Schaffer Reports.

Jack Schaffer, the former Guelph and Erie star, reported yesterday afternoon and went with the team Stratford. He will likely appear third base during the game. Schaffer broke into the Canadian League as an infielder with Guelph, playing second base. If he can play third base fairly well it is likely he wil beat Hess out of the job. Schaffer's hitting alone should land him a berth with the team. Hess is a magnificent fielder, but has shown little stick work at present.

A Fine Lot of Pitchers. One thing that impresses the fans who have seen the local squad in action this week is the ability of the pitchers that Manager Reisling has gathered. The ciub has the best lot of young pitchers since the inception of the Canadian League. Reisling will have a hard time picking out the best of them. His three southpaws are all good and show enough promise and ability to deserve try-outs in a league game. Joe Labate is almost sure of a job. His work so far has been the best of any of them. "Cuz" Hammond is also sure of a berth, and Sandelback and Morgan, the other two right-handers, look equally as good. Reisling has not used Sandelback or Dowell on the slab in any of the exhibition games so far, and this morning he left them in London and took the others to Stratford. This looks as if he was

LONDON TEAM OPENS STRATFORD SEASON TODAY

Canadian Leaguers Will Me et Last Year's Classic City Wobbly Leaguers-Practice Game Yesterday Marked by Go od Pitching.

[BY BERT PERRY.]

'Manager Reisling and his London players will appear today for the first time this season in a ball game that will go the regulation distance. The team leaves at noon for Stratford to open the season in the Classic City against the former formidable Wobbly League team known as the Grand Trunks. The local club enjoyed a good workout yesterday and this morning in preparation for the game. The stratford club will appear here tomorrow afternoon, and then along comes Frank Shaughnessy and his 1915 Ottawa aggregation for an exhibition game on Saturday.

Labate's Good Work.

Yesterday's program included a game between the Regulars and the Yannigans that went six innings, the Regulars winning by the score of 7 to 1. The contest was devoid of any features. Joe Labate, the 18-year-old ambidextrous boy, pitched the first three innings for the Regulars and did not allow a hit, Only one man reached first base in the three innings, Dunn dropping Hammond's easy fly in the third, with one man gone. Nothing resembling a hit was made by the Yans during the innings Joseph pitched. George Morgan succeeded Labate and two hits and one run were pried from him.

Hammond in Box.

Evans, the boy from Philadelphia, was tried out and looked pretty good. He has a lot of speed and appears to have good control.

Golden Jug's mile was considerably slow in 1:48, and the 1¼ miles in 2:16 2-5. He will not likely be a starter in the King's Plate, and Torn Silk will probably be reserved for the Maple Leaf stakes. This would leave Vastatio, Charon and Smithfield to carry the O. J. C. president's colors in the big race, a rather formidable trio. The majority of the "dopesters" ngured Philadelphia down at the tail end. I couldn't see it that way. His team figured too strong and too full of possibilities for a tail end club. Neither did it figure a championship team save on the event that the pitchers settled right down to work and pitched their best all season.

Moran had a great task. He took a team that has been rent by quarrels, dissipation, and indifference when really it seemed to be the best in the league.

Even so he had a hard-hitting outfield of fair ability in other directions, a fair infield with a lot of hitting power, a great catcher and a pitching staff that ranks with the best in the staff that ranks with the best in the was done. He rounded out Moran's bitching staff completely.

The question, though, is not what Moran has done but what he will continue to do. There is not a reason why he should not keep up a strong winning gait at least until July 4.

With Mayer, a great pitcher and a comer; Alexander, the greatest pitcher in the National League; Rixey, a man worth tens of thousands of dollars, and Chalmers, all going near top form in April, Moran has achieved a big thing.
