The devotees of this season are already in raptures over the stunning between-season models developed in velvet with a touch of heavy black velvet with a touch of heavy black kinds of delicacies and fancy goods grosgrain ribbon backed with white were on sale to swell the funds of the Dame Fashion has shown a preference for headgear of very simple lines, softly sweeping brims of moderate width, with a novel note usually in the crown. Trimming is severely tailored and applied almost sparsely but with magic effect A very exclusive model intended for immediate wear with the silk street costume emphasizes all the very latest ing an effort to raise $1000-sufficient features. A very pretty crown made mo in sections is built on a brim rolling quite severely off the face and 'extending high at the back. A flutting of wide black corded ribbon is arranged about the crown in broad pleats so that the white facings are exposed. A tailored bow with ends pulled tightly about the brim is placed on the left side. The charm of this hat is undoubtedly in its simple elegance and in its lack of trimming. A hat of the popular sailor type dis-played an olongated brim, a round, plain crown, mounted on which is a handsome "shoot" in steel and a dull black composition. This model gives the best effect when worn at a very rakish" angle and tilted well down over the brow. Hats of the turban variety are extensively shown for street wear, with a large number of smart, straight trimmed styles, which particularly attractive when worn by the youthful devotee.

WILHELM HAS MOST EXTENSIVE WARDROBE

The kaiser, the imitating Napoleon in many things, does not seem able to affect the emperor's disregard for As everyone knows, his Germanic majesty's wardrobe is the most extensive in the world. Napoleon, according to his tailor, Leger, who took him in hand in 1810, had until that time been so parsimonious that his whole outfit was not worth $400. Leger instituted reforms, obtaining a standing order for six gray overcoats in winter and six green uniforms in summer, together with a new pair of trousers and a waistcoat once a fortnight. But his imperial client's taste in such matters was so poor that Leger had to tell him on one occasion he would not cut a tunic to his suggestion for all the wealth

"THE BIRD OF PARADISE."

The week of Aug 30 will inaugurate The week of Aug. 30 will inaugurate the regular season at the Alexander, when Oliver Morosco presents the most talked of play of the century, "The Bird of Paradise." It is a story of the land in which Robert Louis Stevenson found ife most pleasant and man interesting. "life most pleasant and man interesting," the land "in which it seems always of afternoon," where slender maidens with black hair and crimson lips dance in ways strange to European eyes. To carry out the illusion and atmosphere in the play native musicians, dancers and singers are seen, and all the stage effects, where possible, are of Hawaiian bandiwork.

I eat plenty of good, nourishing food." The reason is just this: You cannot get fat, no matter how much you eat, unless your digestive organs assimilate the fatmaking elements of your food instead of passing them out through the body as waste.

What is needed is a means of gently urging the assimilative functions of the stomach and intestines to absorb the oils and fats and hand them over to the oils and fats and hand them over to the blood, where they may reach the starved, shrunken, run-down tissues and build them up. The thin person's body is like a dry sponge—eager and hungry for the fatty materials of which it is being deprived by the failure of the alimentary canal to take them from the food. The best way to overcome this sinful waste of flesh building elements and to stop the leakage of fats is to use Sargol, the recently discovered regenerative force that is recommended so highly by physicians here and abroad. eager for thy sake
To fare where war's appalling blasts like tempests round them break;
Content with any sacrifice the death be close at hand,
Because of their devoted love for thee,
Their fatherland.

Tho perils compass them about, the foe's legions rise.

They see the star of Italy shine, clearly in the skies,
And with the courage that it brings, their blood they freely shed, Each drop a gem that well may brace the crown upon thy head:

And while that star holds out to shine, its light will not cepart
To leave in darkness and despair the brave Italian heart.

A GREAT SUCCESS

Beach Attracted Many Citizens and Grounds Were Crowded.

ALL FOR THE RED CROSS

Much Larger Contribution Will Be Made Than Was Expected.

Success exceeding every expectation attended Red Cross Day at Scarboro yesterday, when the members of the Beaches branch, W.P.L., again united forces in the interests of the men at the front.

Thru the generosity of the management, the park and amuse-ments were given over to the cause for the day, all proceeds from admission, ticket sales and money raised from the sale of pennants, souverirs, etc., going direct to the fund. An unusual program, entertaining and in-structive, held interest for every individual present, the tennis tournaments and aviation feats being special "thrillers."

Special Features Besides the regular shows and amusements special features were introduced, and booths prettily decorated with flags and gay bunting were ar ranged, in which could be purchased pennants, candy and all kinds of home-made delicacies. Mrs. R. Barker, president, was in charge, assisted by Mrs. W. G. A. Lambe, treasurer, Mrs. J. S. Miller, secretary, and a committee of energetic workers, augmented by a host of pretty girls Beach residents—who assisted in the inn at tea time, when a record crowd thronged the building.

The Russian Juvenile Band vided patriotic music thruout the afternoon, being replaced in the early evening by the band of the Royal Grenadiers Dance Exhibitions

That the interest in the modern dance is by no means on the wane was evidenced in the eagerness of the big crowds to witness the fine exhibition numbers by Mr. and Mrs. Mosher, given on the open-air stage. A number of the newest steps were executed with the grace and finish which marks the work of these popular artists, and a class of their advance pupils gave a dainty interpretation of the gavotte. the minuet and a group of quaint folk

MEN MARCHED ALONG

Twenty Men Followed Ninety-Second and Enlisted on Reaching Armories.

During a march out of the 92nd Overseas Highland Battalion 20 men who were pectators on the street joined in the parade and on the return to the armorie every one of them enlisted.

The 83rd Battalion made a most creditable showing yesterday when they marched to the University campus for an hour's battalion drill. The brass band under Bandmaster Reeves headed the parade and rendered stirring marches. A solo cornetist and some clarionets could still be found a place in the "83rd's" band.
