Who is that boy, Mr. Maclean?

That boy, Mr. Dineen, is a messenger employed by Mr. Mulock, Postmaster General of Canada, whose farm and residence you see over there. By means of the Metropolitan Rallway The World is in the P.M.G.'s possession every morning by this car three hours before Her Majesty's mails, controlled by Mr. Mulock, can deliver the same to him. His post-office address is Newmarket. Mr. Mulock is now at his farm and appreciates this great fact.

Again you surprise me, Mr. Maclean, by the way in which The World fills its mission; but I should think that it is high time that the Postmaster General used this trolley service for the mails, instead of the trolley service for the mails, instead of the slow way now employed.

I am not responsible, Mr. Dineen, as you know, for the administration of the post-office, but I can assure you and Mr. Mulock that all the people of East and West York who live within six miles on either side of the line, would like to get their mail via the trolley up Yonge-street.

On counting up the figures it was found that on the whole line between the Yongestreet crossing and Newmarket over 500 Worlds were delivered to the people before 7.30 a.m. daily, while the corresponding number of Globes and Mails would not be Globes. And that 500 Worlds will be over 1900 in number a week after the Government employs the trolley line to serve the Yonge-street country.

I cannot tell you, Mr. Maclean, how surprised 1 am at what you have demonstrated to me this morning.

I can surprise you several mornings, Mr. Dineen, if you will come with me on little journeys of a similar kind. I can take you east or west, or, better still, I would like to take you for a buggy drive through the whole of York and show how The World is distributed in every village and hamiet in this fine county. This is because The World, outside of its circulation in Toronto, is essentially a paper of the County of York, exceeding therein in circulation any other daily or weekly paper published in it.

I am again surprised, Mr. Maclean.

The Deadness of Trade. The Deadness of Trade.

Cape Town, Aug. 30.—At a meeting of the Scandinavians of Johannesburg, just held, only two of them voted in favor of forming a volunteer corps in case of war. A deputation of Outlanders has called on the British agent at Pretoria, regarding the great depression. A merchant whose stock is valued at £40,000 said his daily sales now were about £8.

BOERS ARE WARLIKE. Has Made Them Furious, According to Reports.

London, Aug. 31.-The Pretoria corres pendent of The Morning Post says: The pondent of The Morning Post says: The Boer officials after reading the cabled reports of Mr. Chamberlain's Birmingham speech, consider that war is inevitable. The speech has undoubtedly inflamed the armed, except those in Johannesburg. The s commissariat is fairly good. All the forts are amply victualed. The Johannesburg fortress has been strengthened with several quick firers.

The ammunition which Mr. Schreiner allowed to pass through Cape Colony came direct to Pretoria. It was never intended for the Orange Free State. President Kruger does not hesitate to express the view that war is almost inevitable. He has stocked the presidency with ample supplies of provisions to secure his own person from privation, and he is often heard repeting the Sird Psalm,

Matabeles Are Restless.

Matabeles Are Restless.

The Matabeles are showing signs of unrest. The Boers are energetically engaged in poisoning the minds of the natives against the British, and they have approached the Zuhu chief Dinizua, who appears undecided what cause to espouse. But the Zulus are prepared for the expected fighting, and it must be remembered that Dinizua was deported to St. Helena with several other chiefs and kept a prisoner there by the British for several years.

Probably the Lest Cell.

The Times says editorially this morning: "There is the best reason to believe that the recent note of Mr. Chamberlain-will be almost the last occasion on which Great Britain will ask President Kruger whether is in earnest in his promises of concessions. The note undoubtedly called for an immediate answer, and, when a reason cessions. The note undoubtedly called for an immediate answer, and, when a reasonable time for answer has elapsed, Great Britain will no longer pay much attention to President Kruger's word, but will form her judgment by his actions.

The Boers' should bear in mind that, throughous the whole controversy. The Cologne Gazette has warned the Transvaal that it was placing itself in an unfavorable position, and that in the event of war nobody would lift a finger to prevent the destruction of the republic."

He announced that the Ottawa Government, with the aid of an English Ambassador, had brought influence to bear upon the political, not he religious, authorities at Rome, and had ceeded in closing the mouths of the Manitoba school question. So far so good, out the Beauharnois boy said that no power n earth could prevent the public men of Canada from discussing this matter, and the Ottawa Government would find this out before very long. He further told his hear ers that the Laurier Administration would ions, A Liberal Government had never isted more than one term, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier's experience would not be different. Warning Quebec that al-though Sir Charles Tupper would of course elect the usual number of Quebec colhind them, Mr. Bergeron told his hearers that unless these colleagues were not strongly supported from this province, French-Canadian influence in the Cabinet would be greatly weakened.

The meeting was a wonderful success, and many Liberals listened to Mr. Bergeron's scathing remarks with evident relish. Mr. Plante, M.L.A., Messrs. H. Jeannette, ex M.P., Mr. Sauvalle of La Presse, Mr. Eurard and several local men also spoke.

is a radical one. The following is an abstract.

We heartily reaffirm the entire Chicago platform of 1896, and we especially emphasize the financial plank therein, and we continue to demand the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold as equal in primary money, at the rate of 16 to 1, independent of all other nations in the world.

The Hon. William J. Bryan still retains our entire confidence and we demand his renomination in 1900.

We are radically and unalterably opposed to imperialism in the United States of America. When we have solved some of the race problems that confront us at home, then, by example, we can proclaim the blessings that how from free institutions, and this procure "benevolent assimilation" without "criminal aggression."

We are opposed to entangling alliances with foreign kingdoms and empires.

Winnemucca, Nev., Aug. 30.—Hon. William J. Bryun, in passing through Winnemucca on his way to California, delivered an address to a large crowd. In part he said: "I believe the outlook for success in 1900 was never better than at present. On the old questions of the campaign of 1806, we are stronger than we were during that campaign. On the new questions we are gaining steadily.

"The Chicago platform, at the convention next year, will be affirmed entirely. In fact, I doubt whether any opposition to the platform will manifest itself in the convention at all. Two of the greatest of the new issues that are before the country are: First, the trusts; second, the Philippine question.
