Poking her nose out over the eider-down, surveying the sparkling snowy world through the window and shivering at the chilly breeze coming in through the opening, the modern young lady quickly lost her gracious at Easter, the weather and her old clothes. Somehow clothes didn't seem of any importance; the expensively clad and the threadbare all merged into one thing of easter churchgoers, all hurrying toward some lighted building.

she finally donned the scorned coat and galoshes and started for the post-office. Walking toward the west just as the last delicate colorings of the sunset were disappearing, this modern young lady quickly lost her gracious at Easter, the weather and her old clothes. Somehow clothes didn't seem of any importance; the expensively clad and the threadbare all merged into one thing of easter churchgoers, all hurrying toward some lighted building.

CAUSES HEARTACHES.

The girl looked at the fading tint of the Western sky, the one bright evening star, at the black tracery of the bare branches against the light and last of all at the stained-glass windows in the big church near at hand. Somehow the beauty of it all made her heart ache. Before she scarcely realized what she was doing she crossed the street and entered the church, slipping into a seat at the back.

The Easter music from the choir, the scent and waxy beauty of the lilies and the congregation of rapid faces were all as a dream to the girl. Nothing was clear, but the wonderful message coming in powerful sympathetic voice from the pulpit, Easter, its glorious meaning made plain! How different to the Easter she had known for the last few years—ever since her Sabbath schools days had ceased. This message of resurrection and divine love seemed to heal all the dull aches and soften all the little calloused spots in the girl's nature, as a tiny tear started to trickle down her cheek she groped for her little rose-colored, embroidered handkerchief.

Quietly and almost fondly she got into her winter coat, leaving the church with the strains of the hymn ringing in

Manners

By Norma Talmadge

One's refinement and culture are evidenced by the gifts one selects. It's not necessary that a gift for any occasion should be costly. But it should be carefully chosen so that it will be both suitable and pleasing. Thoughtful study can make a gift more than a gift; it can be made a compliment to the recipient.

WEDDING GIFTS.

1. Wedding gifts should be sent early, three weeks before the wedding is not too soon.
2. All wedding presents are sent to the bride and are her personal legal property, but in her notes of thanks she expresses the gratitude of the groom with her own.
3. The wedding invitation does not call for a present; only intimate friends send gifts to a bride being married the second time.
4. All wedding presents should be set out at the wedding reception in a manner to display each to its best advantage.
5. It's perfectly proper for a bride to exchange wedding presents when she has a greater number of any sort—say 20 suit cases—than she can possibly use.

It's bad manners for the groom to make his wedding gift to the bride anything but jewelry or some article for her personal adornment.

$20,000,000 FOR
HIGHWAYS ASKEDGood Roads Association To Send Delegation To Ottawa

OTTAWA, March 31.—(Canadian Press Dispatch)—Carrying out the mandate given the Canadian Good Roads Association at the interprovincial road conference held at Montreal and Quebec in November, the executive of the association, is arranging for the delegation which will wait upon Dominion Cabinet to urge a further federal grant of $20,000,000 in aid of highway construction by the provincial, together with a reasonable extension of time to provinces unable to utilize their proportion of the original grant within the time limit specified.

The delegates, who will assemble at Ottawa on April 17 and remain there over the following day, will include representatives not only of the association, but of the various provincial governments, provincial and local good roads associations, boards of trade and other business bodies and leaders in the various industries, all of whom have pronounced themselves strongly in favor of the granting of $20,000,000 in aid. After formulating their request at a meeting to be held early in the day the delegation will be received by the premier and several of his ministers.

GOLDSTREAM U.F.
ANNUAL BANQUETJ. G. Lethbridge, M.P.P., Commends Government Sinking Fund

ILDERTON, March 31.—The annual banquet of the Goldstream Farmers' Club was held on Thursday evening and some notables were present. The captains of the membership canvass teams reported that the club numbered 80 members.

Four long tables fairly groaned under the load of chicken and all the other good things. Those who sat at the guests table were: A. L. Hodgins, M. P. P., West Middlesex; J. D. Drummond, M. P. P., West Middlesex; J. G. Lethbridge, M. P. P., West Middlesex; T. G. Turnbull, reeve of Lobo; John McGowan, deputy reeve; William Chapman and others. The president, Walter Salisbury, acted as chairman and toastmaster.

The Government members each spoke, J. D. Drummond and A. L. Hodgins briefly, but J. G. Lethbridge gave a good summary of the doings at Toronto, speaking for over 20 minutes.

The club was fortunate in choosing other but as the weather was fair and the night was filled and all seemed interested and enjoyed the evening. The Continents Quartet gave some good selections and the Fischer Orchestra enlivened the evening with many choice selections.

The addresses the legislators were notable for the absence of politics. A. L. Hodgins, M. P., said he always felt at home here in Lobo and to-night he came partly to care for J. D. Drummond to see that he did not overeat. The outlook for the U. F. O. was very bright, he thought. Touching on exports he said that the gold he had here for 4 cents sold over in England for 20 cents. He said there was something wrong.

J. D. Drummond said there were two rules for after-dinner speeches, to say nothing and speak for only five minutes. He was glad of this, his first opportunity of thanking the Lobo people for the valuable support they gave him.

J. G. Lethbridge gave the long speech of the evening, taking up most of the work of the Legislature at the present as well as past sessions of the Farmers' Government. He gave figures of the standing of the province and spoke of the sinking fund, which would retire the enormous debt in 40 years. He told of his bill for changing the notifying of jurors, whereby the sheriff can now notify by registered letter and thus make saving both in time and money. He was listened to with good attention.

HOSPITAL IN USE

Five Patients Receiving Treatment In Isolation Building

STRATFORD, March 31.—Charged with fraud by two Perth County farmers, William H. Dierham, of Logan, was to-day given a preliminary hearing in police court and sent up for trial. Dierham pleaded not guilty on both counts and offered no evidence in defense.

It was alleged in both instances that Dierham had made fraudulent representations to farmers who had purchased shares in the Dominion Thrasher and Implement Company, of New Hamburg.

Stratford's new Isolation Hospital is now being put into use. There are five patients receiving treatment there now. Sanitary Inspector Dunsmuir announced this morning that two new cases of scarlet fever had been quarantined over Friday, bringing the total number of contagious disease up to 12.

Angelo Bonasuto was fined $200 or the option of six months in jail in police court on Thursday on conviction of having had in his possession a quantity of mash, over 80 gallons, suitable for the manufacture of liquor, contrary to the Inland Revenue Act. Owing to the bad weather the attendance at the motor show has been rather small, and to give the citizens who have been prevented from attending an opportunity of seeing the show, it has been decided to extend it over Monday and Tuesday of next week.

OF LOBO TOWNSHIPDuncan McLean Was Born and Lived
For 90 Years On Farm On Concession 7.

STRATHROY, April 1.—The death occurred to-day of Duncan McLean, one of Lobo's pioneers, in his 90th year. Mr. McLean was a well-known and highly-respected farmer and probably is the only man in this month who lived on one farm continuously for 90 years. Mr. McLean being born on the farm on which he resided until death. He is survived by three sons, Robert, at home; Robert, Vancouver, and James, in Quebec, and three daughters, Jeanette, at home, and Mary and Janet, of Marwinch, Sask. The funeral will take place from the family residence, on concession 7, Lobo Township, on Thursday afternoon. Interment will be in Campbell's Cemetery.

BLOOD SO THIN—COULD NOT KEEP
WARMSays WINCARNIS
Helped Him

"For months I had been in a terribly weak and run-down condition. I was so weak, in fact, that I always felt as if my legs were just about to double under me. My blood was so thin that I could not keep warm in cold weather. I could not eat much and what I did eat seemed to do me no good. One day a friend recommended Wincarnis so I immediately bought a bottle. Before I had taken the bottle, I realized that at last I had found something that was doing me good. I improved so fast, it was simply marvelous. Less than three bottles of Wincarnis have made me feel like a new man."

Leisure hours for the Children's Instruction

You can attain them through making economies in the time you give to household work.

For example, on wash day, the use of Sunlight Soap as directed on the carton, will free you from hours of drudgery at the wash board. Washing dishes, shelves, oil cloths, etc., can all be done better and in shorter time if you use Sunlight Soap.

All these minutes and hours saved throughout the week can be devoted to the better things in life.

The rich and pure oils of coconut and palm used, and the extreme care taken in converting them into Sunlight give this soap unusual power for cleansing purposes. Its absolute purity makes it safe for all laundry soap uses.
