and also to make their home a land of prosperity and opportunity.

He assured the audience that the millions which had been rolled up would bring the boys home. Mr. Mitchell explained in detail the organization of the committee in Toronto, and called upon the team captain to turn in their reports for the last day's sales. Each captain as he called out his total was greeted with cheers from his particular team, who turned themselves into machines made only to emit noise, as each figure was chalked up on the large blackboard at the back of the hall. Staid business men who had been members of the canvassing teams conducted themselves like schoolboys on a picnic, blowing horns, shrieking cat-calls, and all with a view to try and drown the neighboring team, who perhaps were trying to sing a popular song.

Efforts Well Rewarded.

At the conclusion of the returns Mr. Mitchell announced that the five districts had each turned in over $12,000,000 sales, and were all entitled to one of the honor banners donated by the governor-general. The Sir Edmund Osler banner was presented to District C, while the Sir John Eaton flag was presented to District E, who also won the E. R. Wood banner for the largest total of the campaign.

The same reception that had been accorded to previous speakers was repeated when J. H. Gundy, chairman of the special subscriptions committee for the Dominion, rose to speak.

Some people thought he said that on the special subscription committee the canvassers leaned back and let the subscriptions flow in. This was an erroneous impression for during the special subscriptions required the hardest kind of grinding from morning till night.

A voice: "We know it."

He also lauded the work of the press, who he said had given untiring support. The special subscription committee had reached the end of its first day Saturday, and they started over again. Mary Pickford, the noted Toronto motion picture actress, had journeyed all the way from New York to invest in Victory bonds to the extent of $100,000.

The special subscription committee alone had sold $30,000,000 worth of bonds, the objective aimed at for Toronto.

G. H. Wood, chairman of the provincial committee, told of the many obstacles which the county and provincial workers had to overcome. The campaign had started at a time when the Spanish influenza epidemic was still raging in the province. This made it hard for the provincial men, who there were no meetings to entice over the loan, and which setback would be felt more keenly by these workers than might be the case in the cities.

Ontario had made good her boast that she would subscribe half the amount for the province, and for every person in the Province of Ontario, there had been sold $181.60 worth of Victory bonds, doubling the Liberty Loan percentage in the United States.

Provinces Over Top.

E. R. Wood then read out the various provincial objectives and what each had obtained. In every case, the province had gone splendidly over the top, and hearty applause greeted each one as Mr. Wood read it out. Not, however, until the great total for the whole Dominion was reached in the Dominion, when the applause reached its pinnacle, when the great sum of $676,000,000 brought down the house. Canada's objective was only $500,000,000.

"I have never been so glad to be a citizen of Ontario, and Canada, as I am tonight," said Hon. Dr. H. J. Cody, when he rose to speak. "There is a fine spirit of rivalry between the cities—a rivalry for service. The result is a triumph for organization for advertising, and for endurance. You men who have brought about this result have been ready to play the game as the boys over the top are only used in connection with great achievements."

The speaker said it was a splendid thing to have borrowed from ourselves, and remarked that it would make us stronger and freer when the fight is over.

"After the sorrow and the destruction it will be something to have had such a splendid legacy of thrift," said Dr. Cody.

"Our natural and human resources will be tried to the utmost in carrying on the world's work."

He said there were lessons to be learned, and ones not easily forgotten. He referred to the talk about reconstruction and said that Canada's reconstruction was assured as far as money was concerned, by this loan.

"These men coming back in a purer world will now have a new and a better chance," he said. "This will open a new era in a better Canada."

Free from overseas, the old tales of the ruined cities and fields—the fields that in summer were covered with frothy blowing poppies—and the rows of little white crosses. He said he had walked along and read the names of men he knew and loved, names of gallant Canadians who with not thought of their own life to give for civilization. He said he saw the grave of his friend, John MacCrae, fronting the sea, and as he saw it the challenge of his poem came back to him:

"Ye break faith with us who die,
We shall not sleep,
We shall not sleep,
The meeting with the singing of "O Canada," "Rule, Britannia," the Doxology and the National Anthem, and the Last Post played in the distance.

Cleaned at Massey Hall.

The Employees' Organization Committee raised over nine million dollars from the working people of Toronto.

Mary Pickford sent a special emissary to Toronto on Saturday to subscribe for $100,000 Victory bonds for her.

Great Britain, the United States, France, Belgium, Italy and Serbia were represented by six girls in costumes, who carried the flags. They were stationed on the platform and came to the front at the end of the program.

Twenty pipers, in full Highland regalia, marched around the hall to celebrate the wonderful results obtained by District D. It was too bad they won no flag after such a preparation!

Mendelssohn Choir sang "The Messiah" and "The Star-Spangled Banner," the audience remaining at attention during the entire two numbers.

"We were a little afraid for the result after the peace celebration," said W. W. Mitchell, "but our faith was doubled, her efforts as a kind of thanksgiving."

A testimonial from the workers was presented to Chief Officers of District A by his fellow-workers in appreciation of his fine leadership.

A testimonial from the workers was presented to Chief Officers of District B by his fellow-workers in appreciation of his fine leadership.

HAMILTON HAS EXCEEDED OBJECTIVE BY $3,230,450

Hamilton, Nov. 18.—Hamilton has done herself proud, and has exceeded her objective in Victory Loan subscriptions, which was set at $15,000,000, by $3,230,450. The total subscriptions amount to $18,230,450, or 174.47 per capita. The percentage of her objective is 127.93. There was great jubilation when the figures became known.

BRITISH AVIATORS KEEP PACE WITH RETIREMENT

Many German Airdromes Become Headquarters of Royal Flying Corps.

London, Nov. 18.—The British Air Force is keeping pace with the German withdrawal and has made most satisfactory progress towards the Rhine. A large number of airdromes which were in the hands of the enemy last Monday are now the headquarters of British fighting, reconnaissance and bombing squadrons. Meanwhile the work of carrying out the aerial terms of the armistice proceeds. The clause in the armistice by which Germany surrenders 2000 airplanes, has been enhanced by the work of the Royal Air Force. To estimate the military meaning of giving up 2000 airplanes, account must be taken of the heavy losses to Germany prior to the armistice.

In the past five months, in which occurred some of the heaviest air fighting in the war, Germany lost in aerial combats with the British alone 1827 machines. This total does not include 610 machines driven down out of control, many of which would necessarily be no use. It is estimated that something like 1800 machines were accounted for by the British since June 1, and to this great total must be added the heavy destruction wrought by French and American aviators.

The declaration of war by Great Britain against the Royal Flying Corps was sent to France at once, and two more were despatched before Sept. 15, 1918. Since those early days the development of the important fighting arm has been rapid until on Oct. 30, 1918, British airmen downed 18 German machines and drove down 15 others out of control, with the loss of 18 machines. Thus in one day in 1918 the Royal Air Force accounted for more machines than the British had in France in September, 1914.

A MEAN CASE OF THEFT.

A mean theft was perpetrated in Parkdale yesterday, when four boxes were stolen from in front of a house on High Park boulevard. The boxes had been packed by the Parkdale Canteen Club for members overseas. Constable Simpson reports that three of the empty boxes and a license plate of a stolen motor car were later found on June street.

The police have a description of the man who left the child in the nursery. The child was taken to the infants' home.

FATE OF MOONEY RESTS WITH STATE GOVERNOR

Question of Whether He Will Die or Live Depends Upon California's Executive.

San Francisco, Nov. 18.—Thomas J. Mooney's fate rested solely tonight in the hands of governor William D. Stephens, and no information has come from the state capital as to whether the executive's attitude will be, Mooney, who was sentenced to hang following his conviction on a murder charge, growing out of the preparation of a bomb explosion here July 22, 1916, in St. Quentin, Cal., prison. When the United States Supreme Court today refused the petition of Mooney's counsel to review his case, the "last legal hope" of the defense, his attorneys said, was gone. Mooney was deprived last summer by Governor Stephens of his right to appeal. He either may pardon Mooney outright and instruct the warden to bring him to trial on one of the several remaining murder charges, or permit the death sentence to stand.

EARLS COURT

About one hundred and fifty depositors in the Muskoka Wood and Lumber Company attended a meeting in the Dominion Bank building, corner Dufferin street and St. Clair avenue, yesterday. They had the choice of either accepting back their deposits, after the liquidation of the company has been straightened out, or to take a consignment of wood at an increased price. Several cardinals of deals have been shunted to railway sidings for future delivery, and work is proceeding at Southwood for a further supply. Most of the depositors preferred to wait for the word.

Earls Court stores are being decorated for the Christmas trade. The recently erected new stores have fine plate glass fronts, and when the bylaw is rescinded permitting the burning of lines outside the stores West St. Clair avenue will be an attractive thoroughfare. Citizens are sending large quantities of Christmas presents to Earls Court soldier boys overseas.

Both St. Chad's, North Dufferin street, and the Earls Court Central Methodist church were crowded with worshippers on Sunday night, and many had to stand outside. Church work in this section is being increased, and the attendance generally has been better than for some time. There is to be a large Santa Claus for taking on the year, and all citizens are urged to be ready for the occasion. The Christmas season is to be made the occasion of the greatest of the year. The soldier dependents will be looked after, as will other families.

Strong feeling is being expressed by the Earls Court Great War Veterans because of the proposed removal of the Indian and the Algonquin, and at Ypres, to a great army. For the last four months this army has waged on a front of many miles, unending battle, and has every day won new glories for its standards thru these four checkered years of conflict. The same spirit of cheerfulness, stolidity and gallantry which our forefathers so constantly displayed, has again been shown in the glorious tale of daily achievements which are the cause of the soldier's pride and rejoicing today. To Field Marshal Haig, who has led to a decisive victory over a formidable and skilful foe, the mightiest ever sent forth to battle from the empire; to all officers from the highest to the lowest; to all the rank and file who have borne the burden of the campaign undaunted by discomfort, sickness, sickness or death; and to those whose unceasing labor behind the line has smoothed the working of the machine of victory, the army council tender their tribute of admiration and gratitude with the hope that, under God Almighty, the work which has now been brought to its conclusion on the battlefield may ensure for the empire a future of honor, prosperity and peace."

RIVERDALE

Under the auspices of the Riverdale Methodist Church Epworth League, a patriotic shower was held last evening in the Epworth hall, corner of Gladwin and Leslie streets. Rev. Dr. J. A. Long, pastor, presided, and a program of vocal and instrumental selections was rendered by local artists. The proceeds will be used for the purchase of Christmas boxes for the boys of the Indian and Eskimo work. Rev. Dr. Seager is in the church.

Speaking of the past the church should take in the reconstruction period after the war, the Rev. Graham, pastor of the First United Baptist Church, said: "The church must be the accompaniment of a great and crushing of men by corporations must be denounced, and justice done between capital and labor. Even in the days of the war men here in Canada indulged in graft, and the public tax was levied on the backs of the poor. The taxpayers do not pay taxes to contribute to the support of Catholic huts," said Dr. Graham, who added that, in the evangelistic and social work of the church, he is big in order to appeal to the heroic.

Riverdale Patriotic League members are preparing for the Christmas season. Broadway Y.M.C.A. Annex, Broadview street, is preparing for the Christmas season. The league is preparing for the Christmas season. The league is preparing for the Christmas season.

FACES MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE.

Harry Smith, a returned soldier, charged with manslaughter, appeared before Chief Justice Meredith in the assize court yesterday. He is alleged by the police that Smith struck Bertram Miller, who was turning into the gate of the General Hospital, on Oct. 11, and the latter died of his wounds. Smith's car was traveling at a high rate of speed. The case will go to the jury this morning.

CHARGED WITH THEFT IN THOROLD.

Wanted in Thorold to face a charge of theft, John Wanau, of that town, was arrested in Toronto last night by Detectives Archibald and Armstrong. He will be held pending the arrival of an officer from that town.

SIR DOUGLAS HAIG PAID HIGH TRIBUTE

All Ranks of British Forces Congratulated by Army Council.

BEAR PROUD RECORD

Soldiers of King Have Magnificent Share in Winning.

London, Nov. 18.—The following message has been sent by the army council to Field Marshal Haig:

"The army council desires on the occasion of the happy termination of hostilities to congratulate all ranks of His Majesty's forces in France upon the magnificent share taken by them in the series of brilliant actions which have so powerfully contributed to the gradual wearing down and final submission of the enemy. Since August, 1914, the British Expeditionary Forces have grown from a small but highly efficient contingent which acquiesced with such renown at Mons, and in the battle of the Marne, and the Aisne, and at Ypres, to a great army. For the last four months this army has waged on a front of many miles, unending battle, and has every day won new glories for its standards thru these four checkered years of conflict. The same spirit of cheerfulness, stolidity and gallantry which our forefathers so constantly displayed, has again been shown in the glorious tale of daily achievements which are the cause of the soldier's pride and rejoicing today. To Field Marshal Haig, who has led to a decisive victory over a formidable and skilful foe, the mightiest ever sent forth to battle from the empire; to all officers from the highest to the lowest; to all the rank and file who have borne the burden of the campaign undaunted by discomfort, sickness, sickness or death; and to those whose unceasing labor behind the line has smoothed the working of the machine of victory, the army council tender their tribute of admiration and gratitude with the hope that, under God Almighty, the work which has now been brought to its conclusion on the battlefield may ensure for the empire a future of honor, prosperity and peace."

ALLIED REFUGEES RETURNING HOME

Long Lines of Country Folk Fill Roads to Belgium.

With the Allied Armies in France and Belgium, Nov. 18.—All the refugees and populations who have been freed in Belgium and France are on the move these days, intent upon regaining their homes, from which many have been separated since the beginning of the war. Everywhere one sees long lines of country folk coming or going over the main roads with their few pitiful possessions.

Almost every family group marches cheerfully along with big or little Belgian flags flying bravely and not a few American flags among the lot. Many of the hamlet people are already patching up their shattered houses enough to keep out the rain. Even the women, who are on a level with the ground, the people are already living in the cellars.

CANADA CONGRATULATED BY KING AND PREMIER

Ottawa, Nov. 18.—Two congratulatory messages on the successful culmination of the war have been handed out this evening. The first, which was received by the governor-general from the king of Italy, is in reply to one sent some days ago from Canada. The second which is dated London, is Premier Hughes' "of Australia. They are as follows:

"I thank the government and the people of Canada for the cordial congratulations which they have sent to me on the occasion of the victorious ending of the war which has consecrated the cause of free peoples. I am happy to assure you that I form the most ardent wishes for the greatness and prosperity of Canada."

"Now when dangers and difficulties of the past four years have been surmounted by the valor and endurance of the allied troops, I desire to express on behalf of the government and people of the Commonwealth their great admiration of the part played by the soldiers of your country thru this momentous struggle. It is with feelings of great pride that the people of the Commonwealth of Australia have watched the deeds of the sister Dominion of Canada, and in the hour of decisive victory send their heartfelt congratulations."

(Signed) "Hughes."

WAR SUMMARY

The Day's Events Reviewed

President Wilson, in determining to attend the peace conference, breaks the precedent that no American president should set his foot abroad, but he signals a departure with the American foreign policy. He will appear as an advocate for a peace of justice and the devising of machinery to prevent the recurrence of a world war. The president has made a wise and bold move, and his leadership will assist the allied plenipotentiaries in their delicate task of settling mundane affairs, France, with her intense nationalism, as would be required to make a league of nations a practical organization.

The consequence of the president's program will therefore probably be an Anglo-American alliance. An understanding between the greatest empires of the world, with no shirking of common obligations would in itself be a sufficient guarantee for the peace of the world. Britain, during the terrific strain of a world-wide conflict, has expanded into the greatest land and sea power of the globe. Details of British naval expansion, when published, will startle thinking people among the nations. The United States has proved itself capable of raising an immense army in a comparatively short period of time. The two powers together in the future can present an unbreakable front.

Before establishing the league of nations, the allies will have to restore international law. Germany, in beginning the war with an avowed aim of poisoning gas, aerial bombardment of open towns, bombing of hospitals, and indiscriminate sinking of ships on the high seas, has violated the laws of nations, as interpreted by its opponents. It is to make international law enforceable, just the same as the present national laws.

The immense war debt of approximately $200,000,000,000 incurred by belligerent nations in four years will tax the ingenuity of financiers to liquidate by existing methods. One means of lightening the burden will be the allowing of commodity prices to advance. An appreciation in prices involves a decline in the value of money and capital. The bondholders in the national loans will then purchase these commodities with the interest. Against persons who will advance this method of debt reduction are placed persons who will attempt a depreciation of prices. Each fall in prices would bring with it a rise in the value of money and interest on invested capital. Economic history has proved that a gradual advance in prices accompanies a period of expansion, and that a fall in prices brings with it a depression of industry. Upon wise statesmen and not upon war bonds and consequently war bondholders for a reduction in prices, does the future expansion after the war mainly depend. Future legislation will perhaps largely determine the course that prices will take.

One of the things that create suspicion that the German revolution is not thro is that the German propaganda bureau is busier than ever. From appeals to President Wilson this bureau has expanded into appeals to all allies. The latest essay is a sort of half request that the allies refrain from compelling a German withdrawal from the left bank of the Rhine. The reason offered is that the relinquishment of positions along that river would further the spread of Bolshevism in Germany. Another propaganda is proceeding from the socialist. These are attempting to undo a thin dike of German domestic war effort, and to stir up their outposts in Germanism among the allied socialist. In brief, German propagandists are concentrating on an effort to secure easy terms of peace. The German investors are afraid that the cost of reparation for damage done to allied countries will compel Germany to repudiate her domestic war debt. Germany, however, did not care about the reputation of Russia's war debt, and in the present German Government, including Schiedemann, assisted Germany in designs upon Russia by buying out the Bolsheviks.

The steady advance of the allies continues as the Germans are carrying out the terms of the armistice. The British second and fourth armies, which are probably the armies of the future, yesterday reached the gates of Florence, Charleroi, Lorraine and Alsace to their native countries.

CONTROLLER CHOKED OFF.

Controller McBride made an effort at the eleventh hour at last night's session of the city council to overstep the hour and continue his attack upon the two labor members of the Royal Commission recently appointed to consider the grievances of the city employees. Mayor Church, however, had his eye on the clock, and at ten seconds after the hour struck adjourned the session.
