

5. If the request for extradition is received within the applicable period specified in paragraph 4 but is not accompanied by the documentation required under Article 7, the competent authorities of the Requested State may, to the extent permitted by its law, extend that period for receipt of the documentation.
6. The person sought may be granted interim release at any time, subject to the conditions deemed necessary to ensure that the person does not leave the country.
7. The expire of the applicable period specified in paragraph 4 does not preclude the initiation of subsequent extradition proceedings if a request for extradition is subsequently received.

ARTICLE 13

Conflicting Requests

1. Where requests are received from two or more States for the extradition of the same person either for the same offence or for different offences, the Requested State shall determine to which of those States the person is to be extradited and shall notify those States of its decision.
2. In determining to which State a person is to be extradited, the Requested State shall have regard to all the relevant circumstances, and, in particular, to:
  - a) the relative seriousness of the offences if the requests relate to different offences;
  - b) the time and place of commission of each offence;
  - c) the respective dates of the requests;
  - d) the nationality of the person sought; and
  - e) the ordinary place of residence of the person.

Surrender

1. The Requested State shall, as soon as a decision on the request for extradition has been made, communicate that decision to the Requesting State. Reasons shall be given for any complete or partial rejection of an extradition request.
2. Where extradition is granted, the Requested State shall inform the Requesting State of the length of time for which the person claimed was detained in custody as a result of the extradition request.
3. Where extradition is granted, the Requested State shall surrender the person from a point of departure in its territory convenient to the Requesting State.
