DRAPED DINNER FROCKS

Fluffy Net and Chiffon Are Gracefully Posed Over
Silk Panniers.

There are two distinct types of the trained evening frocks which are to be equally popular this coming season—the one featured for dance wear by the younger devotee, the other a handsome matronly type of robe for dinner and other such formal occasions. This latter is particularly becoming to the figure which is inclined to be stout, for it follows lines not too accentuated and the train is long and slender and caught gracefully in the draped folds of the gown, which is usually fashioned from heavily beaded nets or some of the new paillettes in rich colors combined with metallic effects.

The trained frock for the dance enthusiast differs noticeably in the skirt portion of the model, in that it observes the decree to flare considerably, and unconditionally. The bodice is of some flimsy chiffon or lace and follows the lines of the figure as a rule—the neck line varying in a number of pretty effects—but the skirt is an airy concoction of fluffy net or chiffon posed over flimsy underskirts and graced with silk panniers—besides exploiting the train. This is a long slash-like arrangement in panel effect, falling generally from the shoulders quite loose so that the wearer, when walking or dancing, may conveniently catch it up over her arm. The train on the dance frock is often quite elaborate, and even when the quaint, full skirted-model is comparatively simple the train may be of brocade or beaded chiffon and silk, with elaborate ornaments in sequins or brilliants.

DALE CHURCH CHOIR CAVE FINE CONCERT

Members of the congregation and friends turned out in large numbers to attend the semi-annual concert of the Dale Church Choir held in the church, Queen street, and Bellwoods avenue, last night. The program, which consisted chiefly of patriotic selections, was a splendid one. Songs by the church choir were greatly appreciated. Miss M. Lindsay assisted by the choir rendered the new war song, "Somewhere in France," in a very pleasing manner. Duncan Cowan's efforts won approval, his two Scotch songs being extremely well received. Robert Clarke, violinist, provided much laughter for the children.

WOMEN'S SUFFRAGE VOTE IN N. Y. STATE

Big Polling Will Take Place
Today on Paramount Question.

PROS TO GUARD POLLS

Six Thousand Suffragettes
Watch Balloting—Tammany Remains Neutral.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Whether women shall be permitted to vote is the overshadowing question to be decided at the New York State election tomorrow. A revised constitution drawn by a convention with Elihu Root as its president at Albany last summer, also is to be voted on, and three congressmen, a full assembly, eleven supreme court justices, and some county and city officials are to be elected, but all of these questions are running poor seconds to equal suffrage.

The battle of the women campaigners for and against their enfranchisement has made the campaign picturesque. The speaking campaign ended tonight with a 24-hour suffrage meeting at Times Square. More than 6000 women who will work as watchers at the polls tomorrow, agreed to-night to rise shortly after 6 o'clock tomorrow morning and be at the polls at 8.30 o'clock.

The windup of the campaign of the anti-suffragists was not to be as spectacular as that of their opponents. All of their speakers save one closed their engagements last night. No anti-suffragist watchers will be at the polls. The anti-suffragists say women don't belong at the polls and that they are confident of a "square deal" from the men in charge of the booths, anyhow.

Both Sides Confident. Leaders of both sides expressed optimism regarding the result of the election. The estimates of the suffragist leaders are more conservative than those of the anti-suffragists. Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge and Mrs. Alice Hill Chittenden, anti-suffrage leaders, said tonight that they fully expected to see the suffrage proposal beaten by 100,000 votes.

Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch, president of the Women's Political League, predicted that the result would be close, but that the proposal would carry by less than 10,000. Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, in an eleven-hour announcement tonight, said that his organization was strictly neutral in the suffrage fight.

The central organization promised the leaders of the movement to keep hands off, and we are sticking to our promise with no reservations whatsoever," said Mr. Murphy.

MARRIAGE LICENSE WAS NOT UTILIZED

for Breach of Promise—Lived
With Him Twenty-Six Years.

Before Chief Justice Mulock and a jury, in the assizes yesterday, Laura Bell brought suit for breach of promise against William Letchfield. Twenty-six years ago the couple eloped from England and decided to live under the name of Mr. and Mrs. William Saunders.
