

The object of the writer of this volume is to illustrate the truths and narratives of the Bible, and to use the results of modern research and discovery for the purpose of filling up the outlines set forth in the inspired volume. The present volume contains a review and illustration of the narratives of the Bible down to Abraham. The author purposes to add other volumes on the Old Testament and on the Life of Christ.

The Princeton Review for January 1866.

Philadelphia: P. Walker 821 Chesnut Street. Rev. A. Kennedy, London C.W., Agent for Canada.

The January number of this well known Review contains the following articles: 1. Sustentation Fund: 2. Common Schools: 3. The Patristic Doctrine on the Eucharist: 4. Horace Mann: 5. Imperfect Rights as related to Church Discipline: 6. Strauss, and Schleiermacher: 7. Renan Strauss, and Schleiermacher.

The first article contains an able discussion of the subject of a "Sustentation Fund" for the support of the ministry, to which we may advert here after.

Nichol's Series of Standard Divines. Puritan Period Edinburgh: James Nichol; Montreal: B. Dawson and Son; Toronto: W.C. Chewett & Co.

We have received three additional volumes of Nichol's Series of the Puritan Divines viz., the 11th volume of Goodwin's works the 3rd volume of Clarkson's; and the 4th Volume of Charnock's. This volume of Goodwin's contains his treatise on the "Government of the Churches," in which he combats the views of Presbyterians. This is the only treatise in the whole series, which is of a controversial character. But it is thought best to give the works of the author in a complete form.

We have already expressed our sense of the great value of these works, now put within the reach of most ministers.

MONEYS RECEIVED UP TO THE 20TH FEBRUARY.
