NEXT Sunday, Dec. 2nd, 1917, is Foreign Mission Day in the Baptist Church. The pastor, Rev. Geo. W. Conners, will preach a Foreign Mission work of the Foreign Mission Board of the convention of Ontario and Quebec. A liberal offering for this work is greatly needed and in view of the strenuous times throughout the world we anticipate a hearty response. The public is cordially invited.

WHAT may possibly happen before the WHAT may possibly happen before the election campaign is brought to an end has been told me by a nale eavesdropper, at one of the ladies' meetings the other night. Some of the husbands were waiting for their patriotic wives, when one of them remarked to the other, "Your wife used to be a great advocate of 'votes for women." "Yes," replied the meek one, "but she has her doubts now. She says that she knows a number of women whom she would not think of inviting to her political party." So, I suppose, by the time the ballots are ready for marking the most exclusive of the women-voters-party may be asking, the women-voters-party may be asking, who is who?

who is who? At a recent gathering of teachers, the fevival of the curfew bell was advocated. One prominent principal in attendance said that running the streets at night had unfitted boys and girls for their duties at school, and that the curfew bell would at least send them to their home at the proper hour, whether they went to bed or not. Boys and girls going to school need plenty of sleep, but not the kind of sleep that was allowed them by going to bed at 11 and 12 o'clock at night and in the morning rush them off to school in no fit condition to take up their tasks. Apparently early to bed and early to rise is still a good old motto, and although the present generation may think it old-fashioned, it was the rule that gave strong bodies, clear minds and make men and women of integrity and prin-
