DENTS CHAMPIONS HOLD MULOCK CUP

Defeat S.P.S., Seven to Two, in Final Interfaculty Game.

The Royal College of Dental Surgeons are Mulock Cup Rugby champions for 1918. The future dentists won the interfaculty honors by defeating the School of Practical Science at Varsity Stadium yesterday, 7 to 2.

School showed lack of coaching, and it was mostly left to individual effort to make any ground. The winners handled themselves very well and showed that they had at least some semblance of team play. Several well-known stars were on the line-up of both teams. Wendell Holmes, the former front-row star, was the pivot around which Dents worked. He has kicked in better style in former engagements, but pulled off some heavy runs. Louis Hudson of hockey fame and Joe Teich were Holmes' partners on the back. Holmes was Palmer, former T. & A. A. A. scrumman, was the big ground gainer for Dents. From the Beaches, was Palmer, the bright light of the whole game. He showed close watching of the ball and headwork and close watching of the ball.

The first quarter was a tight argument and no score resulted. Dents had the wind, but failed to use it when in scoring position. Holmes had two lovely chances to kick for points, but elected to try and go through. The result was there was no score. Considerable loose play was the order, with Dents recovering better than their opponents. Teich was the first to show, with a 20-yard run when he took a pass from Holmes. Dents bucked for yards. Pearman went thru a hole for twenty. Holmes dropped the ball 25 yards out. School lost for interference. When Holmes had a chance for a point, he tried to go thru, and Dents lost possession. McKendrick galloped 40 yards around the end. McKendrick took Benson's punt and was fumbled in his tracks, and then kicked into touch.

VARSITY PASSES UP HOCKEY THIS SEASON

Montreal, Dec. 4.--Efforts of the athletic association of Queens and McGill Universities to revive the Inter-Collegiate Hockey League this season, have failed. A message was received by McGill last night from the athletic association of the Toronto University, stating that they would be unable to place a team in the league this winter, and that they would not revive that branch of sport at the college until another season.

Two weeks ago the governing bodies of sport at McGill and Queens, communicating with Toronto University, were told to consider the revival of the league. The Toronto University had been concluded by the signing of the armistice.

With Toronto unable to enter the competition, the league will not be revived this year, as two club league would not create much interest. McGill will devote their hockey efforts to playing in the Montreal City Amateur League and to invitation matches with other university teams. Queens will likely enter a team in the Ontario Hockey Association this winter.

Sprague Cleghorn is ASHATLANTAS EASY Aura Lee 3

Defeat Aura Lee, Nine to Three, in Junior Fixture.

The hockey season was officially opened last night when Aura Lee and Ashatlas met in a junior fixture at the Arena. The team from Ashbridge's Bay had no trouble in winning the first heat by a score of 9 to 3. This clinches Aura Lee for the S. P. A. Christmas tree fund trophy, and Ashatlas are now ready to meet the next junior club.

Four of last year's champion De La Salle team were a tower of strength to the winners, and combined in the style that won the title last season. Aura Lee had the makings of a first-class outfit, but were away off on the team play last night.

In Eddie Rodden, Bill Marsden has unearthed a good boy. This is the youngster who subbed for the goal position with De La Salle last year, and this was his first appearance as a forward in Toronto. Rodden played junior hockey in the north country. He is a willing worker and a pretty stick-handler. As soon as Aura Lee gets the team play down Rodden will be mighty useful.

Connacher was the star of the team on the losers' defence, and needs considerable polish. He was slow on the offensive, but was big and willing, and will learn. Billy Smith was the star of the team on the ice, and went the full route. Lount was good in spots, but Sullivan failed to get going. Rutherford did well while he was on the ice. Smith in goal handled the close shots nicely, but the long ones drifted in without much trouble. He was nervous.

At the other end Cain and Spring were the same hard pair to pass. Spring was exceptionally good at rushing, and has a lot more speed than a year ago. McCuaig and Green combined well and went in much closer than the Aura Lee forwards. The team was a bit out of sync, and a tricky man close in and the winner. He rounds out a dangerous forward line. While not fast, he is a pretty stick-handler and a useful man.

The veterans are a well-drilled team, and Connacher, Clough, and Davis have worked himself like a veteran in the net. Lee's two in the opening three goals to Aura Lee were a pretty good start, and had a margin of the play. Aura Lee put in their best effort in the second period, and after the second period, it was whirling hockey for the first twenty minutes, and then the boys tried to pass.

Spring grabbed the puck on the first period and downed and beat Smith with a long one from outside the defence. Rodden started for Aura Lee and did some work. He carried it down after Spring scored and passed. Then went thru to Lount, who scored. The checking was perfect. Davis had a shot, but it was blocked. The Aura Lee net, this time with a long shot from the net.

Lount and Connacher combined and scored in perfect harmony. Davis had a shot, but it was blocked. The Aura Lee net, this time with a long shot from the net.

Only one goal was scored in the second period, and the boys tried to pass. Spring was exceptionally good at rushing, and has a lot more speed than a year ago. McCuaig and Green combined well and went in much closer than the Aura Lee forwards. The team was a bit out of sync, and a tricky man close in and the winner. He rounds out a dangerous forward line. ## U.T.S. WILL HAVE A STRONG JUNIOR TEAM

Joe Sullivan, the goalie, "Duck" Lount, Jack Aggett and Jeffrey, are the members of the team now at the school. Gunn and Pratt Sullivan are expected back and Everett, of Jarvis, is now at St. James. The team is expected to make a place on the team of considerable hockey experience, will also be out on Saturday.

McNAMARA AND MAGIN WINNERS IN SPRINTS

Madison Square Garden, New York, Dec. 4.--While many attempts were made today to steal a lap in the six-day bike race at Madison Square Garden, none of the teams succeeded in changing its position during the last twenty-four hours. As on preceding days, Reggie McNamara and his partner, Jake Magin, were consistent winners in the sprints, and with a total of 231.

Read What National Leaguers Did in War

New York, Dec. 4.--More than one-half of the baseball players who composed the eight clubs of the National League for a greater part of the championship season of 1918, or were up to the time the war was ended, were in the service. Some saw actual fighting, two were killed in Uncle Sam's service, and the men were represented in pretty much every branch of the service.

There were considerably more than half with the colors--a fraction over 64 per cent. The statistics show that John Heydler, acting president of the National League, has just finished enlisting, show that 108 of its players were in the service. This is entirely apart from those who went into essential work. It means men in actual service with the army or navy.

The total number of players reserved for the season of 1918 was 257, which, incidentally, has been reduced to 158 for 1919. From May 15 to the end of the 1918 season the eight National League clubs carried an average of from three to five hundred men, and a fraction per cent, of 160, the extreme limit of men carried from May 1 on.

There is nothing whatever in these figures suggestive of slacker as applied to professional baseball players as a class. On the contrary, the showing is an excellent one and a credit to the men. The players of the National League did their share fully as fighting men. The statistics show that John Heydler, who is given to conservative statements, "that baseball gave as great if not greater per cent. of its employees than any other occupation."

A half a dozen men or so jumped to shipyard and steel leagues, but twenty times that number were, or are, to be fighting ships or in the armies abroad. The 103 men in the service were apportioned as follows: Army (drafted), 32; army (volunteered), 22; navy (volunteered), 32; aviation (volunteered), 10; six of the 103 players--50 per cent--volunteered and before the draft law became effective.

The 103 were mostly players who took part in National League championship games in 1917 or 1918. Of the twenty who didn't play in either the 1917 or 1918 championship campaigns eighteen were full-fledged members; they were on the payroll.

There is no getting at the percentage of men who were overseas. Two National League players were killed on duty. The first was Marcus Milligan, a young pitcher obtained by the Pittsburgh club from Birmingham, killed in an airplane accident. The other was Captain E.

STILL GUNNING FOR MARSDEN'S AMENDMENT

London, Dec. 4.--Several western Ontario clubs have noticed the effect made by their criticism of Mr. Marsden's proposed amendment to the Ontario Hockey Association rules, and insist still that it favors Toronto clubs. Pressing to opinion, Mr. Marsden is vainly trying to impress the smaller city and town teams that his measure will help. But, does Mr. Marsden hold that the same is the case in Toronto, with press notices in Queen City dailies disclosing the number of players practicing with the various clubs? If he does he is mistaken. It is a foregone conclusion that the only way that the Kitchener Allan Club beaten this winter is by the two-man accident, are left with but six really the cup. And does it not strike the hockey enthusiasts that Kitchener is not ranked as a small town, either?
