

LAUREL.

What's this hue and cry of "laurel,"
Muses' tutors in a quarrel—
Food for wise men's mirth!
What's in laurel? what is laurel,
More than yarrow, brake, or sorrel,
Common herbs of the earth!

Any other plant's as holy,
Arbutus, caprifol, or moloy.
Ivy in the mead;
Heart's-ease, good for melancholy;
Jasmine, for pleasure solely;
Hawthorn, gay and fresh.

Can it be that Daphne, hidden,
Smiles among the leaves unhidden—
Faithless runaway!
Oh, I think 'tis Daphne, hidden,
Gives the brush its charm forbidden—
Daphne's in the bay!

EDITH M. THOMAS.

OUR CHESS COLUMN.*TO CORRESPONDENTS.

J. W. S., Montreal.—Papers to hand. Thanks.
J. N., St. John, N.B.—Letter received. Thanks. The game shall appear very soon.

The Montreal Chess Club has recently been visited by two gentlemen, who led, no doubt, by their love for the royal game, feel constrained in their travels to present themselves wherever chessplayers are gathered together, and let us add, with a sure presage that on account of their skill over the board they will receive a hearty welcome. The one is Mr. A. P. Barnes, of New York, and the other Mr. H. N. Kittson, of Hamilton, Ont. The former was, until lately, Game Editor of Brentano's Chess Magazine, and the latter is a prominent member of the Hamilton Chess Club.

Both these gentlemen contested games with the members of the Montreal Chess Club, with results, the particulars of which have not reached us, and inasmuch as these encounters were mere off-hand performances, it is of little consequence who were the victors.

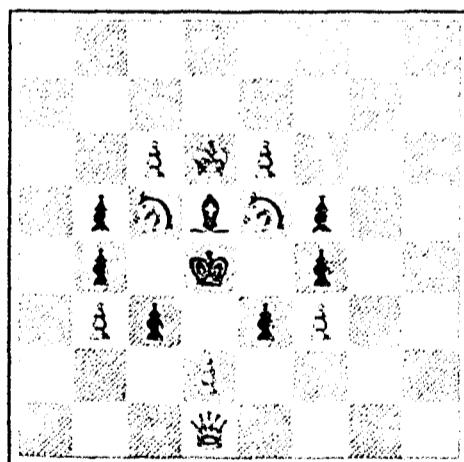

We see it hinted that there is some prospect that the year 1882, which is now near at hand, will witness a grand Congress of chessplayers in London, England. We hope that there is some foundation for the rumour, and that the event will be of such a character as to be creditable in every respect to the great Metropolis. In such a gathering one would like to see chess representatives from all parts of the civilized world. In order to accomplish this, however, the prizes of the Tournament should be sufficiently large to induce the most skillful players to attend, and numerous enough to give every contestant a reasonable chance of success. To bring about all this, however, it might be advisable to call upon chess clubs at home and elsewhere to contribute towards the great expenses which must necessarily attend an undertaking of this nature. There is hardly a single member of a chess club in any part of the world who would not, in some way or other, derive benefit from such a meeting of chess celebrities, and we feel convinced that there are few who would not willingly aid in the matter.

A match by telegraph was commenced last evening between Messrs. Northcote and Starke, of the Toronto Chess Club, and Messrs. Pritchard and Allen, of the Detroit Chess Club. The match in the best of three games, the first of which was played last night and won by Toronto.—Toronto Globe, Nov. 17.

We hear that the match between Toronto and Detroit was brought to a conclusion last Saturday in favor of Detroit, the score being Toronto, two games won, Detroit, one.—Editor C. C.

Mr. Blackburne informs me that a friend of his has placed £10 at his disposal for the purpose of arranging a match, or a tournament. Upon hearing this news, I understand that some other veterans of the game offered to subscribe another £50 on condition that the whole amount be given as a prize in a tournament to be held next year at Simpson's Tavern.—Mark, Dramatic News.

GAME 43RD.

CHESS IN COLOGNE.

This brilliant specimen of blindfold play is said to be the only serious game which Mr. Steinitz has played for some years. Depth of combination and resplendent skill it is rarely surpassed by games played over the board. It was played at Cologne on the 27th of September, 1881, Mr. Steinitz playing sans écrit against Herrn Koeckelkorn and Wemmers in consultation. The notes are from the Sonntags Blatt.

NOTES.

(a) They cannot retreat to B 4, because of the reply Kt takes P.

(b) If 15... Kt to B 5, Black gets a bad game, as the following continuation will show: 15... Kt to B 5 16... P takes P, P takes P 17... R R 6, and White has gained a position.

(c) 22—P R 3 would be bad, for, after 21—B B 6, K R 2 (beat), 24—P R 5 (beat) his position is untenable.

(d) The beginning of a fine combination. The design was not discovered by the player until the next move, when it was too late. At this point the intended assault might, perhaps, be parried by K R 2, so as to protect the Kt P, and to be able to meet Q Kt 5 with Q K 2.

(e) He could make no move which would prevent the advance of the Kt P. The plausible move, P B 4, results disastrously, e.g.:

26. P B 4
27. P Kt 4
28. P R 5
29. P takes P
30. K takes P
31. B B 4
32. B takes P
33. B B 6 ch and mates in three moves.
34. Q Kt 5 ch
35. Q to K 2
36. K R 2
37. R takes B

(f) He might have won by 31—Q Kt 6 ch.

(g) Threatening mate in three moves by 31—Q Kt 5 ch. They could not draw by R takes B.

(h) Q Kt 5 ch would force mate in five moves.

(i) R R takes B White mates in two moves.

CADDY'S COCOA ESSENCE.
PURE, SOLUBLE, REFRESHING.

It is often asked, "Why does my doctor recommend Cadby's Cocoa Essence?" The reason is that being absolutely genuine, and concentrated by the removal of the superfluous fat, it contains FOUR TIMES the AMOUNT OF NITROGENOUS OR FLESH FORMING CONSTITUENTS than the average of other Coffees which are mixed with sugar and starch.
