POULTRYMEN WILL MEET ANNUALLY

Gathering at Guelph of Delegates From Ontario Local Associations Successful.

Special to The Toronto World.
Guelph, June 11.—The convention of delegates from the Ontario Poultry Associations, meeting with the confederation of local poultry associations, after a session of two days' duration, completed their business this afternoon. Several very important resolutions were passed with a view to encouraging the raising of more and better poultry, and also respecting increased production.

One resolution urged upon the Dominion Government the necessity and desirability of locating, and, if necessary, purchasing for redistribution, such reasonable-priced foods as are available in this and other provinces for the adequate feeding of poultry, and without delay.

In view of the splendid success of this convention a resolution was passed making it an annual fixture.

Perhaps the most important resolution was the one expressive of the opinion that the time is opportune for a Canadian-wide convention leading up to the formation of a national Canadian poultry association, widespread in its operations.

Poultry Show Dates.
The following dates for the holding of poultry shows were agreed upon:

U. S. LIBERTY LOAN ON HOME STRETCH

Washington Sees Prospects of Exceeding Two Billion
Mark.
PROJECT IS POPULAR

Last Twenty-Four Hours
Work Will Insure Flotation's Success.

Washington, June 14.—The Liberty Loan campaign entered the home stretch today, with every indication that the tremendous thirty-day drive throughout the nation would result in going well beyond the two billion mark.

From coast to coast the story that poured into the treasury all day was the same story of whirlwind financial. Telegrams told of selling bells and shrieking whistles across the continent, marking the last day of the campaign; of redoubled efforts by the many agencies at work for the loan's success, of enthusiasm at its highest pitch, of long waiting lines of subscribers in thousands of banks in every state of the union.

"The last twenty-four hours' work is going to show big in the final account, according to these reports.

Before noon tomorrow, officials hope, every man in the country who can subscribe, will have done so. At the closing hour tonight, there was no telling where the total might lead, no basis for forecasting the final figures.

Apparent Shortage.
Late campaign figures, made public today, by Secretary Meade, showed the close of business last night, showed an apparent shortage of $187,000, the total reported being $1,843, 000. These reports were received after noon at the treasury. They showed an increase of nearly $200, 000 in subscriptions over the previous day's report.

The loan, according to reports received by treasury officials, is in every sense a popular one. In its greatest issues which the bureau of engraving and printing will be called upon to turn out to the $50 and $100 bills. For them there has been an extremely heavy demand in every section of the country and in many rural communities. Illustration is afforded in the case of Ripon, Wisconsin, a town of 8,200, which today reported subscriptions totaling $260,700 for $25 and $50 bills.
The city of Washington, officials estimate, will marshal 30,000 individual subscriptions, most of them for the $50 and $100 bills.

Many thousands of banks and trust companies are yet to be heard from.
Their subscriptions, it is thought, will swell the total by many millions.

CONSTANTINE INFORMS U. S. OF ABDICATION

Yields to Supreme Political Necessity—Greek People Pained.

Washington, June 14.—Formal notice of the abdication of King Constantine and the accession of Prince Alexander reached the Greek legation here today in a cablegram announced in this statement:

The prime minister of Greece communicated today to the Greek legation, that his majesty, King Constantine, yielding to a supreme political necessity, in consequence of measures taken by three of the great powers, is departing from Greece, accompanied by the Queen and Crown Princess, leaving the throne to Prince Alexander. The new king has taken the oath in accordance with the constitution. The pain of the Greek people resulting from their separation from their sovereign is beyond description.

BROOKLYN DISASTER LOSS OF LIFE IS TEN

Nearly Two Score Earlier Unaccounted for Make Appearance After Flight.

New York, June 14.—After a search of the ruins was begun today at the American Sugar Refining Company's plant in Brooklyn, where explosion and fire caused an estimated property loss of $1,000, 000 last night, the authorities expressed opinion that the loss of lives would not prove greater than ten. Two men are known to be dead, and three of fifteen in hospitals may be recalled instantly.

Nearly two score persons earlier unaccounted for, ten made their appearance this morning, saying they had fled in flight, and a majority of the others are believed to be at their homes.

British Government Likely To Purchase Liquor Trade

London, June 14.—Recent reports that the government was considering the desirability of purchasing the liquor trade were confirmed in the house of commons today by Bonar Law. The chancellor gave assurance that the house would be consulted before such action should be taken.

NATTY NECKERY FOR WARMER DAYS AT SCORE'S

It's warming up some, and everybody's appreciating it; and this same appreciation is being expressed with the greatest emphasis on the change in a man's attire, and perhaps in no more noticeable way than in the ties he wears. So that for the next two or three months the really neat little bow-ties are going to be very much in favor. And why not when a man may select from such distinctive effects, even in the ties accessories to a man's wardrobe as the "natty neckerchief" at a score's sale, at a score's sale, and at specially discounted prices starting at three for a dollar and up. R. Scarce & Co. call

WAR SUMMARY THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

BRITISH troops, in an important local operation yesterday, captured Infantry Hill and made 175 German prisoners. They held their advance on a three-quarter mile front. By Infantry Hill, Sir Douglas Haig probably means the high ground northeast of Bullecourt. This overlooks the Doucrot-Quant switch line and the country as far eastward as Douai. It is not given a name in existing maps, but it rises about 240 feet above sea level. It is a part of the high ground to Greenland Hill. The Germans had early perceived its value, and they fought hard to keep it. On the other important battlefield, east of Messines, Reuter's correspondent telegrams from British general headquarters that the withdrawal of the enemy from the Lys-St. Yves sector is extending somewhat further southward. The British patrols are harassing the retirement and positions. The correspondent attaches much significance to the fact that the German heavy shells are falling at the extreme range, a sign that the enemy has withdrawn his big guns as far as possible.

This retirement of the enemy is south of the new line established after the fall of the Messines Ridge, and it began on a front of about three miles.
The immediate cause of this retirement was that the progress of the British beyond the former German rearward line established across the neck of the salient has proceeded so far as to outflank the German positions immediately to the south. This compelled the enemy to evacuate those positions. He will have to readjust his old front to correspond with his new front. If he immediately begins to offer battle to the British he has to fight up the British line to the Yper-Comblains Canal. So he will have to take up his new line beyond Comblains. This enforced realignment will create a dangerous salient in his front and it will expose Lihoe to a turning movement, that is, a movement to get behind Lille, and force the Germans out of this important junction.

The French continue their infantry action in the region of the Chemin des Dames, and when the proper time comes they will proceed to reduce that front to a proper state of fluidity so as to permit Sir Douglas Haig to go forward with the cleaning up of the remaining sections of the so-called Hindenburg line. General de Castelnau has returned to the scene of his former triumphs on the eastern portion of the front. This event has caused the German war authorities to issue warnings thru the German press to German people to expect a French offensive in the Vosges, or in Lorraine. What the enemy is probably not reckoning with is the prospect of the undertaking of a general offensive by all the allies in France.

The allies will send out of Greece not only the ex-King Constantine and his family, but all the objectionable pro-German politicians, soldiers and courtiers. Greece will shortly pass entirely into control of the allies. This will leave the rear of the allies secure and it will free the hands of General Sarrail for a vigorous offensive in the Balkans. The Macedonian-Albanian front will probably form a portion of the Italian front for an attack against Austria-Hungary. President Wilson said yesterday that Austria-Hungary Bulgaria and Turkey, the so-called central powers, are, in fact, but a single power. From Hamburg to the Persian Gulf the net is spread. From the president's way of looking at it, as from the day of the more intellectual and instructed amongst the allies, it may be inferred that he regards an attack launched anywhere on the perimeter of this vast front as an attack launched on Germany to which she must waste her strength by conforming.
All the theatres of the war are therefore principal theatres.

The British capture of Fort Salif, in Yemen, on the eastern shore of the Red Sea, will serve to give them control of the valuable Kamaran anchorage to turn the position of the Turks established before Aden, and to establish their ascendancy over the Arabs. The exact situation of the fort is about 180 miles north of the Straits of Bab-el-Mandeb, the southeastern outlet of the Red Sea into the Indian Ocean. Perim lies not far from Aden. The British navy carried out the attack with the loss of one man killed. The 94 survivors of the garrison surrendered with three machine and two mountain guns, camels, military stores, and the harbor pilot.

The Russians are showing a little more activity, altho conditions on their side are far from ideal. They made a successful raid near Smolson, and they repulsed German raiders by their fire in the Carpathians.
On the Caucasus front the Kurds are still attacking them and they have repulsed large masses of these irregular horsemen.

LABOR INCENSED AGAINST PREMIER

Dominion Congress Will Endeavor to Encompass Defeat of Government.

Ottawa, June 14.—"Until the government gives proof that conscription is in the words of the prime minister, "the only effective method to preserve the existence of the state and of the institutions and the liberties which we enjoy," organized labor has every warrant in seeking its defeat by both their economic and political powers."

Labor's reply to the manpower legislation brought down by Sir Robert Borden, was made in a statement issued by J. C. Watters, president of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress today, and concluded with the above sentence.

"If the government is sincere in its determination to consecrate the power of the nation to the cause of the allies and to demote the conscription of man-power will follow and not precede that of wealth and the nationalization of every industry necessary for the prosecution of the war," the statement further says.

"Until the time the prime minister left for London we had repeated assurances that conscription was not contemplated by the government. On Dec. 27 last while discussing with him the registration scheme of the national service board, he stated, in emphasis, as with the adoption of conscription, in the hearing of Vice-Presidents Simpson and Riggs, Secretary Draper and myself that he would consider it his duty to consult organized labor before acting on a measure of such grave importance.

Not Consulted.
"The first intimation I had was in the daily papers and no official of our congress was consulted.

"We were not consulted, but the congress executive sought an 'interview' with the prime minister after his pronouncement on May 28 last to learn his reasons for his changed attitude. There was not the shadow of a reason revealed at the interview to warrant change from voluntary to compulsory service.

"I consider it my duty to sound a note of warning to the organized workers not to permit themselves to be shackled with the chains of conscription. In the event of its being established, any effort on the part of the workers to permit themselves to be shackled by simple means such under military discipline, when orders must be obeyed on pain of punishment and the loss of their lives, the experience of the railway workers in France should be an object lesson in that regard."

BRANTFORD CITIZENS FAVOR CONSCRIPTION

Largely-Attended Mass Meeting Passes Resolution Urging Immediate Government Action.

Special to The Toronto World.
Brantford, June 14.—At a largely-attended mass meeting of citizens this evening, called by Mayor Bowly at the request of the Brantford branch of the Great War Veterans' Association, a resolution was carried with unanimity "expressly urging that such laws be enacted and enforced without delay as would make available for the country the full manpower of the Dominion, in order that our Canadian expeditionary force be brought up to and maintained at the 50,000 men promised."

The resolution was moved by W. C.
Livingston, police magistrate, fourth of whose sons enlisted, and was seconded by Capt. A. H. Boddy, president of the local veterans' organization, himself a returned warrior.

There was but one interruption during the evening. I. S. Armstrong, local laborer asked "if Quebec had supplied recruits to the same extent as the rest of Canada, would conscription be necessary?" Mayor Bowly, who presided, answered: "I don't think so." He then said "let's get after the heavy applause of the audience." Magistrate Livingston, in moving the resolution explained that it all had done as well as Brantford conscription would be no need for conscription.
There were a large number of speakers all most heartily in favor of the proposed measure.

SOCIALISTS POSTPONE TRIP TO STOCKHOLM

German Independents Want to Arrive at Psychological Moment.

Berlin, via London, June 14.—The delay in the departure of the delegates of the German Independent Socialists for the Stockholm Socialists conference has been explained by Bernstein, as due to the desire to arrive at the seat of the conference when the real sessions are about to begin and the prospect of the various international groups is assured.

Herr Bernstein says the independents expect to leave Berlin at the end of June.

GERMANS TO PUT OFF REICHSSTAG ELECTIONS

Hun Parliament Will Extend Life for Eighteen Months.

Berlin, June 13.—(Via London, June 14).—A further continuation of the reichstag executive period is now being taken for granted in government and parliamentary circles, according to the Tageblatt.

It is expected that the reichstag will be called on at the October sessions to pass on the election law providing for a continuation of the reichstag until January 12, 1919.

STRONG BRITISH ATTACK TO SOUTH OF SCARPE

evening communication issued by the war office says:
"South of the Scarpe a strong English attack, launched during the forenoon, east of Monchy, was repulsed in close range fighting."

FOE INTRIGUES FOR PREMATURE PEACE

and it has little left to offer for the pound of flesh it will demand." Warning For Americans.
President Wilson warned the American people that Germany has carried into effect the greater part of her immediate plan of conquest, and now is negotiating a "truce" of peace, not destined to end the war while her aggressions are secure. The president reiterated that America was not warring on the German people who themselves had been forced into the war by their military masters, who had proved to be also the masters of Austria-Hungary. "These men," he said, "the men who have been carrying like blood and flame as themselves, for whom governments existed and whom governments had their life. They have regarded them merely as servicable organizations which they could buy or intrigue bend or corrupt to their own purpose.

"The military is leading, whom Germany is leading, and very clearly to what point fate has brought them. If they fall back or are forced back in force their power both abroad and at home will fall to pieces like a house of cards. It is their rest of the world that is trembling about now more than their power abroad. It is that power and deep fear that has entered their hearts. They have been set in Germany by their military power or even their controlling political influence.

"If they can secure peace now with the immense advantages still in their hands which they have up to this point apparently gained, then it is not they themselves before the German people. If they fall, then the people will be set in Germany; a government accountable to the people themselves will be set up in Germany, which has been England, in the United States, in France, and in all the great countries of the modern time, except Germany.

"If they succeed they are safe, and Germany and the world are undone; if they fail Germany and the world will be at peace. If they succeed, America will fall within the menace. We will all the rest of the world must remain armed, as they will remain, and must be ready for the next step in their policy. If they fail, the world may unite for peace, and Germany may be of the union.

"Do you not now understand the new intrigue, the intrigue for peace, and why the masters of Germany do not hesitate to use any agency that promises to effect their purpose, the deceit of the nations? They are employing Liberals in their enterprise. They are using men in Germany and without, as their speakers, and those men, now their tools, will be ground to powder beneath the weight of the great military empire they are counter revolution force and supporting. Germany herself will lose her chance of freedom, and all Europe will arm for the next, the final struggle." Sinister Intrigues.
"The sinister intrigue is being no less actively conducted in this country than in Russia, and in every country in Europe to which the agents and dupes of the Imperial German government can get access. That government has many speakers here, in places high and low.
They have learned discretion. They keep within the law. It is opinion they proclaim now, not action. They proclaim the liberal purposes of their masters; they declare this a foreign war which can touch America with no strings to either her lands or her institutions; that can at the centre of the stage and talk of her ambition to assert economic dominion throughout the world; appeal to ancient tradition of isolation in the politics of the nations; and seek to under-

Germans, our men inflicted heavy casualties on the enemy, and captured a good many prisoners.

"In the meantime the left half of our attacking force which had established itself in the vicinity of the electric generating station at Lens, after a heavy bombardment, the German artillery fire was no intense and it effectively prevented reinforcements or supplies of munitions being drawn up to the sorely tried garrison.
Counter-attack, launched during the evening under cover of the bombardment mentioned above, which included heavy trench mortar fire, was successful, and our troops were compelled to withdraw to their original line.

Look Prisoners.
"The enemy casualties are of course unknown, but may be truthfully supposed to have been severe.
We took 115 prisoners, while one light machine gun, the first of this type to be captured by the Canadians, was brought back, and several light trench mortars, captured before our withdrawal, were destroyed.

"But our men were not content to let matters rest here and as a result of continued and aggressive activity by our battle patrols in the early morning of June 6th, the electric power station once more passed into the hands of the Canadian troops, the German garrison in the course of its retreat being very severely punished by Lewis gun fire. On the same day two enemy raids were repulsed. The first consisted of parties numbering 100 strong. On approaching our lines the raiders were held up by Lewis gun fire and then caught in our artillery barrage, none of the enemy reaching within 50 yards of our line. The second raid met with no greater success and was repulsed, leaving five dead and one unwounded prisoner in our hands.

"Penetrate Over Half-Mile.
"On the night of June 8th and 9th we carried out a successful and extensive raid on the enemy's trenches to the south of Souchez River on a front of over two miles. Our troops penetrated to a maximum depth of 1000 yards and inflicted heavy casualties. The weather has been very cold about 140 prisoners and several machine guns. Our troops returned to their trenches according to schedule time, covered by rear guards. During the rest of the week, under review the conditions of normal trench warfare prevailed. The weather has been very hot throughout. Hostile aircraft, the normal during the day time, has shown increased activity by night."
