs is to have the hat, scarf and bag to match.

Japanese embroidery is used to decorate a black silk jersey frock. The linings of the prettiest fur coats are very novel and striking.
