The Good Advice of a Sleepy Little Girl

THE OTHER day a little girl swallowed enough cough medicine to make her very, very sleepy, having helped herself from her mother's dressing table. Her mother was at her wits' end to keep her awake, fearing the consequences of the overdose. "Wake up, wake up!" she cried, shaking her vigorously. "It's time to get up."
The little girl was almost asleep right on her feet, her head back, her face turned up, her eyes tight shut. From her parted lips came the murmur: "Never mind the dishes, mother, to-day is Friday."
