American horses for Europe, and already orders have been placed in the States for large numbers.

The development of electricity has had a good deal to do with driving horses out of the market, but we believe that well bred horses will be in good demand for many years to come, and we think that our farmers can make no better investment and devote their time to no more/profitable end than the breeding of good general purpose horses. We know of no subject more worthy of the attention of the Minister of Agriculture in Ontario than that of horse breeding.

Those who are writing this morning in favor of Wiarton make out a very good case for that town, where the water is deep, harbor well protected and all the terminal facilities of the right kind.

Mr. Bertram, the member for Centre Toronto, according to The Globe of yesterday, is anxious to have it understood that he always has been a consistent protectionist, even before the N.P. discussion in '78. We are sorry that we can not except The Globe's apology for Mr. Bertram. We remember his speeches in the campaign of '78, and they were all of the bitterest, free trade kind, and so were those of his brother, and the two of them stumped the country from one end to the other denousing the N.P., and especially denouncing protection by advocating in the most of the statement of the statement was only consistent with the defendant's story that he did so in order that their improper relations could they were all of the bitterest, free trade kind, and so were those of his brother, and the two of them stumped the country from one end to the other denousing the N.P., and especially denouncing protection by advocating in the most of the statement of the statement was only consistent with the defendant's story that he did so in the presence of the sightest sympathy, as the vidence of Miss Griffiths showed that he was either a biganist or something equally as bad. Here in the valley of the Meuphartes had been unearthed the City of Babylon with its mighty system of smaller cities. These cities had been buried in the sands of the desert, and were located by mounds. Speaking of the Tower or Babel, the professor said, it was not one huge structure, but rather a collection of mighty cloud piercing buildings. The value of these monuments was then explained. They brought to light a new language, like the part of the Old Testament. They also told of many characters mentioned in Scripture, until now unidentified and lastly established dates and events which were not it is contacted the Bible.

A contrast was made of the hopeful character of the Conservatives, and the pess mistic feelings of the Reformers.
