

SCRAP BOOK.

Drunkenness is proven by every police station in the world to be the direct cause of fully three fourths of all the crime committed.

"So," said a lady recently to an Aberdeen merchant, "your pretty daughter has married a rich husband."

The sexton of a parish church in County Armagh was about to lose his wife. She begged him to bury her in Tyrone, among her own kindred, forty miles away.

A pompous young fellow was dining with a Yorkshire family, and when the hostess, after the Yorkshire fashion, ordered the servant to take away the dish containing the "fool"—meaning the fowl—the young man corrected her, saying, "I presume you mean the fowl, madam?"

A gentleman, who practiced wit and professed law, thought that he could overcome the punster on the bench. So on one day, when Lord Norbury was charging the jury, the address was interrupted by the braying of a donkey.

"Two of Him"—The following story comes from the city of Dublin: A barber was waiting on one morning by a nice young gentleman, who, desired the hairdresser's lowest terms per week for keeping his comely caput in condition.

The London Echo relates that when Prince Bismarck was in Versailles, he met with a man who was singularly agreeable. The two used to walk about, arm in arm; they were like brothers.

"Lord Dudley was one of the most absent men I think I ever met in society. One day he met me in the street and invited me to meet myself. "Dine with me to-day; dine with me, and I will get Sydney Smith to meet you."
