

- tacking Quebec, 274; small successes of, 275; finds it difficult to land in Canada, 275; sails into the Basin of Quebec, 276; demands Frontenac's surrender, 278; Frontenac's reply to, 279; his plan of attack, 281; attacks Quebec, 283; prepares to cannonade Quebec, 285; his ships repulsed, 287; retires from Quebec, 291; his crestfallen return to Boston, 297; understands the needs of the eastern frontier, 375; rebuilds the fort at Pemaquid, 375.
- Pike, Rev. John, on the disaster at Salmon Falls, 239; on the capture of York, 369; on the massacre at Oyster River, 387; on the folly of the English, 398; the story of Hannah Dustan, 407.
- Pinard, on Frontenac's early life, 8; 478.
- Pirates, in Acadian waters, 359.
- Piscataqua, see Portsmouth.
- Piscataqua River, the, 364, 371, 393.
- Placentia Bay, 409, 412.
- Planchon, Étienne, 77.
- Plymouth, colony of, effect of King Philip's War on, 250; plans a combined attack on Canada, 246, 247.
- Point aux Trembles, 301, 302.
- "Poli," the, 375.
- Ponchartrain, M. de, 251, 330; letter from Frontenac to, 333; commends Thury for instigating Abenaki attacks on the English, 394; orders Frontenac not to re-establish Fort Frontenac, 428; Frontenac's appeal for support against his enemies to, 438; reproves Frontenac for his dispute with Champigny, 439.
- Ponchartrain, Madame de, 323.
- Pontneuf, 240; besieges Fort Loyal, 241; 364, 365, 369, 370, 374; charged with debauchery, 379; replaced by Villieu, 379.
- Portland, site of, 239; 240.
- Port Royal, French cruisers at, 247; attacked by Phips, 248; surrender of, 248; the chief place of all Arcadia, 354; agricultural population of, 357; English traders at, 358; the Huguenots at, 358; reoccupied by Villebon, 365; passes back into French hands, 366; 393.
- Portsmouth, 238, 271; Frontenac's plan to attack, 375, 403; fort at, 404.
- Pottawatamies, the, 116, 152; trading at Montreal, 264; at the grand council, 471.
- Prairie de la Madeleine, see La Prairie de la Madeleine.
- Preble, fortified house of, 368.
- Préfontaine, 9; his dispute with Frontenac, 10; Frontenac speaks ill of, 11.
- Prescott Gate, the, 272.
- Prévost, Major, 263, 270, 271, 272, 275; receives the envoy from Phips, 277.
- Priests of Montreal, the, indignation against Frontenac, 38; commended by Colbert to Frontenac, 45; controversy over ecclesiastical honors between Frontenac and, 49; responsible for needless barbarity, 394.
- Prisoners, French bounty on, 312.
- Private theatricals, at Quebec, 340, 350.
- "Profond," the, 398, 412.